Thanks for the heads-up. I have a Drake R8 here at home, but I was looking for something cheap to take backpacking with a loop...

Oh! Good one but no. The action was a little gritty. Just need a some polish on a few sliding surfaces. Took a gun smith about 10 minutes.

Hey dxAce:

I hate reading this crap when I've got a son up at Meaford, who's gone through his BMQ, SQ, and is completing his DP1 and might be going to Afghanistan with some other troops from the Lincoln & Welland Regiment.
dxAce, you don't know diddly-squat about our forces, the training they go through, or what they've been doing in Afghanistan, what they've done in Bosnia, Haiti, Somalia, Cyprus in the past, etc., etc.
O.K., I'll admit that our troops have had to hitch rides on your American forces military transport planes, and we appreciate the lift. Thanks for the help!
But now we are buying C-17 Globemasters from you guys. So we should be able to get by without hitching rides on your C-17 Globemaster or C-5 Galaxy transports anymore. We will have our own C-17's.
Criticise if you want. But try learning a bit about what we do first. O.K.??

To double their range they would have to go to 500KW. 250KW is barely over

"Long Loopstick AM Radio Antenna
http://www.circuitdb.com/show.php?cid=171 Description Wound on a 3 foot length of PVC pipe, the long loopstick antenna was an experiment to try to improve AM radio reception without using a long wire or ground. It works fairly well and greatly improved reception of a weak station 130 miles away. " - - - Copyright 1997

I left under threat of death because one of my radio stations took an opposition point of view to the military government; my colleague at El

990. Wellbrook Phased Array

I noticed this on the Wellbrook website (http://www.wellbrook.uk.com):

The Wellbrook Phased Array is a totally new receiving antenna designed for optimum MW reception. This Antenna system is only Broadband Phased Array to offer a uni-directional pattern similar to the Beverage, over 360 degrees with electronic Null Steering. The design is the result of several years research by Wellbrook's owner and chief design engineer Andrew H. Ikin. Trials of this new array have been performed in the US by experienced MW Dxers using the phasing system with high performance Active Vertical and Active Loop antennas.

These trials demonstrated that the Phased Array equipped with elements made from ALA 100 Large Aperture triangular Loop Antennas (one of the world's best active antennas) provided much lower noise and improved side rejection than an identical array equipped with Active Vertical antenna elements. This finding was particularly important for DXers living in urban areas. Moreover, comparative listening tests indicated that the Phased Array was equally as sensitive and directional as a 1000-1500ft Beverage, with the added advantage of deep null steering!

Phased Array Design: The Phased Array provides a reversible uni-directional reception pattern similar to a 1 wavelength Beverage with the added ability for the user to steer up to 50dB nulls around the back of the array.

The Phased Array consists of a Control Unit and two ALA100 Loop antennas. Each loop is triangular with just one support pole. The Phased Array can be expanded to use four ALA100 loop antennas to provide 360 degree coverage.

The Control Unit combines the output of the two antennas using a technique known as "Delay line Anti-phasing" i.e. the antennas are combined in anti-phase plus a Variable Delay-line equal to between 50% and 100% of the spacing of the antennas. This phasing technique provides a uni-directional reception pattern over a very wide bandwidth with only a minor adjustment to the controls.

This has a considerable advantage over the majority other phasing and noise cancelling systems which require constant adjustment even with small frequency changes.

PHASED ARRAY KEY FEATURES

Uni-directional pattern similar to the Beverage

Simple to erect (no control Lines)

High Front to Back ratio and side rejection

Up to 50dB null steering

High dynamic range amplifiers IOP3 +42dBm; IOP2 +75dBm

Very low noise ALA100 loop antennas

Lower noise than Active Whip arrays

360° with 4 Loops

12Volt DC power, ideal for Dxpeditions

Only requires 40m antenna spacing

Yes, but, you need not worry about xmitting the signal south; you would use a directional antenna aimed at the good ole US of A.

250+KW would do it ...

I use 2 ALA1530s (along with 6 Dymek McKay active whips) in an 8-element phased array.

One unpleasant fact about phasing with two loops is that you can't get a good null at broadside, that is, in the area already in the null of the loops.

The reason is that a very slight deviation in the angle of arrival of the unwanted signal reverses the phase of the signal, and so your phasing is completely wrong for getting a deep null on that signal.

Paradoxically, the best null comes from pointing both loops at the unwanted signal, which gives the most stable signal phases ; except that the adjustment has to be finer and finer the stronger the unwanted signal is, and so a compromise is usually more workable, pointing the loops a little at the unwanted signal enough to stabilize the phase, but not so much that the signal strength is raised hugely. The more stable the direction of arrival (say it's a local), the further to broadside you can put the unwanted signal.

Anyway, there's trouble eliminating signals at broadside by adjusting the phasing, with loops. No such problem comes up with whips.

A better deal all around is phasing a loop with a co-located whip, which gives 360 degree coverage with zero antenna spacing.

I don't understand how XHLNC/Tijuana is a "jammer"? The station is licenced to serve the Tijuana/San Diego metro. Whether or not it blocks reception of an out of town station (KPFK/Los Angeles) is irrelevant. KPFK's service area is Los Angeles, NOT San Diego.

Besides, I'm sure XHLNC itself is not thrilled at having their coverage area cut back by an out of area station on the same freq. They're supposedly shifting to 104.9 FM later this year and boosting power, which will be a good thing as far as I'm concerned, since XLNC-1 (the station's on-air name) is one of my favorite FM stations out that way.

I phase my ALA-330S with a PA0RDT Mini-Whip. The mini whip is really just a noise antenna, but it's a good one.

Yow, bucking for the Darwin Award, sounds like. What is it with some of these music dudes...

I'd suggest some GFI power cords, like they use for power tools, but it sounds like, given the state of their equipment, that they'd probably bin them the second or third time they tripped. (The GFI breaker, not the musicians).

I would spend a few more $$ and look for a receiver with a digital tuner. The tiny inaccurate dial on that radio would be a real PITA to use with a loop. Move upsacle to something like a Degen DE1103 and enjoy dxing the MW band with or without a separate loop.

Just a 10 cent cap and/or a bad solder joint, it can't be much. The radio itself is in very nice condition, with the exception of some previous owner stupidly replaced the main filter cap on the PS board and glued it down with some horribly strong epoxy stuff. It had those twist tabs on it and it was so tight I cracked the board trying to cut through the glue to get the cap off. The old glue they used at the factory was overkill, but that black stuff was like steel. No big deal, it was easily fixed, but the radio was such nice physical shape it was a shame to mess something up.

I once got spammed by Rede Globo for the Brazillian version of "Big Brother". I think I expressed the opinion that "Big Brother" was much improved by the viewer's not being able to understand the language.

I suspect the same might be true of TV from the DPRK. Do you really want to know that the song being played is entitled "All Glory to the Dear Leader, Kim Jong-Il and the Eternal President of the DPRK, the Great Leader Comrade Kim Il-Sung"? Do you want to be able to understand a three hour lecture on the Juche Idea?

I just picked up an old Realistic receiver that has 5 bands; AM, FM, Marine Band, SW1 & SW2. It's a rectangular receiver taller than it is wide, and runs off 4 C-cell batteries (or an electrical outlet adaptor). All I can find on it for a model is "12-1433" on a label on the back, along with the following info: 23 solid state devices, 12 transistors, 10 diodes, 1 thermistor. Does anyone have any pointers to specs, pix, manuals, whatever?

Unfortunately, Chertoff never served in law enforcement, Customs nor has he ever "been out on patrol". He's a lawyer, judge and a political appointee, not someone with field experience or magical powers.

See above -- he's had no "front-line experience". He's a desk man.

But you miss my point completely. With Chertoff having total and unlimited access to everything from the CIA to the FBI to Scotland Yard to the East Podunk Township Police Department and everything in between, he DOESN'T NEED to rely on "gut feelings". He didn't give one single tiny shred of any support or evidence other than his "gut". Sorry, but unless he bases it on the wide resources he has access to, I consider his "gut" just fear mongering.

Huh? At NO time and nowhere in my post did I say, mention, hint at or allude to the "I" word. I have no idea where you got that idea from (other than a Freudian slip on your part). ;-)

And, yes, my "alternative solution" was that he base his getting the public aroused on the tons of resources he has, not his "gut".

P.S. Just to anticipate you saying "he can't give away his sources", I believe (if he actually had anything), he could have made a "generic" statement like "Intelligence sources report that...") without letting any cats out of the bag or trusting us to solely rely on his "gut".

Yeah, it might be interesting. I'll tell ya, I don't think I've ever listened to him on the radio. I remember him from his VJ (is that correct?) days on VH1?

Though, after all he's been through, I might just listen to him if I can get it here.

100,000 watt FM signals are not meant to cover only a single city, but a very wide area. Most of the 100KW plants in Portland easily cover a 75 mile radius (easily listenable on even the crappiest of Chinese Junk radios. One thing the FCC would never do (and it pains me to give them ANY credit whatsoever) is to put two stations on the same frequency with overlapping coverage areas (nighttime AM propagation notwithstanding).

The distance from the Mt. Wilson tower site to S.D. is only about 100 miles. Given terrain and tower height, that's EASILY a listenable signal in S.D.

Antenna gain is already factored into the EIRP of the station (and that 100,000 watts is EIRP, not actual power. Most 100KW plants actually run about 25-27KW into a gain antenna. Saves power consumption and they still get the equivalent range of a full 100KW transmitter.

Good morning Brenda,

Now that we're on the FM thing, there's a station that is in Grand Rapids, Michigan that for years advertised that it was the most powerful FM station in the country.

Maybe on 97.3? They now play country, but once were rock.

Could easily pick them up down into Indiana (my home and native land) quite easily.

No bombs.. but God has let loose the deluge on them (and I thought OUR little part of the peninsula was getting hit hard). Their state news agency is ADMITTING to "Hundreds killed and tens of thousands of homes lost, along with thousands of acres of farmland, thousands of public buildings and electrical and mining infrastructure."

Knowing how that works, I'm sure we can easily figure 5 to 10 times more damage than they are admitting to. They have already asked for UN food aid.

No idea I guess.. their predecessors that played rock, even perhaps in the late 60's advertised that they were the most powerful station in the US of A.

You seem to be fixated on male genitalia. Last month it was the anal region. That's typical for your profile.

Have the FBI been by yet to check on your Chinese made artillery?

I see a major lawsuit happening if you don't get taken off the streets.
All the symptoms point to you being a complete nut case. A very heavily

And the high temperature here (according to local tv news) today got up to about 103 degrees.That's suppose to be big news??? I say, NO.

August and September are always the hottest months around here.I am thinking I might fire up my lawn mower and mow part of my front yard.Not that it needs it, of course.I saw a brown spot on my yard, maybe I will hook up my cheap water sprinkler and let it throw some water on my yard.

Actually, there are two grandfathered stations in Grand Rapids. WOOD has 265,000 watts ERP and WBCT has 320,000 watts ERP. WOOD-FM is on 105.7 and the other on 93.7. WBCT was originally put on by Fetzer, combining the aural sections of two high band VHF TV transmitters, modified, to give nearly 500 kw ERP... but, at the time, only horizontal polarization.

Unfortunately, both have had their useful coverage reduced as they are only protected to the contour of a conforming 50 kw at 500 foot class B FM. More recent allocations limit the listenership area considerably.

But it is only protected to the 54 dbu contour of a conforming class B, the equivalent of 50 kw at 500 feet. So, signal or not, it is not licensed to serve San Diego at all.

Most of the LA stations have had cochannel or adjacents put on the "real but not protected" countours in the last several decades.

XHLNC (XLNC is not the call letter assignment) was licensed to Victor Diaz Romo, who had a life long love of classical and wanted to offer the format to SD and Tijuana. Diaz Romo (RIP) was the son of the founder of Radios Comerciales, SA of Guadalajara, and his family goes back about 70 years in radio in Mexico. At one point, they owned about 40 stations.

The Diaz family was associated with the liberal PRI party, by the way.

P.S. Just wait until they drive the American breweries out of business and all you can buy will be Tsingtao beer. The good news is that there will be no extra charge for the included ethylene glycol.

Jeez, you keep missing the point... cynical has nothing to do with it. I never said a desk bound judge couldn't have a "gut feeling". (But the point being he IS a desk man and a political appointee and has NOT had any day-to-day front line intelligence experience).

For the final time, my point IS that with all the BILLIONS spent on homeland security and with him having access to EVERY law enforcement agency in the country, from big to little and access to some Western European agencies also, I think he should have a least a -shred- of real evidence from at least one of these outfits before he goes on national TV and gets everybody all geeked up over his gut.

The American people deserve better than a "gut feeling" for the billions spent. It's just more fear mongering to get the sheep to think we need the politicians to "save" us...

Not just Wally World, either. Go to most any service jobber (electrical supply store, tool store, etc.) and you'll find almost everything is made in China, including the so-called American merchandise. If we quit buying Chinese, OUR economy would almost instantly collapse. And THEN China would call in its debts and we would be bankrupt.

After the Boxing Day tsunami, the morning show on a rap-oriented (Emmis-owned) station in NYC, WQHT, had this song to the tune of "We are the World" which included the word "chink" and the wonderful line "You could hear God laughing 'Swim you bitches, swim'".

Emmis was shocked, shocked that their bad boys and girls in the morning zoo were ... being bad boys and girls.

(CBS executive played by Claude Rains "Where's that big check for those ads that cost a lot more than we could charge for the ads if we didn't have Imus shooting off his mouth and getting big ratings?")

Imus was given something of a "license" by some of the more misogynist rappers for whom every woman is a "ho".

That brings up the case of Sarah Jones, a black playwright and actress, and KBOO, a tiny non-commercial station in Portland, OR. Jones got sick of the "motherf*cking this" and "ho that" and wrote "Your Revolution" (will not happen between these thighs...)

The FCC fined KBOO for playing "Your Revolution". The fine would have been nothing for Clear Channel or Citadel but it could have killed KBOO. The courts threw out the fines and I believe some celebrities paid the legal fees and probably filled their pledge coffers to the level of a year or two.

To paraphrase Mencken, no one ever went broke underestimating the intelligence of the listeners of the morning zoos.

Amazingly, this evening I was driving around Brookfield, WI, listening to WBCT on a pretty average car radio with a perfectly listenable signal. 105.7 was, however, not listenable due to other station interference.

Like they weren't starving BEFORE global warming? They're ALWAYS asking for UN food aid. They haven't been able to feed themselves for at least 30 years. With all the farmland washed away, it's likely that Kim is running scared. Get ready for another famine. Now what we need is for flooding to wipe out their shortwave transmitters. That would drive them bonkers. No way to broadcast glorious odes to Kim Il Sung to the oppressed American workers. No way to jam evil American propaganda. No way to broadcast their POV to the South. Without jamming, the people would freely listen to RFA, followed by the disintegration of the regime. If that happens, America should let China deal with it.

Hey, nobody in America watches TV anyway, they just have it on as background. It's a white light and noise show. If DPRK TV beamed to America, people would watch for curiosity value, then it would blend into the background. Brenda, does the DPRK broadcast TV on South Korean channel(s)?

Look for a nearly identical looking (it is exactly the same inside) radio sold under several names, the most common one, and the one I had was Lloyd's. I believe there was a Philco version, and there was a very similar looking Lafayette one too. Not a great radio by any means, but I enjoyed my Lloyd's enough to buy a Realistic one at a garage sale later on. They (I think Lloyd's was the actual maker) cranked them out for years. I saw one at a neighbor's garage sale with some odd name on it, they had brought it with them from Australia. I didn't buy that one.

Radio Shack radios actually had TWO model names per radio: the official model (what you cited) and a fancy name for promotional literature. I suspect that you've got one of the "Astronaut" named radios from the 70s. Open it up and see if there's a paper label listing exactly what each transistor and diode is, along with a crude schematic. On that label may be the actual radio name.

Out of all the times I've scanned the cable channels, I've never seen it.
The ROK still jams DPRK MW broadcasts on at least two frequencies that I know of, 810 and 1080 KHz. There are likely others as well, since there are at least 5 more jammers out there, but I can only verify these two as coming from the ROK. We were up near Panmunjum a couple weeks ago, and out of curiosity I tuned in to those to see how strong the (DPRK) jammers were up there. To my surprise, they were barely audible.. they were coming from the SOUTH. The audio on the DPRK MW signals was truly terrible. Sounded worse than US AM after the bandwidth got narrowed for IBOC.. (sounds like a telephone with a wadded up handkerchief over the receiver).

The Degen 1102 actually comes with a small (~3 meter or so) longwire antenna that is pluggable into a jack on the side. It is intended for SW, but should work with MW. Tiny radios like the S10 are intended only for local reception. Any DX you may get is incidental. When I lived in downtown Sacramento in 2001-02, I had a S10 strapped to the handlebars of my bicycle with plastic ties (my license was suspended for a while). Nice radio, and worked well without the whip extended on FM. It tended to switch to AM with a bounce, though. I would wonder why my music station suddenly went Mexican on me. Whenever that little switch got moved, I'd simply move it back. The Degen is meant for DX.

Royer Park in Roseville, CA had two brown bears in deplorable conditions-simple cages with concrete floors-for decades. Somebody in the 60s thought of the bear idea to attract people to the declining center of town, and eventually the bears were forgotten, fed and cleaned but trapped in their tiny cages 24/7. Finally some teenager got enough people enraged at the city that the bears were handed off to the small zoo in Folsom. By the time the bear exhibit at Folsom was built, the female bear had died, but the male got to live his last few years in rather nice conditions.

Then there was the mall somewhere in the Midwest that bought a baby gorilla when it opened in the 60s as a marketing gimmick. The gorilla grew up, and watched that mall gradually empty and decay. Finally the mall went bankrupt, and only then, when the building was due to be demolished, did the gorilla get out of his pen and into a real zoo. That's what happens when marketing whizzes decide that animals exist as gewgaws. Obviously this monkey is smarter than the city bureaucrats handling it. Maybe it's time to hand it off to a zoo, and get it out of what must be horrible conditions.

No, Sweetheart, in your zeal to find something by which to be offended, you've missed the point entirely....

The 'gut feeling' is where it starts. The research, the intel, and the gathering of evidence follows.

Which is precisely what Chertoff was telling you.

Well, let's see. What was it Jefferson said before the War of 1812? Something about "taking Canada will be merely a matter of marching."??
And then Mr. Madison became President, and found out that is was a bit more difficult then that. Not one bit of Canadian soil was ever permanently captured by the U.S.. Although they tried pretty hard.
I'll give 'em credit for effort.

Lot of battles around my area in the Niagara Peninsula. Battle of Fort George, Battle of Fort Erie, Battle of Lundy's Lane, Battle of Chippewa, Battle of Stoney Creek etc. They sure did give it a good try over those few years.

Yep. The War of 1812 became known as "Mr. Madison's War." He was still wearing knee breeches when pretty well everyone else had switched to long pants.

Hal Turner is the New World Order's best friend. Our current goal is to create the North American Union with USA, Canada, and Mexico. This is only possible by pitting the races against each other. In fact the British employed this in India. And they were very successful.

By pitting Whites, Blacks, Latinos, and Asians against each other, we can control them all. Hal Turner is making this easy for us by creating hatred and resentment. Thank you, Hal Turner. You will get a nice cushy job once North American Union is in place. His Website is:

http://www.halturnershow.com/

Blacks and Latinos, please listen to his show and have terrible rage against the Whites. Then we will hire you when we need to put some white people in line. You will get to take out all the rage in your system.

A party whose roots lie in the works of L�zaro C�rdenas can hardly be called anything but "liberal." That is, unless you say "socialist." My point is that it is the direct opposite of conservative and far from centrist.

Portugal was once a great nation. It might have been the greatest nation on earth at one time. But now it is almost like a third world country. What happened? Race-mixing is what happened. They let a lot of Black people in and of course the result was racial inter-marriage. Now the Portuguese people are not as White as they were. We need to preserve the White race. Here are some quotes from Mein Kampf:

"All that we admire in the world to-day, its science, its art, its technical developments and discoveries, are the products of the creative activities of a few peoples, and it may be true that their first beginnings must be attributed to one race. The maintenance of civilization is wholly dependant on such peoples. Should they perish, all that makes this earth beautiful will descend with them into the grave."

"All the great civilizations of the past became decadent because the originally creative race died out, as a result of the contamination on the blood."

"Every manifestation of human culture, every product of art, science and technical skill, which we see before our eyes to-day, is almost exclusively the product of the Aryan creative power. This very fact fully justifies the conclusion that it was the Aryan alone who founded a superior type of humanity"

"The foundations of actual life in Japan to-day are not those of the native Japanese culture, although this characterizes the external features of the country, which features strike the eye of European observers on account of their fundamental difference from us; but the real foundations of contemporary Japanese life are the enormous scientific and technical achievements of Europe and America, that is to say, of Aryan peoples."
"A people that fails to preserve the purity of its racial blood thereby destroys the unity of the soul of the nation in all its manifestations. A disintegrated national character is the inevitable consequence of the process of disintegration in the blood. And the change which takes place in the spiritual and creative faculties of a people is only an effect of the change that had modified its racial substance."

"For in a world which would be composed of mongrels and Negroid all ideals of human beauty and nobility and all hopes of an idealized future for our humanity would be lost forever."

"It is especially the cultural creativeness which disappears when a superior race inter-mixes with an inferior one."

"There may be hundreds of excellent States in this earth, and yet if the Aryan, who is the creator and custodian of civilization, should disappear, all culture that is on an adequate level with the spiritual needs of the superior nations to-day would also disappear."

"We National Socialists know that in holding these views we take up a revolutionary stand in the world to-day and that we are branded as revolutionaries. But our views and our conduct will not be determined by the approbation or disapprobation of our contemporaries, but only by our duty to follow a truth which we have acknowledged. In doing this we have reason to believe that posterity will have a clearer insight"

"Thus for the first time a high inner purpose is accredited to the State. In face of the ridiculous phrase that the State should do no more than act as the guardian of public order and tranquility, so that everybody can peacefully dupe everybody else, it is given a very high mission indeed to preserve and encourage the highest type of humanity which a beneficent Creator has bestowed on this earth."

Wow! You really have been around the current administration too long.

You are saying to first come up with some vague, half-baked, superstitious "gut feeling" and -then- try and find and/or "manufacture" facts to fit.

Silly me...I thought the intel and hard facts came FIRST (-before-going on national TV and getting the populace all geeked up).

What you say is absolutely (and sadly) true...although some would say we are teetering on, or dangerously close to, bankruptcy already. :-(

And yes, I fully realize that it's most everywhere, not just Wally World. I was trying to keep it simple and brief as Cuhu was probably pretty deep in his cups.

Try 101.1 FM in New York vs. 101.1 FM in Philadelphia. If one is off the air and you slightly adjust your antenna, you can pick up the other. In certain areas of central New Jersey, they jam each other.

Same with 98.3 in New Brunswick, NJ and 98.3 in Hempstead, NY. I remember as a kid slightly adjusting the power cord on what passed for my "hi fi" (a Yorx all-in one record changer thing from the 1980s) and being able to switch between either station.

So yeah, the FCC is very guilty of shortspacing frequencies, especially in crowded areas like the North East.

Not to mention it sounded like it was clipping quite a bit. I'm sure the announcer's hollering sure didn't help things.

Sometimes, the jammer on AM 1080 goes off the air (I noticed it around mid-day, repeatedly) or its signal power drops drastically and you get to hear the DPRK radio come in...quite intelligible even on a small pocket radio. During the times I tuned in and managed to snag the signal, the station was playing some marching band music, with scary sounding vocals. I pity whoever is stuck listening to this at work up there.

Later on in the day, you're hit with an earblasting "beeeeeep" from the ROK's jammer and a few minutes later, the "chug-chug-chug" sound is back. Next time, I'm tempted to try the anti-jamming antenna trick that Radio Free Asia mentions on their website. Wonder if that would work for MW.

I have been DXing with one of the trial units for the last few months on DXpeditions.

The unit was also supplied with "head units" (AVA100) for vertical arrays, as well as the loop element (ALA100) version.

Overall I found the loops working better, and provided deeper nulls. The null setting stays steady over nearly the entire MW range-- a big advantage.

I expect to be doing further experimenting with this antenna at the WA coast again later this month, including trying some alternate loop configurations and comparisons to BOG (Beverage on ground) antennas.

I noticed this on the Wellbrook website (http://www.wellbrook.uk.com):

The Wellbrook Phased Array is a totally new receiving antenna designed for optimum MW reception. This Antenna system is only Broadband Phased Array to offer a uni-directional pattern similar to the Beverage, over 360 degrees with electronic Null Steering. The design is the result of several years research by Wellbrook's owner and chief design engineer Andrew H. Ikin. Trials of this new array have been performed in the US by experienced MW Dxers using the phasing system with high performance Active Vertical and Active Loop antennas.

These trials demonstrated that the Phased Array equipped with elements made from ALA 100 Large Aperture triangular Loop Antennas (one of the world's best active antennas) provided much lower noise and improved side rejection than an identical array equipped with Active Vertical antenna elements. This finding was particularly important for DXers living in urban areas. Moreover, comparative listening tests indicated that the Phased Array was equally as sensitive and directional as a 1000-1500ft Beverage, with the added advantage of deep null steering!

Phased Array Design: The Phased Array provides a reversible uni-directional reception pattern similar to a 1 wavelength Beverage with the added ability for the user to steer up to 50dB nulls around the back of the array.

The Phased Array consists of a Control Unit and two ALA100 Loop antennas. Each loop is triangular with just one support pole. The Phased Array can be expanded to use four ALA100 loop antennas to provide 360 degree coverage.

The Control Unit combines the output of the two antennas using a technique known as "Delay line Anti-phasing" i.e. the antennas are combined in anti-phase plus a Variable Delay-line equal to between 50% and 100% of the spacing of the antennas. This phasing technique provides a uni-directional reception pattern over a very wide bandwidth with only a minor adjustment to the controls.

This has a considerable advantage over the majority other phasing and noise cancelling systems which require constant adjustment even with small frequency changes.

PHASED ARRAY KEY FEATURES

Uni-directional pattern similar to the Beverage

Simple to erect (no control Lines)

High Front to Back ratio and side rejection

High dynamic range amplifiers IOP3 +42dBm; IOP2 +75dBm

Very low noise ALA100 loop antennas

Lower noise than Active Whip arrays

360° with 4 Loops

12Volt DC power, ideal for Dxpeditions

Only requires 40m antenna spacing

But, just look at what the crack investigators at the FCC found out:

II. Background

A. In-Band On-Channel Technology
4. IBOC technology makes use of the existing AM and FM bands (In-Band) by adding digital carriers to a radio station's analog signal, allowing broadcasters to transmit digitally on their existing channel assignments (On-Channel) while simultaneously maintaining their analog service. iBiquity's IBOC DAB technology enables radio stations to provide enhanced sound fidelity, improved reception, multiple audio streams, and new data services. It permits the transmission of near-CD quality audio signals on the FM band, and improved fidelity on the AM band, to digital-ready radio receivers along with information services, such as station, song and artist identification, stock and news updates, and local traffic and weather bulletins. These digital signals are free from the static, hiss, pops, and fades associated with the current analog system. iBiquity's IBOC technology will also allow for new radios to be ``backward and forward'' compatible, allowing them to receive existing analog broadcasts from stations that have yet to convert and digital broadcasts from stations that have converted.
Existing analog radios will continue to receive analog broadcast signals.

What a coincidence! An independent government agency is saying EXACTLY the same thing about IBOC as ibiquity!!

I guess great minds really do think alike.

So why do you stay around Houston, with all those non-mighty whiteys around?
Move out to some Aryan Acres (though the commute from California will be a bit long), and improve this city by your absence.

So when will be able to hear night-time IBOC on AM? Not that it would matter to me since I don't have an IBOC receiver (yet).

Another local station is gearing up to go IBOC: 1010 WINS, which has been signing off on Sunday nights and plans on doing so for the next couple of months.

Their antenna array is not "flat" enough for HD (whatever that means, I'm not a transmitter person).

Hal doesn't deliver truth. He delivers whatever bullshit he wants to be true.
Go to his site. See the pictures of the alleged "Amero" he's trying to take credit for? Fake.
See the video of the alleged UFO? Fake.
See what's in between those two pieces of bullshit he touts as fact?
Yup... Hal begging for money.

Hal is nothing more than a useless, cowardly piece of shit who constantly whines that others should do things he's too much of a pussy to do himself, and he expects those same people to pay him for it.

The dumbass even once tried to claim that I told him I live in Connecticut and that he "went to my house in Connecticut" and I refused to come out.
When I called him on it and told him to point out anywhere at any time that I ever said I live in Connecticut AND pointed out that at the time he said he was driving to Connecticut he was actually posting time-stamped replies on his forum, he banned me from posting on his little site.
I make no secret of the fact that I live in NY. I've said so numerous times and every Message ID of every post I've ever made ends with "roc.ny".
Hal makes no secret of the fact that he's just a bloviating pussy.

Anyone who would claim that little Hal "delivers the truth" is simply an idiot.

Actually, no, I didn't say that, Strawman. But nice try. I'm capable of speaking for myself. But if I ever require a paraphrast, you'll be the first on my list to call.

What makes you think that Chertoff hasn't waded through hard intel before he makes his appearance? You honestly think he calls a press conference to make a hunch? Really...

How it works in government is how it works everywhere else. Some information comes across someone's path that triggers a gut reaction.
Then they start looking for evidence one way or the other.

You'll notice that the level of alert doesn't remain at 'Orange' or 'Red.' It does drop down to 'Yellow' from time to time. Indicating that after Chertoff's gut feeling, the hard intel doesn't support escalation.

I don't see the problem.

It's simply unrealistic, in law enforcement or security, to wait until all possible evidence and intel has been evaluated to take an action.

History has proven that to be an unreliable strategy.

Same old bullshit as put out by the John Birch Society in the 1960's.
They charged the racist organizations with working for Moscow! Some JB'ers claimed that with education the negroes would soon be voting Republican.

In the conflicts of the future the color of your skin will be your uniform of war. Here in homeland or worldwide as future conflicts will be the western folk versus the third-world.

SW - Simply use a good old Analog AM/FM Radio and Tune +-5 kHz on either side of a local AM-IBOC Radio Station and you should hear the Digital Hash (Noise) - You Now Have IBOC In Living Noise ! ~ RHF

IMHO - In the end AM-IBOC only makes sense if you have an new "HD" {IBOC} Radio and are 'interested' in "Only" Listening to Local AM Radio Stations well with-in the 10 mv/m Contour.

The "Digital Hash" {Noise} from AM-IBOC Radio will make AM/MW Radio DXing a a 'bygone' "Bye-and-Gone" Hobby.

The idiots are schmucks like you who believe the lies spewed out of the so-called mainstream media.
You call Hal a coward, but you are too chickenshit to even post under your own name, coward.
You would not be so threatened by his info if you did not know it is true.,
as much as you hate to hear it broadcast.
Your rudeness & name-calling demonstrate that you really have no more facts than you have balls.
BS is the tool of truth-impaired leftists, name-calling and personal insults & attacks are the technique of one who has no real facts.

I must have missed something? The seller never posted this auction on the newsgroups. It started as a discussion about the receiver, not as an auction teaser.

Any comments on the phasing unit itself? Is it comparable performance-wise to the units available from MFJ and Timewave or is it a cut above?

The depth of nulls depends on (1) the skill of the operator, since a two-dimensional search is necessary to find the null; (2) the bandspread of the controls - for a hugely deep null, you're dealing with fractions of fractions of degrees in steering, and the control can easily be too clumsy at that fine adjustment; (3) the amount of E-field picked up by the loop, or H-field picked up by the whip : the ``other'' field is 90 degrees out of phase and cannot be cancelled if it leaks in. With a skilled operator, (3) is always the limit.

Oh and (4), if it's skywave, the actual angle of arrival varies, and may make nulling impossible for any phased setup that depends on steering a first-order null onto a target.

The pay services, under testing now, are data delivery, such as traffic reports, stock quotes, etc. Essentially, the same thing as many SCA's have been doing for decades.

And once again, rec.radio.amateur.equipment is not a buy and sell newsgroup. It's for the discussion of amateur radio equipment.

Hence ebay posts don't belong there, along with all the other ads that get posted there.

That's the problem with the previous replyer, he still doesn't use that leverage to get rid of the ebay poster. He somehow thinks ebay is somehow worse than buy and sell ads.

It would be nice to say that the ad doesn't belong in .boatanchors but the people who created it circa 1995 or 96 decided that buying and selling was too important a part of the hobby, so they let ads in, though in the charter it's way down on the list of things to post about. So instead, we get all kinds of ads there, things that weren't even born when the last boatanchors were made,

and those ads for guns and those ads for computers, and so it goes.
Once you let ads in, the junk follows.

I feel your pain and understand your frustration. I am worried that you are becoming over loaded with stress because of neighbor problems
- you've postings evidence this. I hope you don't do anything drastic but it would be understandable if you did because they are clearly pushing you to the limits. I suspect that they are doing it intentionally to provoke you in hopes that you give them a reason to throw you into prison. If you would like I will send you my phone number so we can talk when you are feeling stressed out. I am a good listener and counselor.

The releasing of Valerie Plame's identity was by Richard Armitage, who told it to Carl Novak. Confirmed by both Armitage and, once it was out, Novak.

After he said he went to my house in Connecticut, where he claims I told him I live, I challenged him to show where I ever said that.
Because he couldn't, he banned me.
I've never set foot in Connecticut.

major funding from Unocal, Armitage was implicated in a lawsuit filed by Burmese villagers who suffered human rights abuses during the construction of a Unocal pipeline. (Halliburton, under Dick Cheney, performed contract work on the same Burmese project.)"

Say what you want about Jones but at least he doesn't ban anyone. He even

It wasn't about ebay - it was about a VERY rare (I don't normally use that word, but here it truly applies) radio - a boatanchor at that - that just happened to be on ebay. Fowler R390As are rare - there were only five built, and s/n 2 is in (reportedly) the best condition of the known survivors...

I didn't start this thread - as I assumed it would find it's way to r.r.a.b on it's own (it did - and no it wasn't posted by the seller, nor on his behalf).

I did start a similar thread on rec.antiques.radio+phono as a discussion about how it might compare in value to some of the rare sets from the 30's (Zenith Strat, Sparton Nocturne, Crosley WLW - etc.). As it turns out - not even close.

The seller didn't need to "hawk his wares" here or anywhere else for that matter - the radio's provenance yelled loud enough on it's own.

best regards...

Now look at his record. He worked for Powell, no fan of Bush.
Armitage, himself was no fan of Bush and complained bitterly about both the war, and his international policies. And his first call when Novak published the piece was to Powell. Not to Bush, not to Cheney.

Armitage revealed this himself.

You're very good at making your feelings known about the Administration, but this event, specifically, the outing of Valerie

Plame was not an administration action. It wasn't sanctioned by the Administration. It was a slip made, actually some years before Novak published the article, By Richard Armitage. Not by the Administration.

Armitage, outing Valerie Plame, was not acting on behalf of the Administration, by his own admission.

Any more than you are acting on behalf of your employer in your postings to USENet.

Those who stand on street corners and shout are anything but civilized.

Carrying the absuridity of the OP's statement to its absurd conclusion, there is no place in a civilized society for people who shout on street corners.

POTS phone lines are very limited. IIRC from my work with those systems, about 300-3600 Hz. Strictly human voice range, not meant for hi-fi. Special lines are still available for hi-fi use as audio STL's.

Audio WHAT? Read what more carefully? Are you attempting to say the audio bandwidth of a message network channel is greater than about 3 kHz?

I engineered a remote in Chicago a number of years ago, and the client wouldn't spring for ISDN, or equalized lines. ATT provided a POTS line and we got 8k analog audio out of it. Then again, we were next to an ATT store. Similar performance was observed at my condo in Heather Ridge. Here at the house, not two miles away, I'm lucky to hit 14.4 modem speeds, and 3k audio on a good day with my POTS line.

Guaranteed performance, you're right, is only 300 to 3600Hz, and 14.4k modem speed. But real performance varies from company to company, CO to CO, line to line. And surprisingly good audio and high modem speeds, are possible with POTS technology. The instruments, themselves, are bandwidth limited. But the lines are often, but not always, much wider than the instrument. That's why, when addressing the phone with a hybrid, or repeating coil, directly, I have always been able to get passable audio on a POTS line. With AM audio bandwidth limited anyway, I could usually exceed the stations audio performance from the field and you couldn't tell we weren't using high performance lines. But that experience hasn't been limited to AM. I've been able, when lines were clean enough, to hit FM stations with audio wide enough, that the losses were ignorable. Hardly negligible, but certainly ignorable. And in at least two cases, better audio than was possible with Comrex, or with the POTS digital dialup systems out now.

It just depends on who's providing the line, and how it's routed.

BTW, equalized lines are being phased out. They're still available, but carriers are moving to make them prohibitively expensive to install and maintain, anymore, and carrier noise, which was never a problem before, is becoming a problem now. It's easier, more cost effective and requires less installer activity to drop in an ISDN line for broadcast. So carriers are really pushing that. Not that they're making it that much easier on the broadcaster. When I put in my ISDN link here at the house, I very nearly had to wire it for them.

When the Florians owned WNIB, Bill got tired of all the carrier noise, and administrative crap that went along with his equalized studio-transmitter lines, and had ATT install a second set of control loops for his remote transmitter control. Control loops are copper, unequalized, and are designed to carry control voltages, down to DC and control databus output. They're basically just twisted pair. And dramatically less cost than broadcast lines.

Bill got his own equalizers and set up his own equalized lines on the extra control loops and put his studio-transmitter audio there.

It was the sweetest sounding audio on the dial. Right up there with WFMT, but less limiting.

ATT threw a fit. Control loops are NOT for carrying program audio. Bill fought them on it. And never did return to ATT broadcast lines. He and Sonja eventually sold out to Bonneville for nearly a half a billion dollars.

Sometimes the bear gets you, sometimes bear steaks are so tasty at the end of a long ride.

Wasn't there a rumor a couple years back that the phone companies are slowly discontinuing ISDN service? Or is that only for residential services as opposed to radio stations?

They don't want to do ISDN internet services, anymore. But I'm using ISDN as a studio-studio link. So far, no one has suggested to me that it's not going to continue.

It's good for what it is. I own one and it's my main knock-about portable, especially when I travel somewhere. I listen to much more MW and FM than SW so that's why I tend to just carry a normal radio with me.

Sound is good for its size and sensitivity also. If possible try to find one where the tuning knob turns fairly easily - some are way too tight for my taste. I checked out a few until I found one that just "felt" right.

My only complaints are the swing-out FM antenna (much prefer it to come straight out the top) and the fact that the MW doesn't go up to 17.

I took it with me to South Korea just recently and it worked quite nicely. Even picked up some Chinese blowtorches at night, although in that part of the world, that's not such a big deal for a good quality radio.

Considering how delicate a digital signal is -- and how little the room for error is (either you have perfect reception or you have nothing), do you think that's a good idea for emergency comms?

At least with analog, you may get some static, but you can still pick up what the person is saying on the other end.

Delicate? Are we even looking at the same elephant? With digital there is NO errors, errors are simply discarded. If one freq is not suitable for xmission of the packet(s), another is computer selected and attempted. Spread spectrum makes digital rock solid, no noise, no errors ... these systems operating in GHz processing speed range makes the whole thing transparent ... and all that before I even mention data compaction ...

Quite a discussion, that.

Just because the kl0wn (cross)posted his eBay sale via a "tinyurl" link

Hi all,

I do my listening overnights 'cause I'm a night owl. After Radio Havana goes off at 0300 EDT, there's a station, spanish speaking (?) on 6185 playing nice relaxing jazz. I listen every night. Anyone know who/what/where?

Thanks,

I noticed for the past couple years that Amazon.com just sells shortwave portables, but no shortwave desktops, no 2 meter radios, or ham HF rigs. Is this on purpose..it must be because I yet to see them sell them on their site. Too bad, they may do fairly well in sales.

The implementation of HD or DRM on short wave may leave you with the impression that digital is more "delicate" than analog but it is really about the same as far as robustness is concerned.

Digital or analog can be more robust by using more bandwidth for example.

Hey Allan,
So David Brown is another one of his aliases.... How many did he have?

The CASE NO. is the same from his January court appearance.
This confirms that George's time in jail is for the original order in his Probation judgment in January.
Note # 20 on Page 3 of his Probation Order states it.
He was suppose to serve out 30 days. He served at least 8 of them when he was first arrested and bonded out.
He was to appear by August 1, 2007 to complete his sentence.
The bad comb-over should be out by August 23rd.

Best we can hope for is that he sleeps in terror every night he is in jail.

So long.

I understand, I have clashed with animal control agencies myself and have found them to be very inadequate. Most individuals who work for them begin with good intentions but soon they become desensitized to the needs of animals and not long after that they start to resent them, then that evolves into hatred.
If you really want to put some serious pressure on the Jackson Animal Control Dept. get the list of cruelties from the gal that just retired and email it to: info@peta.org
If the grievances are legit they will investigate and NOBODY wants PETA looking over their shoulders! Your animal control dept. will shape up in a hurry if PETA enters the picture. Say what you will about PETA but they get the job done.

Just think, that's ALL they ever listen to. That and twisted lectures on Juche Ideas. Their radios likely have a handful of freqs hardwired into their firmware, so all you can get is Juche Radio. But apparently there are enough real SW radios floating around that northeners can sometimes get RFA broadcasts, especially late at night when signal to jammer improves.

Cable? ROK DOESN'T have over the air TV? Never mind. I suppose that DPRK is using a completely different type of TV set, so you'd need to get your hands on one of them to get DPRK TV. It's likely not a 24/7 service because of electricity problems-it probably shuts off at 9pm local time, when Pyongyang goes dark.

Starting this month in a port neighborhood and then spreading across Shenzhen, a city of 12.4 million people, residency cards fitted with powerful computer chips programmed by the same company will be issued to most citizens.

Data on the chip will include not just the citizen's name and address but also work history, educational background, religion, ethnicity, police record, medical insurance status and landlord's phone number. Even personal reproductive history will be included, for enforcement of China's controversial "one child" policy. Plans are being studied to add credit histories, subway travel payments and small purchases charged to the card.

Security experts describe China's plans as the world's largest effort to meld cutting-edge computer technology with police work to track the activities of a population and fight crime. But they say the technology can be used to violate civil rights.

The Chinese government has ordered all large cities to apply technology to police work and to issue high-tech residency cards to 150 million people who have moved to a city but not yet acquired permanent residency.

Both steps are officially aimed at fighting crime and developing better controls on an increasingly mobile population, including the nearly 10 million peasants who move to big cities each year. But they could also help the Communist Party retain power by maintaining tight controls on an increasingly prosperous population at a time when street protests are becoming more common.

"If they do not get the permanent card, they cannot live here, they cannot get government benefits, and that is a way for the government to control the population in the future," said Michael Lin, the vice president for investor relations at China Public Security Technology, the company providing the technology. Incorporated in Florida, China Public Security has raised much of the money to develop its technology from two investment funds in Plano, Tex., Pinnacle Fund and Pinnacle China Fund. Three investment banks--Roth Capital Partners in Newport Beach, Calif.; Oppenheimer & Company in New York; and First Asia Finance Group of Hong Kong--helped raise the money.

Shenzhen, a computer manufacturing center next to Hong Kong, is the first Chinese city to introduce the new residency cards. It is also taking the lead in China in the large-scale use of law enforcement surveillance cameras--a tactic that would have drawn international criticism in the years after the Tiananmen Square killings in 1989.

But rising fears of terrorism have lessened public hostility to surveillance cameras in the West. This has been particularly true in Britain, where the police already install the cameras widely on lamp poles and in subway stations and are developing face recognition software as well.

New York police announced last month that they would install more than 100 security cameras to monitor license plates in Lower Manhattan by the end of the year. Police officials also said they hoped to obtain financing to establish links to 3,000 public and private cameras in the area by the end of next year; no decision has been made on whether face recognition technology has become reliable enough to use without the risk of false arrests.

Shenzhen already has 180,000 indoor and outdoor closed-circuit television cameras owned by businesses and government agencies, and the police will have the right to link them on request into the same system as the 20,000 police cameras, according to China Public Security.

Some civil rights activists contend that the cameras in China and Britain are a violation of the right of privacy contained in the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights.

Large-scale surveillance in China is more threatening than surveillance in Britain, they said when told of Shenzhen's plans. "I don't think they are remotely comparable, and even in Britain it's quite controversial," said Dinah PoKempner, the general counsel of Human Rights Watch in New York. China has fewer limits on police power, fewer restrictions on how government agencies use the information they gather and fewer legal protections for those suspected of crime, she noted.

While most countries issue identity cards, and many gather a lot of information about citizens, China also appears poised to go much further in putting personal information on identity cards, PoKempner added.

Dreaming of a 'new' Panasonic RF-2200 Radio . . . In Your Future ?
For One and All,
If you can find and take a look at the Tecsun Radio Club Room
http://www.tecsun.com.cn/radioclub/images/Pic00029.jpg (R&D) you will see many old and new Radios there including the Panasonic RF-2200 Radio.
IMHO - The Tecsun BCL-2000 was a step in the right direction and the Redsun RP2100 is another step along that path . . .
The new Redsun RP3000/RP3100 may be the next step ? ? ?
FWIW - Radio-Electronics manufacturing has changed greatly in the 30 Years from 1977 to 2007 and a 'close-copy' of the outward appearance and styling may be 'Doable" by the insides will be cost effective and very different.

ROK has broadcast TV, but it's used very little these days with nearly 100% penetration with CATV and satellite (SkyLife Korea only). The OTA stuff is KBS1, KBS2, MBC, SBC, CBS (Christian Broadcasting Service), EBS1 & EBS2 (Educational Broadcasting Service) and AFN.

ROK uses NTSC System M with US channelization (but NICAM stereo audio instead of BTSC).

DPRK uses PAL system K, IIRC, with an odd channelization (what little there is), so the systems are incompatible.

Don't know if it's Cuba, but that would be my best guess too.

IMHO the numbers station thing is at least as much psychological warfare as a means of covert communications.

Any idea when or if this pup will be available in th US? Im thinking the S-2000 and the yet to be available Redsun RP-3000 would look great in my shack.

1315. 9525 Khz 1100 UTC: Voice of Indonesia?

Testing out my little vertical antenna (and the system of radials I put down) and hear a relatively strong signal with almost no fading on 9525 Khz at around 1045-1108 (now) plus.

It's SINPO 44544. Vaguely Balinese or Chinese flavor, with music and spoken word together. Music is unique -- I thought Indonesia just from the music. :) I'm assuming it's Voice of Indonesia / RRI Jakarta but wonder if anyone else has an opinion on what it might be if they have a better idea :)

"flat" refers to the impedance (and possibly the directivity) of their antenna system on frequencies near but not equal to their 1010KHz carrier.

WINS's operating frequency is quoted as 1010KHz, but that's just their center "carrier" frequency. If WINS were to transmit "dead air", that's the only frequency they'd radiate a signal on. Once they start transmitting voice, they begin to have signal on adjacent frequencies, 5-7KHz either side of 1010. They might occupy a range between 1003 and 1017KHz.

For the transmitter to operate properly, the "impedance" of the antenna system must be reasonably close to 50 ohms (and must have little or no reactance) at any frequency at which the transmitter might radiate a signal. A non-radiating "dummy load" is the only antenna that will be 50 ohms at all frequencies; any useful antenna for WINS will vary in impedance and reactance with frequency. Since WINS has been successfully using its existing antenna system for some time, one can reasonably assume its antenna system exhibits an impedance reasonably close to 50 ohms across the 1003-1017KHz range.

IBOC adds digital carriers to the outer edges of the channel. For WINS it would extend from 995-1025KHz. If their antenna system is "not flat enough" that means the impedance in the 995-1003 and/or 1017-1025KHz ranges isn't close enough to 50 ohms, and/or there is too much reactance.

A related problem would be with the directivity of the antenna. WINS is required to use a directional antenna system at all hours. The directivity of its antenna will also vary with frequency. It is possible the WINS system is close enough to 50 ohms across the IBOC band for the transmitter to be happy, but for its directivity to not be adequately maintained in 995-1003 and/or 1017-1025KHz. That would result in increased interference to other stations on 990, 1000, 1020, and 1030KHz. (beyond that which arguably would result simply from WINS's use of IBOC)

There are ways of fixing this problem. They seem to involve computer modeling the antenna matching networks and finding new network designs that solve the issue. The process is neither fast nor cheap, and once the necessary changes are determined the adjustments must be made - the networks may require modification - and then measurements must be made to ensure things actually are working properly.

This will be an issue for many directional stations - it's why I don't see September 14th bringing IBOC to a huge stampede of AM stations. WINS can afford the work. WKRP in tiny Podunk maybe can't.

I kinda like the cat photos. Cats seem to be a long tradition with radio enthusiasts. I wonder why.

Perhaps because walking a dog involves tearing yourself away from the receiver?

Would the normal multi-standard TV sets available on the market be able to tune DPRK TV in? The system must be compatible with other PAL standards, because I've read about -- and seen one particular video showing -- second-hand television sets from China being smuggled across the DPRK's northern border for sale. They're sold at a substantial premium.

Not to mention that portable TV, long a stronghold of analog broadcast signals is now totally dominated by DMB (Digital Multimedia Broadcasting), which allows you to watch and listen to digital broadcasts on special cellphones or other such receivers.

Hmmm... <evil thoughts brewing in my mind...>

A few hundred high-intensity IR LEDs blasting out the window and aimed at a nice scattering and reflecting surface to create a nice cone of IR radiation, connected to a CPU programmed to cycle randomly and continuously through every remote code over and over again..... could be a cheap kind of "Doctor Evil" entertainment...

You may wish to selectively skip your devices in the RC-5 code sequences so your gear is immune to any backscattered light. :D

Just be sure to (very casually) mention to your neighbors, when they ask if anything funny is happening to your TVs and stuff, that the exorcism has apparently worn off and the ghosts and poltergeists are back again.

This could be the cheapest way possible to gain vacancies in all the adjacent apartment units ;P

Just think of it as fun with electromagnetic waves.

Next week: building a practical dipole antenna for the 900 nanometer band...

Well I don't believe that for a moment. I get superb AM/MW DX results

I've been looking at buying a SW radio and was wondering if most receivers offer more bands (frequencies) than transceivers?

I know I would need to have a license if I want to transmit but if I just want to listen, then a receiver with plenty of band coverage would be nice.

I ask this because I was told that if I bought just a receiver then I would be wishing I would have bought a transceiver to enjoy SW as a participant.

Then I read that someone new to SW I might be better off buying a receiver and to see if they would really want to transmit as well.

Thanks for any and all help on this.

Look at the total with shipping. If you get $10 more from Amazon you seem to get free shipping.

What is the total band coverage? Is it likely to be sold on domestic shortwave stations or are they out of its frequency range?

With a radio in this price range, having digital readout might be something of a disadvantage due to noise. However, it might make a better gift to a newbie than the $10 Bell & Howell if that's still around since it is easier to tune.

Well, the tuning is analog -- it's just a digital display that takes the place of a normal dial and pointer.
Do these digital frequency displays really add any more noise? They're not really a vital part of the whole tuning system, I don't think (in other words, you could cut out the LCD and the tuner would still work properly).

Also see: http://apnews.myway.com/article/20070817/D8R2R3N80.html for pretty much the same story.

I've seen plenty of "Bears" and later used to copy them sending Russian Morse with their positions, most particularly as they made their way down east coast USA enroute Cuba.

$4 or $5 more will get you the cx-768.

I don't know anything about these radios, except at that price, and an alligator clip hooking the whip to a long wire, you should get some SW stations, and for as cheap as you possibly can ...

BBC radio ordered off Russian FM

The BBC said it would appeal against the decision

The BBC's Russian-language service will no longer be heard on Russian FM radio, after the country's media regulator ordered that it be removed.

The broadcaster's last FM distribution partner in Russia, Bolshoye Radio, said it had been told to remove BBC content or risk being shut down.

Two other Russian FM stations have dropped BBC programming recently.

The BBC's Russian Service can still be heard online and on medium and short wave frequencies in Russia.

BBC executives said they would appeal against the decision.
'Propaganda'

"The BBC entered into the relationship with Bolshoye Radio in good faith," said Richard Sambrook, Director of BBC Global News.

"We cannot understand how the licence is now interpreted in a way that does not reflect the original and thorough concept documents."

He said the licensing agreement allowed for 18% of Bolshoye's content to be foreign-produced.

Bolshoye Radio's owners, financial group Finam, told the BBC that Russia's media regulators required that all programming be produced by the station itself.

A spokesman for the company said management had made the decision without outside prompting and that it was well known that the BBC was set up to broadcast foreign propaganda.

"Any media which is government-financed is propaganda - it's a fact, it's not negative," the spokesman, Igor Ermachenkov, told the BBC.

A BBC spokesman, Mike Gardner, said: "Although the BBC is funded by the UK government... a fundamental principle of its constitution and its regulatory regime is that it is editorially independent of the UK government."

Critics say Russia is taking measures to curb media freedom ahead of parliamentary elections in December and a presidential poll in March.

Depends on your mileage and ambitions. Current transceivers have excellent general coverage properties but cost more. The Icom IC-746Pro, IC-756-series and IC-7000 are excellent receivers but are much more expensive than a general coverage receiver like the Icom R75. They all cover at least up to 30 MHz continously, some are VHF and UHF enabled. I suppose that Kenwood, Yaesu and other transceivers are equally well equipped for SW DX. But in 95% of the cases you won't hear more stations on a high-end transceiver than on a budget (R75) receiver.

I used an Icom 735 transceiver for ten years to SWL and Amateur Radio. I know it about matched a friend's Kenwood 5000 receiver for sensitivity. So some transceivers can be excellant for SWLing with a decent outside antenna setup and low electrical noise.

There is an article from Inside Radio (Below) circulating throughout groups invested in HD radio, including our favorite 3 letter abbreviation, that suggests one of the reasons for HD's languishing popularity is that there are few, if any, HD radios on shelves, coupled with a lack of training in HD by sales reps, and general retail apathy.

Which is a disengenous shift of responsibility.

Actually, if there were consumer interest, you wouldn't be able to swing a dead hooker in a Best Buy without hitting an HD radio.

Consumer interest drives sales. Not supply. And as well researched as the big box retailers are, if there were consumer interest, they would be stocking these things by the rail car load, because there would be money in it. But if there is no consumer demand for these products, no retailer is going to give up valuable shelf space for them.

That's not to say that this is yet a dead issue. With the enormous investment in IBOC stations are making to install this noise, they're not going to give up.

But this campaign is being compared to XM's initial campaign. Where the emphasis is on CONTENT. Not audio quality, as much of the HD campaign is emphasizing.

So, there will have to be a shift in marketing emphasis if Radio is to make HD work better than the AM Stereo attempt in the 80's.

Radio is often its own worst enemy. But where direct dollars are spent, Radio is rarely too stupid.

Again, if there were consumer demand for these radios, there would be a deluge of them. Because there would be money in it. But there isn't. So there isn't.

Something will have to change.

Not only would I not buy into IBOC, I wouldn't accept a radio given to me for free (regardless of whether I was back home or not). The system has no plusses. It generates noise on the band, and adds nothing of significance. AM stations have no content worthy of "high fidelity" anymore, and it's not likely that they ever will, since the industry has decided that "nobody listens to AM", and has made it a self-fulfilling prophecy. FM doesn't need IBOC, as the audio quality already surpasses what the vast majority consider to be acceptable.

All in all, IBOC isn't even a solution in search of a problem. It IS the problem, and the only solution is for it to die a quick death and let millions of people who don't conform to the industry's notion that "nobody" listens outside the protected contours and "nobody" listens to AM have their choice of stations and programming back.

I'd keep an open mind ... low bit rate video and such just might find a way of working in and providing some interesting content and entertainment--what new devices may await us, might me worth asking? I

Do we have to read a review to guess that? You get what you pay for.
If you plan on buying a $15.00 dollar radio and have it preform as well as KW-buck one, think again ...

However, if you have $15.00 bucks to test the waters before you spend big bucks and end up with a door stop, this might be for you.

Heck, most SW/AM/FM stations worth listening to have a live stream on the net, that is virtually $000.0 bucks!

DX Ace,

That I have -but- I would like some confirmation and some feed back on where to use it in the best manner.

In my humble opinion -if- one is using it directly behind the Radio the Alpha-Delta Antenna Switch is the better 'device' to use. IF mounted out on the Ground Rod the the "Zap Traper" would be my choice.

But the Question Possed to me was is it a

My reply was : I Did Not Think So . -but- I could be wrong

Sucks for the Beeb. They got kicked out of Nepal too. I guess the FM relay networks that were supposed to replace shortwave aren't so wonderful after all. In America, BBC FM only covers a handful of areas, mainly in California and the northeast, and only in the middle of the night. The Africa stream runs hot and cold, it's so far away that sometimes it's there and sometimes it's not, and sometimes it's there but with plenty of noise. In the evenings Asia is in a daylight path to America, so that's out. Middle East is largely out of the question west of the Rockies. So with the Beeb simply dropping the Americas, we really have no options. America really needs decent news, and the Beeb is still the best, despite having suffered through numerous budget problems and various incursions on editorial integrity.

There are also some comparative reviews here:

http://hometown.aol.com/RKDX/Equipment.html

This guy (RKDX) actually found the Quantum to have a slight edge:

"From a performance standpoint, the Quantum Loop 2 is the best antenna I have ever used. In side by side comparisons with both the Radio West and Kiwa Loops it came out superior in all measurements. When compared to the Radio West Loop I found the nulls to be far better and the gain at least 20db greater. Against the Kiwa Loop, the Quantum 2 had slightly better nulls and a gain improvement of 7-10db."

HD radio sucks because it is no better or offers no value to the consumer who has to spend extra money to get it.

Yeah. HD will have to offer value over analog to replace it.

They should start with changing the lousy design so it actually provides better reception and fidelity than analog. Offering different content is just a diversion.

I've owned and used a Kiwa MW Loop previously, but not at the same time as the Quantum.

You can't go wrong with either, although the Radio Plus+ unit is probably better from a support/repair standpoint, should anything go wrong, because it's a currently made unit.

The one I'm selling is a hot performer for a compact loop, but I'm just not making much use of it. I'm not much of a collector of "radio stuff," so to Ebay it goes...

With my busy work life these days, most of my DXing is on scheduled DXpeditions. I'm looking forward to an upcoming trip for comparing my Wellbrook Phased Array against another identical system, and against some BOG and Beverage antennas.

Steve, I've used an MFJ phaser, and a JPS noise canceller/phaser, but not the Timewave unit. The Wellbrook phasing box is definitely easier to find the nulls with, compared to phasers I've used before. Most of my experience, though, is with Beverage antennas; performance of this Wellbrook Array is pretty darn close! It's VERY nice to have the switchable directionality, which is like having to opposite antennas in the same physical space. I'll know more in a week, after I return from a DXpedition with a friend who also has the same Wellbrook Phased Array. We will be trying some alternate configurations of loops, and comparing the arrays against BOGs and Beverages.

Propagation doesn't seem to have been that good

But I managed to catch a VFT signal tonight at 11103 kHz. Switched to AM mode. It didn't sound like what I remember from way back when.

Also found a signal at 8488 kHz that I think is a mil-std-188-110 signal. Switch to AM mode. That sounded more like what I remember from the 60's.

But mil-std-188-110 didn't exist in the 60's. Maybe there were similar signals at that time.

I have a grundig 300pe, amongst others, $29.95 from radio shack--probably paid too much. I like it. Hooked up a homemade balun to match the ~75-100 ohm long wire to the whip (2000 ohms+, most likely) works like a charm. Now the icom, which I picked up at a estate sale for $100.00 (stole it really) is a better machine--but I use the grundig so much more--and is so many places ... I pity idiots which pay more--but for them, there is always ebay.

I tried to use the ANC-4 with the ALA100, but never got it to go

I also posted this in HD Radio, ba.broadcast, and alt.radio.digital - the real problem, as an IBOC shill, you don't want a bunch of posters seeing the results of these graphs.

I also included Compete in my blog:

http://hdradiofarce.blogspot.com/

Your attempts to shut down anti-IBOC posters, as with HD Radio, is too-little-too-late:

http://tinyurl.com/yoqk6d

I have also contacted a number of foreign countrys' FCCs to complain about HD/IBOC, providing a link to my blog.

One more thing - did you notice on these graphs, the lack of reaction to HD Radio during Christmas, compared to all of the other competing technologies - even during holidays, no HD Radio ! Ha! Ha! HD Radio is DOA !

IBOC Crock -or- should I call you Mister Crock ?

All I know is it did not work for me as a Kitchen Radio for the Family to use up here in Twain Harte, CA since we are to far away from any of the current AM or FM IBOC Broadcasters.

I will have to take it down to Oakland the and give it a Test to see if it will work as a Kitchen Radio for the Family to use down there . . . time will tell and that may take years and years . . .

http://groups.yahoo.com/group/ETON-E1-XM-Radio/message/5141
For those who are Out-Side Antenna Challenged the MFJ-1020C
http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/sw_ant/1413.html
As a basic Active Pre-Selector offers several features to put something Out-the-Window or Around-the-Room and Tune-It and Amplifiy-It or simply Use-It-Directly -
It being a Shortwave Radio Antenne of your own creation to meet your needs within your limits.
Add a simple "Snake" Coax Cable Antenna Stuck-Out the Window :
In-the-Air; Under-the-Eaves or simply Hang-It-Out-the Window.
Works well with the MFJ-1020C used as an Active Pre-Selector
-P==========C--====================E
"-P" PL-259 Plug
"=" Coax Cable RG58 or RG8X or RG6 with an "F" to PL-259 Adapter
"C" Snap-On Ferrite Choke
"--" One Inch Cover Insulation and Outer-Shield Removed from the Coax Cable and Taped Over.
"E" Connect Inner Conductor and Outer-Shield connected Soldered together at the Far-End of the Coax Cable.
Distance : -P to C about 10-20 Feet Distance : C to E about 15-30 Feet
TIP - Most people see the Snake {Coax Cable} Antenna as a Cable TV Service Cable and usually never complain about it.

RHF, to elaborate a bit, I used one of your many recommendations for an external antenna. I am in a first floor apartment. I have experimented with many antennas over the years, slinkys, window antennas, even the famous broomstick antenna. While the old saying that a bad antenna is better than none at all is very true, none of these really were the answer. I even used portable ham antennas, which worked better as they were outside.

I picked up the MFJ 1020C active antenna. This gadget, as everyone who is familiar with it knows, is not very effective with the built in whip. With an external antenna, the little 1020 shines. It works with the slinky strung up on the ceiling. It also does well with broomsticks or window antennas.

What I finally did is take a 25 foot length of 30 gauge white wire and throw it up in the tree outside. Attached to the MFJ 1020C, this antenna is a major improvement over anything else I have tried with the E-1 or the Sony 2010.

The MFJ 1020C is a bit of a controversial product, though and may not work for everyone. I do not use it with a wall wart. Using a 7 amp-hour gel cell makes it much quieter. My random wire is short so it does not overtax the capability of the MFJ 1020C. I have not had problems with overload. I am also in a relatively quiet RF environment, considering that I am in a major city.

How well does it work? I am able to hear lots of Brazilian, Peruvian, Colombian and Mexican stations that I did not have a prayer to hear before. Radio Educacion on 6185 is a reference. I am able to get it clearly, even with interference from Radio Amazonas on 6180 or Radio Havana on the same 6180 frequency. Of course, this is partially due to the outstanding synchronous detector on the E-1. Radio Mil (Mexico City)on 6010, Radio Lider (Bogota) on 6139.5 all come in well. Argentina on 11710 is always a challenge, but I hear it well most nights at 0200.

Ed

1200 UTC on Sunday, August 19.

Monitor the nets active throughout the day on 14300 for current updates on the active storm.

http://www.hwn.org/

One might also monitor 13927 to see if any 'TEAL' callsign aircraft make any phone patches through the MARS system as these are the Hurricane Hunter Aircraft.

At present it looks as though Hurricane Dean will make a direct hit on Jamaica sometime on Sunday.

Good luck to all in the affected area.

I think you're right. It won't be cheap and the exchange rate will be a pain in the behind for those in the US. Won't matter much to me, since I don't have the space for this array in any case. However, I'll Andy Ikin would be willing to sell the phasing unit as a stand alone item, and that might interest me if it turned out to work well on SW.
My guess is it is designed for peak performance on MW and the tropical bands, though.

FLASH: Could be unprecedented event for Jamaica; direct hit with 150 MPH sustained winds [topping Hurricane Gilbert's 135 MPH winds [Sept. 1988] and Charlie's 100 MPH winds in 1951]... Population of Jamaica is nearly 3 million people; and is 49th most densely-populated country in world...

Will never happen - iBiquity is running out of time:

"IBiquity Digital's Make-or-Break Point Approaches" February 2005

http://www.washingtonpost.com/wp-dyn/articles/A58846-2005Feb27.html

The FCC, in the final IBOC Rules, stated that it is up to the marketplace to determine the fate of HD Radio. Nice of you to turn your back on us DX'ers, but I will more than make up for it (I consider this a second-hobby after DX'ing) !

"...but he had fine Egnlish for African man." What makes you think Africans can't speak English? The official language of Ghana is English because it is a former British colony! In fact, English is the official language or is spoken widely in many countries in Africa - Nigeria, the Gambia, Sierra Leone, Liberia, etc. Get with it.

I don't think Ghana has used 5617.

I have recently located a friend from those days and the same town who may also shed some light on this question. Also I do remember lots of interference from medical equipment at the local hospital, especially diathermy machines, which may possibly be the source since the signals were _very_ strong, broadband, and at many frequencies.

I am on 13927 all day and have heard occasional net prep traffic in advance

I'm guessing that what was heard was 'Gander Radio', in Newfoundland on the frequency of 5616.
This is an aero frequency.

You need a license for that :-)

No transceiver offers the so-called "sync" reception that minimizes signal fade. Many transceivers also offer only a hundred or so memories. So strictly-receivers have their advantages.

Otherwise, the receiver-side of transceivers is as good or better than most receivers.

Unless you're seriously interested in studying for a ham license, which can take a certain amount of time, depending on how good a memory you have, you'll have no need for a transmitter, assuming you want to remain legal.

Your best bet would be to spend a couple hundred on a good Sony or whatever receiver, and if you like what you hear on the ham bands, study up for your license. It's a whole 'nother critter, pricing-wise, to get into decent transceivers.

I forgot to add that DRM suffers similar problems as HD does where it is no real improvement over analog. The consortium made similar mistakes of trying to use the same band space as analog, not using enough bandwidth to improve both signal reception and fidelity and so what might be a good reason to buy an HD or DRM receiver? There is none.

Marketing without a brain or more simply "Frackeltonian Thinking".

The Twelve Commandments of Flaming
Make things up about your opponent: It's important to make your lies sound true. Preface your argument with the word "clearly." Example: "Clearly, Fred Flooney is a liar, and a dirtball to boot."

Be an armchair psychologist: You're a smart person. You've heard of Freud. You took a psychology course in college. Clearly, you're qualified to psychoanalyze your opponent. Example: "Polly Purebread, by using the word 'zucchini' in her posting, shows she has a bad case of penis envy."

Cross-post your flames: Everybody on the 'Net is just waiting for the next literary masterpiece to leave your terminal! From the Apple II Roundtable to X-10 Powerhouse Roundtable, they're all holding their breath until your next flame. Therefore, post everywhere.

Conspiracies abound: If everybody's against you, the reason can't possibly be that you're a shhead. There's obviously a conspiracy against you, and you will be doing the entire 'Net a favor by exposing it.

Lawsuit threats: This is the reverse of Rule #4 (sort of like the Yin & Yang of Flaming). Threatening a lawsuit is always considered to be in good form. Example: "By saying that I've posted to the wrong group, Bertha has libeled me, slandered me, and sodomized me. See you in court, Bertha."

Force them to document their claims: Even if Harry Hoinkus states outright that he likes tomato sauce on his pasta, you should demand documentation. If Newsweek hasn't written an article on Harry's pasta preferences, then Harry's obviously lying.

Use foreign phrases: French is good, but Latin is the lingua franca of Flaming. You should use the words "ad hominem" at least three times per article. Other favorite Latin phrases are "ad nauseum," "veni, vidi, vici," and "fettuccini alfredo."

Tell 'em how smart you are: Why use intelligent arguments to convince them you're smart when all you have to do is tell them? State that you're a member of Mensa, or Mega, or Dorks of America. Tell them the scores you received on every exam since high school. Example: "I got an 800 on my SATs, LSATs, GREs, MCATs, and I can also spell the word 'premeiotic'."

Accuse your opponent of censorship: It is your right as an American citizen to post whatever the hell you want to the 'Net (as guaranteed by the 37th Amendment, I think). Anybody who tries to limit your cross-posting or move a Flame War to email is either a communist, a fascist, or both.

Doubt their existence: You've never actually seen your opponent, have you? And since you're the center of the universe, you should have seen them by now, shouldn't you? Therefore, THEY DON'T EXIST! This is the beauty of Flamers' logic.

Lie, cheat, steal, leave the toilet seat up.

When in doubt, insult: If you forget the other 11 rules, remember this one. At some point during your wonderful career as a Flamer you will undoubtedly end up in a Flame War with somebody who is better than you. This person will expose your lies, tear apart your arguments, and make you look generally like a bozo. At this point, there's only one thing to do . . . INSULT THE DIRTBAG! Example: "Oh yeah? Well, your mother does strange things with vegetables."

A 'phased' Band Transfer Plan allocating 100 KHz Section of a Shortwave Band = 4 DRM Transmissions* per Hour per Band and Adding 50~ 100 KHz per Year wouldhave made a better POA - imho ~ RHF

* DRM eats up more Band-Width ~ 25 kHz and should be phased-in without interference to the Analog Stations.

I just picked up an Aimor TR-105, for very little money. I have seen these before, but didn't know much about them. To my delight when I received it, it was in extremely fine condition and after the usual "clean and lube" it is pretty close to mint. Best of all, it works perfectly.

I am quite literally amazed at the way this radio performs. I haven't done a real side-by-side comparison, but at first use it seems to be on par with my two best analog radios, the RF-2200 and ICF-5900W. Seriously. I didn't expect much, especially for the price I paid, but this is a GREAT radio. And not only does it seem to be as sensitive and selective as the Panasonic and Sony, it has excellent sound. It's also very well constructed and was easy to take apart and put back together.

So my question is this: Has anyone else here ever had one of these? And do you happen to have, or know where I can get the service manual? I've Googled the hell out of it, and searched all the usual manual sites, but cannot find it in any form anywhere. Although the radio works great, since this is a "keeper" I'd like to have the manual, and of course I wouldn't mind tweaking the alignment as I do for every other radio. Any help out there?

I own a Panasonic RF-2600 radio I bought new back in the 1980s.Not long after I bought the radio, it started drifting.Tune the big tuning knob to a station, let go of it and you can see the knob move a little bit, only way I can keep it on station is to wedge a piece of cardboard under it.And not long after that the radio wouldn't turn on at all unless I shave down a piece of little plastic to use as a wedge and push the wedge between the earphone jack and the plastic cabinet, other than that, I have never used the earphone jack before, it started acting buggy on it's own.Not one of Panasonic's better radios, in my opinion.Panasonic should have called those radios the Wedge Radio.

I suspect that what was heard was an international airliner with a pilot who is a native of Africa or the Caribbean. International airliners often have pilots who do not have flawless American English.
It is typical American parochialism to assume that every airplane is flown by an American. I would think that Gander ground would have Canadian accents, but they deal with pilots from all over the world.

This is close to the ultimate hurricane nightmare scenario. We've already had New Orleans wiped out. Jamaican buildings are flimsy and are poorly suited to withstand a 150 mph storm. Some Jamaicans live in shanties. In my mind the ultimate worst case would be a Cat 5 on top of Havana, where all the buildings are rickety and crumbling away as it is. The Cubans wouldn't get everybody out in time, and the city would likely be completely wiped off the face of the earth. Something similar may happen to Montego Bay, Jamaica. Dean is headed for Cancun and Northern Mexico, two other places where buildings are weak.

Time to liven things up.

What accessory have you either purchased or built that's yielded the biggest bang for the buck (or for your hours of labor)?

In my case it's been a Timewave ANC-4, which I've harped on here before. Most effective weapon against local noise ever. I can't imagine ever again living in an urban or highly populated area and not using a unit like this. If it disappoints some folks, it's most likely because they give up too quickly in the search for the best noise antenna.

Second place would probably go to my Clearspeech DSP module, though to tell the truth I don't use it much since getting the ANC-4.

1442. Over the air HDTV: report

Source record: 121125

I recently plunked down $650 to be able to get HDTV. That includes $290 Polaroid 19" LCD HDTV, $180 Samsung HDTV set top box, $70 for an HDTV indoor antenna, and a whopping $65 for a special cable called an HDMI cable (in addition to tax). I watched some OTA HDTV tonight, and was disappointed. Many programs are not yet in full HDTV, including ABC World News. This results in blank space on the sides. Some commercials are in standard def, which on HDTV makes additional blank space on the top and bottom, giving an effect of the signal "floating" on a sea of darkness.

Furthermore, the signal was jerky, like streaming internet video, with frequent pixelation. I even lost the signal for a few seconds, after which I checked to see if there was a "trip wire" in the settings that I could turn down or off. I once had a Panasonic TV that would give you a blue screen if the signal got too low. That I could turn off; this I can't. If the signal gets too low with the Samsung STB, it will give you a "weak signal" screensaver.

Some stations are squeezing two signals on one HDTV channel. In two cases, the second channel is a 24/7 weather channel with local weather reports; in a third case the Fox station has a music video service called "The Tube" on their second channel. The PBS station has an amazing THREE stations on one channel! One is their regular channel, one is a second channel that is usually available only on cable, and a third is V-me, a PBS service for Latinos in Spanish. The Univision (Spanish language) channel supposedly has an HDTV service, but there's nothing there.

Some reports have said that HDTV from different cities is available in Sacramento; my antenna won't pick it up. I suppose that if I had an outdoor antenna on a pole I'd get it. Two channels, including a local weather channel and the HDTV signal of a second tier station, are weak and keep cutting out. If this is HDTV after years of government pressure and millions spent, it's clearly not ready for prime time so to speak. Hopefully by switch time they'll have ironed out the bugs.

My setup at first wouldn't pick up several stations with the slew buttons; I had to download an HDTV channel list off the net, then manually enter those stations into memory. Even more confusing, the Samsung box lists channels not by their HDTV assignment, but by their standard def channel, a hyphen, and a subchannel, ex. 6-1, 6-2, and 6-3 instead of Channel 53. You can USE the HD channel, but it switches you right back to this hyphenated system on the display. I suppose this is to ease the transition, and to allow subchannels, but you are left not only with two channel numbers for one station but something less than true HDTV, since stations force two or three services onto one HD channel. I doubt that was the FCC's intention.

I suspect that when people realize that they're being forced into HDTV-with beaucoup dollar amounts required to switch-only to get standard def, they'll be mad. I'm an electronics geek anyway, so for me it was worth it. But Joe Sixpack will spend this sort of outlay and find his HD experience reduced so that his local TV station can bring him 24 hour weather or music videos, and start talking a blue streak.

I haven't bought it yet, but a bigger bang will be guaranteed.

I plan on a five KW generator being driven by this thing. Extremely slow 650 rpm engines last a very long time. The ability to burn recycled vegetable oil is a plus..

AI,

Yes the complexities and cost of Over-the-Air {Free} HDTV will force many Americans to say DUH ! and simply use DirectTV or Comcast Cable TV to 'acquire' their HDTV "Fix" :o)
Recently set-up a new LCD HDTV with a new small out-side
HDTV Antenna with a Built-in-Rotor for a Friend in Oakland, CA (SF Bay Area) and it works OK for her TV Viewing needs.
HDTV Antenna-Rotor Combo
HDTV ANTENNA => http://cgi.ebay.com/_W0QQitemZ260150283040
Note - Most of the new HDTV Channels are UHF 14-83 and only require the smaller UHF 'size' TV Antennas -but- these are also more directional : Hence the Built-in-Rotor. For the SF Bay Area there are three major HDTV Broadcast Transmission Sites :
1 - Sutro Tower
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Sutro_Tower http://www.mountsutro.org/index.php/2001/09/26/11/2 - Mount San Bruno http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/San_Bruno_Mountain
3 - Monument Peak / Mount Allison {East of Fremont~Milpitas, CA} http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Monument_Peak http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Image:Milpitas_view2.JPG http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Mount_Allison http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Image:Mission-Peak-Snow.jpg Point the HDTV Antenna at one of these three points and Enjoy HDTV ! :o)
Eventually when I return to Oakland, CA - I most likely will put Three Fixed HDTV Antennas up in the Air about 26-34 Feet with one pointed at each of the three HDTV Transmitter Sites and simply use an A-B-C Switch to select the Antenna for the HDTV Channel-Station being viewed. Once done this should last for 10~30 Years.
- - - Oops Got To Buy A HDTV Too ! :o)
Here is a List of the 'present' HDTV {Digital Television}

Channels for the San Francisco {SF} Bay Area SF HDTV => http://www.choisser.com/channels.html
WARNING - There are 548 Days until the Analog TV Shutdown.
(OT) : Over-the-Air {Free} HDTV Report
- - - Get a HDTV Antenna-Rotor Combo - - - My Advice is to buy one of the new HDTV Antennas with the Built-in-Rotor and mount it out-side and Up-in-the-Air.
Here are a three Examples listed on eBay :
http://cgi.ebay.com/_W0QQitemZ190142759024

Not seen to often on eBay is one of the Kiwa Pocket Loop
Antennas : The Kiwa Pocket Loop is an Air-Core Loop Antenna designed to enhance the reception of 'portable' Shortwave Radios. The Tuning Range {Coverage} is from 530 kHz to 23 MHz in Four Bands. Signal transfer to the Radio is done by a special Coupler or by Direct Cable Connection. This is a small 'portable' {Pocket} Shortwave Antenna that also covers the AM/MW Band.

DX Ace,

How Long is the Length of your Coax Cable run for this Eavesdropper Dipole Antenna into the House ?

What is your Eavesdropper Dipole Antenna's Mounting Height at the Center and the Tips ?

Did you consider to Eavesdropper Dipole Antenna

Around 60' or so.

Only about 16', which is 7' higher than my other antennas.

My first Eavesdropper had the 72 Ohm feed back in the 80's.

Well, if things like antennas and receivers count as accessories, sure. I don't think these are accessories for most people, though. In my own case, I find that shortwave listening is pretty futile without a receiver, or an antenna.

It's almost always a mistake for a new hobbyist to buy a tabletop radio, whether receiver or transceiver. There are many reasons why this is so, but key among them is that choosing the right HF rig involves knowledge of your operating modes and preferences which generally isn't known until after you've done quite a bit of listening and figured out what features and modes matter most to you. Then you may realize you picked the "wrong" radio, and you're out a hefty sum of cash wishing you had a different rig. Another key reason is that desktop receivers and transceivers usually require a good outdoor antenna to operate at all. A portable receiver can operate off its built-in whip antenna, but most desktop radios will require that you string up an antenna. There are few disappointments from gear worse than spending $1000, $2000, perhaps more on a super high-end receiver or transceiver and discovering that it's stone-deaf to shortwave signals because you did not plan for a decent antenna system.

A portable is a much better choice to start with unless you already have a ham license of the correct class to transmit on HF.

Find a local bookstore with "Passport to World Band Radio", check out their reviews for radios in your price range. Basically, the majority of decent SW radios cost at least $100, but there are several exceptional models under $300, so there's no reason to spend more than that. A $100-$300 budget is where I'd recommend, if that isn't too much to lay out.

A good choice should:

1) have three or more stars in Passport's ratings
2) It must receive continuously from 3 - 30 Mhz or more with no gaps
3) It must have digital synthesis and digital read-out (avoid analog

dial radios or radios with analog tuning and a frequency counter to make it look like it's digital, a trick found among the ultra-cheap models)
4) It must have a jack to accept an outdoor antenna
5) It should support single sideband reception (USB and LSB) unless you're absolutely certain you will never be interested in utility or ham monitoring.

Now, if a ham or other friend offers to sell you a highly-rated ham rig or desktop SWL radio used that meets your requirements, then you might go for it. Ask around for opinions on the rig. If the price is right, you might go for it. :) Just don't forget that desktop rigs mean you should have an outdoor antenna.

Some channels will NEVER be "HDTV". The system only ALLOWS for HDTV. The stations have the choice of either a single HDTV channel, OR up to FIVE lower resolution channels. I can see most network channels running HD only during prime time or sporting events for the most part, while leaving the option open to run other services during the day.

Furthermore, the signal was jerky, like streaming internet video, with

You will need an outdoor antenna to get a good usable digital signal. Where rabbit ears, etc. type indoor antennas can normally get a usable (though often poor) picture, they will not work well for a digital stream.

Again, it's not HDTV, it's DIGITAL TV, with the OPTION for the station to use the entire bandwidth for an HDTV signal.

Joe Sixpack most likely doesn't even notice a difference between HD and Analog (though there is one, most don't notice or care... after working as a repair tech for decades, I've seen it more than a few times where a customer would gripe about how their picture looked worse after I changed a CRT... of course it did.. with the 3/4 dead CRT that was replaced, they couldn't see the ghosting or the snow. :)

Yo Steve. i feel my best buy was a pair of Wellbrooke loops. both the 330S, and the 1530+. great loops, work terrific at my qth. as other-wise, accessory here, a Palstar- MW550P. MW and LW tuner/preamp.

in line with the alpha-delta DX-Altra. when the noise is low it really works for me.

Good luck with the "Polaroid"...

I knew 3 people that had a Polaroid VCR/DVD player combo and none of them lasted for more than 6 months. Service and parts were unobtainable.

Interesting site and interesting story that they tell. It looks like an Indian (Chinese) copy of a circa 1900-1920 engine. I marvel that you can still buy a new "antique".

Yeah, ditto on the ANC-4. I use it here pretty consistently with a Wellbrook and random wire. It did take a moderate degree of patience and experimentation in determining a sufficient sense antenna and learning to effectively utilize the device, but the initial investment is quite worth the effort.

Depending on where you live in Sacramento, signals can be very weak and require and outdoor antenna. Most stations broadcast their signal from Walnut Grove. I lived in Sacramento for 23 years and fully understand the reception problems there. If you live in South Sacramento, you are more apt to have a strong enough signal to use an indoor antenna for a digital signal, but even then, what works in one house may not work in the house next door. With a properly installed outdoor antenna, WITH rotor, you should have NO problem getting all the Sacramento stations perfect, AS WELL AS some of the San Francisco stations. This will usually require a large UHF-VHF tv antenna.
Note: There is no such thing as an hdtv antenna. ALL television antennas are hdtv-analog compatible. Another factor in Sacramento is antenna height. Look around. You will see THOUSANDS of tv antennas mounted on 20-ft to 40-ft masts with a rotor, on a roof top.

I live in Clovis, California (just outside Fresno), 180 miles from Sacramento, and get hdtv on channels 3, 13, and 58 almost every day, using a Channel Master 1160A antenna mounted with rotor on a 20-ft mast. Some days I also get channels 10, 29, and 40 from Sacramento.
Reception is usually strong enough in the mornings and at night. I have also, on occasion, received hdtv stations from the bay area, 200 miles from me.

That's the bonus with hdvt/digital tv. MORE program choices. In future years, you may find that channel 40.1 is regular FOX, 40.2 might be FOX NEWS CHANNEL, 40.3 might be FOX MOVIE CHANNEL, etc.

Of course your indoor antenna won't pick them up. But with the proper outdoor antenna, the stations you pick up will be perfect - no snow.
Generally speaking, whatever worked for analog reception will work for digital reception, AS LONG AS the analog reception was good, not weak. So IF you got, for example, channel 2 in San Francisco, snow-free with an indoor antenna, you would probably also get their hdtv signal using the SAME indoor antenna.

Be careful with these out-dated internet lists of hdtv channels. I have found that the stations are still experimenting and have changed channels on me at least once. Most Sacramento and Fresno stations have gone back to using their analog channel numbers instead of the ones posted on the internet. Unlike most cities, both Sacramento and Fresno are using both UHF AND VHF channels for hdtv.

In Fresno, our signals are much stronger than you get in Sacramento, yet my mothers new digital tv got no signal using the BEST non-amplified indoor antenna made - a 2-bay bowtie with screen. I got her an amplified antenna, and now all but one of the Fresno hdtv stations come in, but still occasionally she loses a signal for a few seconds. In general, indoor antennas are NOT a good choice for a digital signal.

I think you can build up quite a good picture based on what someone says and on their posting patterns. I don't think "The Internet" (capitals, no

I explained that one, but I don't mind explaining it again (you don't

"symptoms" are such a perfect fit to the textbook is because the people causing the campaign "fitted me up" in such a way that what they did would resemble the symptoms of schizophrenia. Hence TV, radio, other media, people in the streets etc. By a fortunate coincidence (for them) these mthods of harassment are the ones which offer easiest channels of access (for them).

It's really quite neat. All it takes is for people to start believing that the "symptoms" aren't symptoms but reality, though, and the house of

But that's the way real abuse works, too. People interject words and phrases into what they say which they know will have meaning for the listener.

And sometimes, they make it obvious. The very first evening of my job in Oxford, we went for a drink with the technical director, and a couple of other employees. The TD said in an "as-if" aside to one of the others,
"Is this the bloke who's been on TV?" (he said it directly in front of me, and obviously meant mke to hear him saying it). The other person replied, "Yes, I think so".

I think the subtext of what the TD said was "Why are they bothering with him? He's so insignificant, why would they possibly want to spend the resources going after him and putting all that expensive technology in his home, when there must be much better targets?". The Technical Director was given to sometimes disrespecting people, you see, and in my case he couldn't see the point of anyone expending money on harassing me.

"Unprecedented" hits the nail on the head. It _is_ unprecedented, but we have only just reached the technical stage at which it is feasible, and we know video-spying is done to other people (NB the Diana-Hewitt episode) and is a routine tool of security agencies.

Perhaps what is unprecedented is not the technical side, but the social manipulation of many people by a concealed element in what other countries would be called the secret police. The most disturbing element is the degree to which people allow themselves to be unquestioningly manipulated by an evil element within the state.

It is in the same style as his other pieces, but it's so close to what to assume that someone told Levin about the meeting, hammed it up a little bit and motivated him to write that article.

Look at the parallels;

1. "madman running loose about London"

2. it's about a meeting which took place recently

3. the police are called (he must be controlled, however much that

4. he might be violent, approach with caution, yes we're laughing but really we're afraid of him, or is it perhaps our own propaganda that we're letting manipulate us

5. he "bursts into tears, and swears it's all true - and it is" a very exaggerated impression of the conclusion of that meeting

Don't worry if you don't believe me, neither my friend to whom I explained this nor my GP believe me either (until the friend found out otherwise!). If someone just presented this to you as I am presenting it now then I wouldn't find it credible (most likely), so it's not until you actually find out it's true that you can find it credible. And by then it's too late, because they've got you in their trap and explained how
"funny" the abuse is.

"symptoms" are such a perfect fit to the textbook is because the people causing the campaign "fitted me up" in such a way that what they did would resemble the symptoms of schizophrenia. Hence TV, radio, other media, people in the streets etc. By a fortunate coincidence (for them) these mthods of harassment are the ones which offer easiest channels of access (for them).

It's really quite neat. All it takes is for people to start believing that the "symptoms" aren't symptoms but reality, though, and the house of cards collapses in a heap. And there are _lots_ of people now who knoiw full well what has gone on.

But that's the way real abuse works, too. People interject words and phrases into what they say which they know will have meaning for the listener.

And sometimes, they make it obvious. The very first evening of my job in Oxford, we went for a drink with the technical director, and a couple of other employees. The TD said in an "as-if" aside to one of the others,
"Is this the bloke who's been on TV?" (he said it directly in front of me, and obviously meant mke to hear him saying it). The other person replied, "Yes, I think so".

I think the subtext of what the TD said was "Why are they bothering with him? He's so insignificant, why would they possibly want to spend the resources going after him and putting all that expensive technology in his home, when there must be much better targets?". The Technical Director was given to sometimes disrespecting people, you see, and in my case he couldn't see the point of anyone expending money on harassing me.

"Unprecedented" hits the nail on the head. It _is_ unprecedented, but we have only just reached the technical stage at which it is feasible, and we know video-spying is done to other people (NB the Diana-Hewitt episode) and is a routine tool of security agencies.

Perhaps what is unprecedented is not the technical side, but the social manipulation of many people by a concealed element in what other countries would be called the secret police. The most disturbing element is the degree to which people allow themselves to be unquestioningly manipulated by an evil element within the state.

Look, I don't expect a TV from Wal-Mart to be that great anyway. I needed a legit HDTV, and this was the cheapest. Unlike a VCR/DVD machine, an LCD TV doesn't have any moving parts. Besides, once you get below $500 or so, everything is made in China, and it's all pretty much similar quality.

AI - Most of the Under-$750-LCD-HDTVs have a Brightness of ~500 cd/m2 with a relatively good Contrast Ratio of 800:1

While the Over-$1250-HDTVs still have a Brightness of ~500 cd/m2 with a relatively much better Contrast Ratio of 2000:1

The 'quality' of the Picture "definition" is usually seen in the Picture Contrast : Black picture background vice off-black -and- relatively Brighter Colors and Color Intensity.

Note - Screen Size and Pixel Resolution being equal.

Mike - Yes it should have read 'can't -but- then I am Listening

If I was Survivor man, I would wear an Army steel pot for boiling water.I would tote several one half inch three foot long steel/iron pipes and screw them together for finding water in the desert.I would tote two metal canteens half full of burnt wood charcoal and fill them up with water and chug a lug on down in case I got awfull sick,,,, and take a giant poop afterwards.It worked for one of our guys in Vietnam.I can show Bear Grylls and Les Stroud how to survive.

I use a MAC-Mini attached to my ELGATO EyeTV 500 HD converter with the Samsung 213T 21 inch display.
The nearest transmitter is some 30 miles from my house, with most of them 50 miles.
Like you, I was initially disappointed that most of the stations broadcast 2 or 3 channels per channel, but I like the fact that the picture comes in crystal clear. On my ABC affiliate "Lost" really comes alive as compared to the analog signal and in 5.1 surround sound.
I also use the MAC-Mini to record and burn the DVD of the shows I like.
although I don't have Blue-Ray yet, the computer has to convert it back to regular definition which takes some time, but it looks as good as if I bought the regular DVD from the store.
I normally work Swing-shift so it comes in handy.
I think that if Joe-six-pack where to be shown what is possible with the new system then he wouldn't scream so much.

That's because analog is not in the native resolution of the set. If it were, you likely would not notice near as much difference. The convertor (in the display) must take the (nominally 640x480) a/d conversion and multiply it it to the native resolution of the display (1028x1660?), resulting in a very ugly, pixellated display.

I used to live in Paradise, a few miles from you. We put a large UHF yagi up in a tree and aimed it for San Francisco. We could get a fair picture in the morning and evening, but nothing but snow during the day. Because of a mountain intervening, we really didn't get much signal at all from Sacto.
Our best signal was from "Perfect 36".

Making the "Protected" Antenna-to-Radio Connection
http://groups.yahoo.com/group/Shortwave-SWL-Antenna/message/14289

At least for 'portable' AM/FM Shortwave Radios that have an External Antenna Connection and using an Out-Side Antenna; the Antenna-to-Radio "GIZMOE" 'Connector' Box seems to work
OK and incorporate many of the items that you mentioned.

Hi Joe and All:

I was taught the NE2 thing by an old ham when I first got into servicing. But then the solid state stuff began showing up with fried RF transistors. It was apparent that the neons didn't fire until it was too late - good for hollow state, but not transistors. So I always put a 1/4meg or 1/2 meg resistor across the input for a static bleeder. But in the case of a nearby strike, apparently the emf would surge past the resistor, So back went the NE2 along with the resistor. Maybe it's me, but I don't trust Transorbs or Surgistors. I now put in a lower value resistor, like a 5 or 10K, in series with a coil, tuned to the lowest receiving frequency, and across that an NE2. Maybe it's dumb luck, or maybe it's good practice, but I haven't had any of those radios fail since ... mine included - knock on wood (sound of me rapping my knuckles on my head).

I once had a little mini-box on the shelf, which fed my long wire to the shack's switch box. It had 3 switches: antenna shunt, resistor in/out, NE2 in/out. If I was brave enough to disconnect the switch box, and leave the mini-box inline, I could watch the bulb flash - bright and often - under certain weather conditions. More than once I got zapped by handling that antenna connector during a dry snowfall. It's more fun to watch the flashing than to conduct the static with your body. Better yet, it's better to keep the bleeder resistor inline and not play with the little blue sparks.

Now, the outdoor balun does all the bleeding
- much better arrangement.

Okay, jes thought I'd share that.

and after waiting 20 minutes, then 1 full hour of work with Vonage

NOTHING was operable..

they just read from a script;

Check on the linksys website; maybe they can help

Burr likely doesn't have access to the AT&T VoIP system, which IIRC is only available to domestic users. Burr is in the Philippines, and Vonage will sell their service to anyone who can give them a US address, and the system is available worldwide.

Paradise is well over 250 miles from Clovis/Fresno. Fresno is between San Francisco and Los Angeles whereas Paradise is Near Chico, or even closer to Magalia, California.

When I lived in Sacramento, I got analog channels from Chico, Redding, Reno, San Francisco, San Jose, Salinas, Concord, and sometimes even from Fresno. With the SAME antenna, I would expect to also get the digital signals from those same stations.

You probably had a sunrise/sunset effect, if I call it something Ace will scream at me so I'll just leave it at that. Channel 36 put out a powerful signal for 20 years until the early 2000s. When I was a kid in the 1980s a standard tabletop rabbit ears antenna with a loop would pick it up quite easily in Roseville, 140 miles from San Jose. Even if San Francisco stations weren't coming in, 36 would come in. Then around five years ago they abruptly vanished. I suspect that the old transmitter croaked and the station replaced it with a much less muscular unit.

I always thought it was a shame that 36 had such crappy programming for the signal they put out. They were an old fashioned independent station-lots of old movies and cheap reruns. 36 had very little self-produced programming. The self-produced local show had largely disappeared from most TV (except PBS, and even they got most of their stuff from WGBH) by 36's heyday. The advent of satellites and VCRs meant that stations could fill airtime without resorting to producing much of their own stuff.

It also meant that the stations could operate 24 hours, instead of shutting down after the 11 pm news and going back on at 7 am. By the late 80s stations were signing off only once a week for transmitter maintenance. A few years after that, they perfected the science of staying on while doing maintenance, and all TV became 24 hours. I used to love staying up late in the summer (when there was no school) and watching the stations sign off Sunday night for maintenance. By then it was one of the few ways they could express themselves. Channel 40 in Sacramento had 2 minute opinion programs for a long time, until people got too dumb to tell opinion from regular programming or to recognize opinion when they saw it (what's this?), and the station was rendered unable to express management's opinions.

By the way, I decided to manually enter EVERY SINGLE CHANNEL into the TV to see what popped up, and got a couple surprises. Univision is on channel 18, just like the list said, although weak. There's a Christian station on HD Channel 48 that's not on the list. Apparently it's the HD service of analog channel 29, which once ran a short lived family programming network called Pax. Today, it's running a network called Ion-on a mind boggling FOUR channels. One is Ion, one is "qubo", apparently a Christian children's network, one is Ion Life, and a fourth is "Worship", apparently Christian music videos. Channel 13 runs a second channel for sporting events.

Entering the analog channel into the box will cause the first subchannel of the HD service of the analog station to pop up-IF you have already entered the HD channel in. I got no signal on channel 29 until I manually went to HD channel 48. The Samsung box goes up to channel 69, even though I read once that HD only went up to 62. If you look at the HD channel list, it turns the order of stations that had been accepted for 60 years on its head. There are very few VHF channels anywhere, and in Sacramento, Univision is on channel 18 while ABC has been exiled to channel 61. It's gonna result in a lot of disorientation until people adapt. But I'm the guy who was thrown for a loop when CBS and ABC switched channels with each other in Sacramento, so what do I know. :)

Americans were the same people who screamed when the country tried to switch to metric, so I don't know how well HDTV is gonna be swallowed.
The expense alone will give people sticker shock. Our local cable system is not keeping up-they only have four local HD channels, instead of the smorgasbord you can find over the air. If Comcast doesn't get its act together they're gonna lose customers to DirecTV and plain old antennas. DirecTV plans 100 digital channels. Comcast charges an ADDITIONAL $10 to get HD, and then offers a grand total of about 10 channels. I can get more than that with an antenna, when subchannels are factored in. Maybe Comcast is counting on their current business model, which is to offer internet where AT&T can't offer DSL, then strongarm internet subscribers into coughing up for TV. I suspect that as the telcos and the cable companies get more and more aggressive in monopolizing the internet that people will switch to satellite internet services like Wild Blue, which today mainly cater to rural folk away from DSL and cable.

Jamaicans are refusing to leave their homes for evacuation centers despite the government's begging. Looting is the excuse, but when the ENTIRE ISLAND has been thrashed, who gives a fuck about looting? It's like in New Orleans after Katrina-people didn't want to abandon their personal possessions, only to find themselves stuck in a nightmare with no way out. They lost their stuff anyway, and a few lost their lives.

I just got a note from Vonage after three days, I'll try their way and see

I think you can build up quite a good picture based on what someone says

I explained that one, but I don't mind explaining it again (you don't mind having it explained again to you, do you now?). The reason my "symptoms" are such a perfect fit to the textbook is because the people causing the campaign "fitted me up" in such a way that what they did would resemble the symptoms of schizophrenia. Hence TV, radio, other media, people in the streets etc. By a fortunate coincidence (for them) these mthods of harassment are the ones which offer easiest channels of access (for them).

It's really quite neat. All it takes is for people to start believing that the "symptoms" aren't symptoms but reality, though, and the house of cards collapses in a heap. And there are _lots_ of people now who knoiw full well what has gone on.

Picture the scene at the airport;
"I arrest you for being Mike Corley and mailbombing people"

"But my name isn't Corley. Who he? Mailbombing isn't illegal is it? You'd have to lock up a lot of people if sending annoying email was a crime"

"Er....."

: context-free parts of articles, conversations and things-on-the-TV and
: assume they are meant for you. Mike, this is called paranoia.

But that's the way real abuse works, too. People interject words and phrases into what they say which they know will have meaning for the listener.

And sometimes, they make it obvious. The very first evening of my job in Oxford, we went for a drink with the technical director, and a couple of other employees. The TD said in an "as-if" aside to one of the others,
"Is this the bloke who's been on TV?" (he said it directly in front of me, and obviously meant mke to hear him saying it). The other person replied, "Yes, I think so".

I think the subtext of what the TD said was "Why are they bothering with him? He's so insignificant, why would they possibly want to spend the resources going after him and putting all that expensive technology in his home, when there must be much better targets?". The Technical Director was given to sometimes disrespecting people, you see, and in my case he couldn't see the point of anyone expending money on harassing me.

"Unprecedented" hits the nail on the head. It _is_ unprecedented, but we have only just reached the technical stage at which it is feasible, and we know video-spying is done to other people (NB the Diana-Hewitt episode) and is a routine tool of security agencies.

Perhaps what is unprecedented is not the technical side, but the social manipulation of many people by a concealed element in what other countries would be called the secret police. The most disturbing element is the degree to which people allow themselves to be unquestioningly manipulated by an evil element within the state.

It is in the same style as his other pieces, but it's so close to what to assume that someone told Levin about the meeting, hammed it up a little bit and motivated him to write that article.

Look at the parallels;

1. "madman running loose about London"

4. he might be violent, approach with caution, yes we're laughing but really we're afraid of him, or is it perhaps our own propaganda that we're letting manipulate us

5. he "bursts into tears, and swears it's all true - and it is" a very exaggerated impression of the conclusion of that meeting

Don't worry if you don't believe me, neither my friend to whom I explained this nor my GP believe me either (until the friend found out otherwise!). If someone just presented this to you as I am presenting it now then I wouldn't find it credible (most likely), so it's not until you actually find out it's true that you can find it credible. And by then it's too late, because they've got you in their trap and explained how
"funny" the abuse is.

1572. Changes in Meatpacking Industry Remake Rural U.S. Towns in New Immigration Frontier

Want to stop the Mexican hordes from invading? Go vegetarian and stop financing their invasion. Every time you purchase meat you are giving your money to the corporate elites (Tyson, Con-Agra, Cargill, et.al.) who are bringing them here. Corporations who don't give a damn about you, your family or the nation. The only thing they do give a damn about is $$$$$$$$$$. If they don't make a profits they close down plants, no plants, no jobs, no invaders.

But you can't do that can you stupid. Because it would require a bit of sacrifice on your part..."what give up my burgers and sausage and chicken...I can't do that boo hoo!"

You are getting what you deserve you hypocritical weaklings.

Meatpacking Remakes Rural U.S. Towns
Sunday August 19, 4:45 am ET
By Roxana Hegeman, Associated Press Writer
Changes in Meatpacking Industry Remake Rural U.S. Towns in New Immigration Frontier

DODGE CITY, Kan. (AP) -- This is the home of Wyatt Earp and Bat Masterson, of Boot Hill and the Long Branch Saloon, of cattle drives, buffalo hunters and the romance of the American West. But that's the Dodge City of yesteryear.

Today, downtown has Mexican restaurants and stores more reminiscent of shops south of the border than Main Street Kansas. The city of 25,176 even has a new nickname: "Little Mexico."

Signs advertising "Envios a Mexico" -- retail outlets where workers send hard-earned wages back home to Mexico and other countries -- hang outside many Dodge City stores. Houses occasionally fly Mexican flags, whipped hard by the prairie winds.

Dodge City ... Cactus, Texas ... Fort Morgan, Colo. ... Postville, Iowa: For more than a hundred years, this region provided a bucolic idyll and a ready example of American life and values. Today, iconic farm towns struggle with a new economic model, one that requires a workforce that is poor and overwhelmingly Hispanic.

It's not easy. The immigrants who have flooded these communities are stretching schools and law enforcement. Still, at a time when other rural towns are slowly dying, Dodge City and meatpacking towns like it boast thriving economies.

"If these people can get past the gauntlet of the border, we welcome them here with open arms," said Ford County Sheriff Dean Bush, Dodge City's modern-day counterpart to Wyatt Earp.

But many of his fellow citizens seem lost. Randy Ford and his wife, Betty, have lived in Dodge City for 35 years. They no longer attend the city's Independence Day events. They can't understand what the singers -- Spanish crooners singing Latin favorites -- are saying.

"We don't go anymore because we don't want to be Mexican," he said. "We want to be American."

In Washington, the debate over immigration sometimes seems to be a clash of extremes. But here, in the wide-open spaces where one-dimensional economies stoke small towns, there is plenty of room for ambivalence.

HOW IT GOT THIS WAY

Just as the arrival of the Santa Fe Railroad here in 1872 brought white settlers to populate the dusty towns and farms of a fledging country, the relocation and consolidation of the meatpacking industry has transformed these icons of the American West. The result: diverse, multicultural communities that challenge breadbasket notions of wheat fields, white fences and even whiter demographics.

The transformation of the nation's meatpacking industry began in 1960 when plants began moving out of cities in favor of their livestock sources in right-to-work states like Kansas. The first big slaughterhouse came to Emporia in the 1960s, followed by plants near Garden City and in Dodge City in the 1980s.

For Dodge City -- famed as the "Queen of the Cowtowns" during its cowboy heyday -- the advent of the slaughter plants seemed a natural fit. Locals have long recognized that the odor of manure here is the smell of money.

"They are a major hub of business and economic activity and a huge employer," said Ted Schroeder, agricultural economist at Kansas State University. "You can't go into those communities without sensing the presence and importance of those large economic facilities. Everything around there is either working with, complementing or part of that industry."

Eventually, mom-and-pop meatpackers were swallowed up by giants like Tyson Foods Inc., Cargill Meat Solutions Corp., Swift & Co. and National Beef Packing Co.

Their massive slaughter plants today routinely sit on the outskirts of rural towns. Huge feedlots stretching at times beyond the horizon now dot the wind-swept prairie where buffalo once grazed.

When the wind blows just so, the stench can be overpowering.

WEIRD ECONOMICS

Arturo Ponce is a U.S. citizen now -- coordinator of the HIV/AIDS prevention program run by the United Methodist Mexican-American Ministries. But it wasn't so long ago that he lived in a dilapidated trailer, just down the street from the Cargill plant in Dodge City.

This, he recently told his 14-year-old son, was where your parents got their start in Kansas. Here, he said, we crowded with 13 other people, four families, into three bedrooms.

"The beef industry is hard work," he said. He would come home to the trailer after each shift drenched in sweat from trying to keep up with the production line. He and his brother-in-law each lost 25 pounds those first three months on the job.

Now, almost 20 years later, the same trailer remains crammed with meatpacking workers coming to and from their shifts.

"It is a cycle that continues to repeat itself," Ponce said. "It is the same story."

The same story: Decent wages are a magnet for poor immigrants. And the wages paid by the meatpackers are decent, though far from extravagant.

The poverty rate in Dodge City plunged from 28 percent in 1980 to 14 percent in 2000. The poverty rate also was halved in Guymon, Okla., where there are an estimated 600,000 head of cattle on farms within 25 miles of the Seaboard Foods plant.

But no one is living high on the hog, or cow. Dodge City's per capita income of $15,538 in 2000 may be an improvement, but it still remains far below the $21,587 national average.

In Cactus, the average per capita income has increased, but only to $8,340. Many who work at the Swift plant in Cactus live in former military barracks or in dilapidated rental trailer homes where yards contain little more than dirt, weeds and rocks.

"A lot of people are working, but working at jobs that don't pay well," said Don Stull, a University of Kansas anthropology professor and industry expert.

It's a hard life. In Cactus, the population is more than 90 percent Latino. There are no doctors or banks. Most plant workers deal only in cash, making them easy targets for theft. As much as 70 percent of offenses in town relate to alcohol use, especially on weekend nights when cars cruise up and down the main drag for hours.

Dodge City grapples with drug trafficking as narcotics flow in across the Mexican border through the Hispanic community. Gangs are a problem, too. But there is some equanimity in a town infamous for its lawless Wild West history.

"Dodge City has always been a pretty wild Western town," said Bush, the sheriff, "and there are days when it still lives up to its name."

GOING TO SCHOOL

Alfredo Villegas was clearly frustrated as he struggled to read an English-language book in a small newcomer class in the Dodge City high school. Villegas, 15, has been in the U.S. for five months and his father works at Cargill.

"I don't know what I want to be," he said, in Spanish. "I may not even graduate."

Just as he struggles with his new language, the public schools are struggling with the new students who have come with families drawn to work in the meatpacking plants. Educators have found themselves grappling with language barriers, academic gaps and poverty.

School districts once troubled with aging and tax-resistant local populations and dwindling school enrollments suddenly had to deal with the crowded classrooms that came with young migrant families; Villegas' modern, sprawling school was built five years ago as enrollments boomed.

Dodge City school officials count 23 different languages spoken by immigrant families, though the town is overwhelmingly Latino.

About 44 percent of students in Dodge City have limited English proficiency, prompting the district to establish a "newcomer program" for immigrant students geared heavily toward language acquisition, and includes help from Spanish-speaking assistants.

Just a decade ago, about 70 percent of Dodge City students were English-speaking whites. Today, that statistic has flipped: about 70 percent of the 5,800 students who now attend Dodge City school are Hispanic, with non-Hispanic whites now comprising nearly 25 percent.

There has been some success. An analysis of high school graduation rates at meatpacking towns nationwide shows improvement between 1980 and 2000: up 9 percent in Dodge City; up 5 percent in Cactus; up 6 percent in Crete, Neb.

Still, graduation rates were below state averages. For example, the graduation rate of slightly over 17 percent in Cactus, Texas, was still well below the state average of nearly 76 percent or the national average of more than 80 percent.

In Postville, Iowa, visitors to Cora B. Darling elementary and middle school are greeted with a world map adorned with red-and-gold foil stars pasted on Russia, Ukraine, Slovakia, Israel, Peru, Costa Rica, Mexico and other nations. Each designates the home country to some of the school's 370 students.

"The biggest population coming in right now are from Guatemala," Postville principal Charlotte Tammel said. "The challenge for us is finding teachers who speak all these languages."

Earlier this year, Dodge City teacher Debby Chipman gathered a small group of her second and third graders for an English lesson. Three of them speak Spanish, one boy speaks Vietnamese, the other boy speaks only Quiche, a Guatemalan dialect.

Even as the schools spread American culture to newcomers, the immigrants reciprocate, infusing their schools with their own cultures.

Everyone on the high school soccer roster in Liberal, Kan. -- players, coaches, trainers and managers -- is Hispanic, and during soccer season in the fall, the ambiance around a Liberal game takes aim at the American stereotype of sweater-clad soccer moms in SUVs.

Though Friday night football still matters in the heartland, soccer clearly has a home here. Shouts of "Aqui, aqui!" blend easily with "Here, here!"

CULTURE CLASHES

On the high plains of northern Colorado, the latest wave of settlers to hit Morgan County has some worried that the character of its largest city -- Fort Morgan, with its neat lawns decorated with gnomes or holiday ornaments -- would be altered beyond recognition.

Cargill operates a slaughterhouse here, employing about 20 percent of the town's population and processing 4,300 head of cattle per day. Morgan County saw its Hispanic population double in the 1990s -- jumping to 8,473 by the 2000 U.S. Census.

More than a century before the meatpackers consolidated and Cargill Inc. set up shop in Morgan County, Germans who had settled the Volga region of Russia arrived here after Czar Alexander II took away their autonomy and made them subject to the military draft.

"It's been a German town for a long time, every morning at 5 o'clock, 5 or 6 o'clock, it's like a cuckoo clock, German ladies out sweeping their sidewalks," said longtime resident Perry Roberts. "And now they're (immigrants) not mowing their lawn, and so they're trying to pass laws to get people to keep up their lawns and not park their car on them."

In 2004, community leaders and businesses began work to establish a group called OneMorgan County to help newcomers learn about health care services, community resources and law enforcement -- and to ease fears among longtime residents.

Postville, Iowa, had long been a meatpacking town, but the old HyGrade slaughterhouse had been shuttered for seven years when New York butcher and entrepreneur Aaron Rubashkin bought it in 1987.

The city has been in transition ever since.

A stream of Hasidic Jews soon followed, providing the executive staff to run the operation and the rabbis needed to slaughter animals in accordance with strict kosher rules.

The first wave of workers required to augment the locals on the payroll were eastern Europeans, immigrants from Bosnia, Poland, Russia and former Soviet Republics who had initially spent time in bigger East Coast cities before moving to Iowa.

But in the last decade, Hispanics have become the majority. The result is that a town that barely covers two square miles is home to people from 24 nationalities speaking 17 languages. In 1990, Postville's population was 1,472; now, it is estimated at more than 2,500, nearly 33 percent foreign-born.

Last year, councilman Jeff Reinhardt caused a stir by taking aim at two of the city's ethnic groups in a letter to the local newspaper. Without naming any group, his targets were clear.

"One group wants to isolate itself ... and wanting a different day for the Sabbath," he wrote. Another "sends money back to foreign countries and brings a lack of respect for our laws and culture, which contributes to unwed mothers, trash in the streets, unpaid bills, drugs, forgery and other crimes."

That's bigotry, cried local religious leaders -- but understandable, they said, in a time of wholesale change.

HERE TO STAY

Shift change at the National Beef complex in Dodge City, and Martin Rosas and his crew are passing out flyers at the entrance, recruiting colleagues to join a union. A plant security officer sits in a nearby vehicle, with a camera.

Rosas, secretary-treasurer of the United Food and Commercial Workers local, seeks a better deal for workers at the nonunion National Beef. "We can no longer witness this kind of treatment for our people," he said.

Rosas, 36, is himself a Mexican immigrant, and now a naturalized citizen. He has watched Dodge City grow more accepting of its Hispanic newcomers.

"We feel more welcome -- we feel at home now," he said.

And more willing to assert themselves.

In Cactus, Hispanics dominate politics. The town's population became predominantly Hispanic by the 1990s, and by the end of that decade, Hispanics began to be elected to the city council.

Now, all but one member is Hispanic.

"Without this plant I don't know what would happen," said Mayor Luis Aguilar, who slipped into the country illegally from Mexico 30 years ago, later became a U.S. citizen, and now owns the town's only grocery store, numerous rental properties and a 575-acre ranch.

Some immigrants come to the American prairie for the jobs, but end up staying for something else. Jose Flores, who calls himself a "Mexican hillbilly," never felt at home in Los Angeles. He was drawn to a meatpacking job in Dodge City because he wanted to raise his growing family in a small town.

When he arrived in 1987, the only Mexican-owned business in town was a secondhand store. Today the town brims with thriving Mexican shops; Flores owns a restaurant in nearby Spearville and a real estate office in Dodge City.

But Flores is most proud of his children. They've either gone on to their own successful careers or are in schools and colleges preparing for them.

"The packing house brought us here," Flores said. "But our families have surpassed that."

Associated Press reporters P. Solomon Banda in Fort Morgan, Betsy Blaney in Cactus, Steve Brisendine in Liberal and Todd Dvorak in Postville contributed to this report.

Given that Mr Corley clearly holds a certain fascination for some people, and that his website, although "informative", isn't exactly ideal for encouraging discussion of the sort that we all enjoy so much (including Mike himself, by the look of things), would anyone be up for a Mike Corley newsgroup - uk.fan.mike-corley, alt.fan.mike-corley, whatever?
(Sorry, I'm not very well up on these things.)

This would be a perfect place for Mike to post his writings, and perhaps the occasional "look at the ...mike-corley newsgroup" posting in uk.misc and so on would be accepted in place of the current cross-posts.

When I'm told by someone who really does know such things that there was never any plot to get Mike then I trust that person sufficiently enough to accept his word.

The problem is Mike has escalated matters to an extreme level and like many silly billys he will find it impossible to give up all his self created crap and to live a normal life. After all what can Mike do now this crap has been exposed as untrue ? What new cause can Mike dedicate himself to ? (Some might read that as: who else can Mike now start upsetting ?)

So Mike write to John Major, c/o the Private Secretary, 10 Downing Street, London SW1A 2AA and ask the Prime Minister to help you. I'd normally disclose his fax numbers but if I did that you might jam up the lines with abusive postings just like you do here on Usenet.

Is anyone interested in joining with me to do a mass e-mailing of protests to Anon Penet and to Toronto Free Net in an attempt to flood their computer systems thus forcing them to seriously consider pulling the plug on Mike ? I'm not sure but is my proposal called a "flame" ?

Perhaps we should give Mike 7 days from today (6 July 96) to come to his senses and they start a massive multiple E-mailing campaign to Toronto Free Net. If all us victims send multiple copies of E-mails to the right addresses in Toronto then perhaps the Canadians will begin to get the appropriate message.

I see. So they're not wasting six years of manpower to persecute you. They're wasting six years of manpower to prove I'm _not_ being persecuted.

I wish I was clever enough to think of something like that. I really, really do.

Come on "Big Ears", why don't you admit that you made this posting? This is exactly the same line you were feeding me a few months ago. The posts are from the same news server, it's even the same newsreading software (Forte Agent .99e/16.227).

I'm afraid that if you friend "in the know" denied the existence of a plot then he was being, as they say, economical with the truth. Judging by the extreme reaction in London in May, and the panic you're showing now, as well as the replay post yesterday, I would say that things are hotting up again. But for you this time, not for me. I am out of harm's way, and there is very little you can do as long as I stay out of the UK.

Richards,

Why Choose : The MFJ-1020 ? -vice- The MFJ-1045 ?
http://groups.yahoo.com/group/Shortwave-SWL-Antenna/message/14291
MFJ-1020C In-Door Active Antenna used as a Pre-Selector
http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/sw_ant/1413.html
* Covers 300 kHz to 40 MHz in Five Bands
* * Designed for the Shortwave Bands
+ + Plus the AM {Medium Wave} Band coverage
* Can be used In-Doors or with an Out-Side Antenna
* Can be used "Active" with smaller/shorter Antennas
-or- 'Passive' {Gain Turned Down} with longer Antennas
* Can be Switched IN (On) -or- OUT (Off-ByPass)
+ Plus has an Antenna Input OFF Position on the Band Switch when Not-in-Use
* Use with a Coax Cable {PL-259 Plug} Feed-in-Line
* Limit One Antenna -and- One Receiver "Only"
MSRP ~$90
MFJ-1045C Receiver Pre-Selector
* Covers 1.8 to 54 MHz in Four (4) Bands
* * Designed for the Shortwave Bands "Only"
-Note- "No" AM {Medium Wave} Band coverage
* Can be used In-Doors or with an Out-Side Antenna
* Can be used "Active" with smaller/shorter Antennas
-or- 'Passive' {Gain Turned Down} with longer Antennas
* Can be Switched IN (On) -or- OUT (Off-ByPass)
- "No" Antenna Input OFF Position
* Use with a Coax Cable {PL-259 Plug} Feed-in-Line
* Can use with Two Antennas -and- Two Receivers
The two features that make me recommend the MFJ-1020 over the MFJ-1045 are :
* Antenna OFF {Out}
* AM/MW Band Coverage
Both will do a good job as a Pre-Selector for an Out-Side
Antenna big or small; and for a new Shortwave Listener
(SWL) who is 'limited' to a small {un-seen} out-side Antenna : The MFJ-1020 can make it sound like it is 100 Foot long.

Couple the MFJ-1020 with a "Snake" Coax Cable Antenna

A Not So Simple 5-Bander+Plus Shortwave Listener (SWL) Antenna
http://groups.yahoo.com/group/Shortwave-SWL-Antenna/message/14294
Starting with a 100 Foot piece of Flat 5-Wire TV Rotor {Rotator} Cable.
Measure and Cut-to-Size Five (5) 1/4 WL Antenna Elements one from each of the 5-Wires in the Cable.
Use the Silver (Tinned) Wire as your # 1 Wire and the Longest Antenna element at 98 Feet ~ 1/4 WL for the 120m Shortwave Band
x--o
98 Feet ~ 120m SW Band
Then the # 2 Wire next to # 1 is :
x---o
71 Feet ~ 90m SW Band
The Middle # 3 Wire is :
x--------------------------------------o
59 Feet ~ 75m SW Band
Next the # 4 Wire is
x--------------------------------o
48 Feet ~ 60m SW Band
Finally the # 5 Wire is
x-------------------------o
39 Feet ~ 49m SW Band
Terminate the Far-Ends of these Wires by carefully Cutting a One Inch (1") piece from the Single Wire.
{Creating a Break 'Gap' in the Individual Wire Run}
At the Feed-Point-End "x" connect all the Cut-to-Size Antenna Elements. {Direct Connection Elements}
Now you will notice that there is more Wire in the Individual Single Wires beyond the Cut-to-Size
Antenna Elements that have been connected together.
These extra Wire Lengths can also be Cut-to-Size and because they are still in the Flat Cable Wire

Bundle 'passively' coupled to the Direct Connected Antenna Elements.
['o' Un-Connect Cut-toSize Wire Ends Passive Elements]
Wire # 1 has 2 Feet left over at the Far-End
Wire # 2 has 27 Feet remaining and can be made into Two 'passive' Antenna Elements :
o-----------o 17 Feet ~ 22m SW Band
-ando------o 10 Feet ~ 13m & 11m SW Bands
by Cutting a One Inch (1") piece from the Wire at the measured points.
Wire # 3 has 39 Feet remaining and can be made into Two 'passive' Antenna Elements :
o--------------o 19 Feet ~ 25m SW Band
-and-
o----------o 15 Feet ~ 19m SW Band
by Cutting a One Inch (1") piece from the Wire at the measured points; with 7 Feet left over at the Far-End
Wire # 4 has 50 Feet remaining and can be made into Two 'passive' Antenna Elements :
o-----------------o 24 Feet ~ 31m SW Band
-and-
o--------------o 20 Feet ~ 25m SW Band
by Cutting a One Inch (1") piece from the Wire
at the measured points; with 8 Feet left over at the Far-End
Wire # 4 has 59 Feet remaining and can be made into Two 'passive' Antenna Elements :
o----------------------o 32 Feet ~ 41m SW Band
-and-
o-----------------o 25 Feet ~ 31m SW Band
by Cutting a One Inch (1") piece from the Wire
at the measured points; with 4 Feet left over at the Far-End.
As I Said {wrote} to start with : "A Not So Simple"
Connect the Five {Connected} Wire Feed-Point-Ends to a Matching Transformer and use a Coax Cable feed-in-line to your Radio.

I make no claim this one Shortwave Antenna will give you "FOOL" Coverage of the Shortwave Bands from 120m to 11m.
['x' Connected Cut-to-Size Antenna Active Elements]

My letter to Vonage a very poor service company. They are losing customers very fast and may go bankrupt soon.
They out source everything to the Philippines.

Hi,

I bought your fine service a few weeks ago and was very happy with the ease of setup/startup. The service works great and I added your VG stock code to my watch list at Scottrade.

Then I had a problem and I asked for service, forget it. I asked one question before I joined and had to wait two days for an answer. My Linksys Wireless router went down because of the firmware from Vonage was corrupt; this happens and is no problem.

What is the problem is that it takes three days for your customer service to answer then when they do answer they get it wrong. I told them the power light was blinking, that mean that the software must be forced to load from my computer. I did ask for away to down load the Firmware and load it (per Linksys).

Now I have written them again and I start the wait. If they answer and if they get it wrong again then I'll be at start again. I asked friends about the firmware and Vonage and what I found was a lot of your "former customers that stopped your service because your customer service is so very bad.

I am traveling and I need to try to repair the router and can't do it until I have the software from you. If I can't save the router then I have to buy a new one but I don't know until I try the upload.

Can you help me with your repair support are am I going to be one of your ex-customers also?

TIA,

Burr Patterson, Jr.

PS: I'll think about your stock after I see how your repair service does.

What precisely do you base the statement that Vonage may go bankrupt soon on.

Everything? Or just the call answering service.

You don't mean to say you are basing the purchase of their stock on your signing up for one of those VOIP contracts do you?

Wow - that's a long time on hold. But if it took them two days to answer a question BEFORE you signed up why would you then hand over good money to a company that was so unresponsive.

The router went down and that is no problem?? Huh??? Why are you buying their router when you can get one cheaper at Home Depot.

Just think, if you had landline service you would have none of the ongoing problems of VOIP telephony. Why pay for dropped calls, poor customer service, and phones that die when the internet hiccups.

Again, why did you sign up for unreliable VOIP phone service in the first place! If having a reliable telephone connection is a priority then you should choose something other than VOIP. Because of it's dependence on computers connected via the internet VOIP is even less reliable than cell phone service. Witness the serious problems Skype customers are having.

Every time Mike makes allegations against the police, MI5, Tom-Dick-and-Harry etc. those organisations have taken people off vitally important work to ascertain whether or not there was any substance in Mike's ranting allegations.

When I'm told by someone who really does know such things that there was never any plot to get Mike then I trust that person sufficiently enough to accept his word.

The problem is Mike has escalated matters to an extreme level and like many silly billys he will find it impossible to give up all his self created crap and to live a normal life. After all what can Mike do now this crap has been exposed as untrue ? What new cause can Mike dedicate himself to ? (Some might read that as: who else can Mike now start upsetting ?)

So Mike write to John Major, c/o the Private Secretary, 10 Downing Street, London SW1A 2AA and ask the Prime Minister to help you. I'd normally disclose his fax numbers but if I did that you might jam up the lines with abusive postings just like you do here on Usenet.

Is anyone interested in joining with me to do a mass e-mailing of protests to Anon Penet and to Toronto Free Net in an attempt to flood their computer systems thus forcing them to seriously consider pulling the plug on Mike ? I'm not sure but is my proposal called a "flame" ?

Perhaps we should give Mike 7 days from today (6 July 96) to come to his senses and they start a massive multiple E-mailing campaign to Toronto Free Net. If all us victims send multiple copies of E-mails to the right addresses in Toronto then perhaps the Canadians will begin to get the appropriate message.

Copy e-mailed to Mike, just so he knows what is coming if he persists.

I see. So they're not wasting six years of manpower to persecute you. They're wasting six years of manpower to prove I'm _not_ being persecuted.

I wish I was clever enough to think of something like that. I really, really do.

Come on "Big Ears", why don't you admit that you made this posting? This is exactly the same line you were feeding me a few months ago. The posts are from the same news server, it's even the same newsreading software (Forte Agent .99e/16.227).

I'm afraid that if you friend "in the know" denied the existence of a plot then he was being, as they say, economical with the truth. Judging by the extreme reaction in London in May, and the panic you're showing now, as well as the replay post yesterday, I would say that things are hotting up again. But for you this time, not for me. I am out of harm's way, and there is very little you can do as long as I stay out of the UK.

Sounds like the station is programmed improperly and isn't sending a proper "TVCT" ("Virtual Channel Table").

> channel 69, even though I read once that HD only went up to 62.

In the interim, DTV stations are possible on all 68 channels. The FCC tried to avoid assigning interim channels above 51 (and especially above 59) but in some areas, like California, it simply wasn't possible.

I count only 17 interim DTV facilities above channel 59. However, three of them are in Northern California. (and five in Los Angeles)

All of these go away in about 18 months. When the analog signals are shut down in February 2009, all DTV stations above channel 51 will move to lower channels. In most cases, that means their current analog channel will be reactivated as digital. See below.

The current DTV channels are considered interim, for the transition process. Many of them will change on Transition Day in February 2009.
Definitely ABC in Sacramento, because channel 61 will no longer be a valid TV channel!

In Sacramento:
Channel 3: Interim 35, stays on 35.
Channel 6: Interim 53, moves to 9.
(after the SF analog station on that channel shuts down; SF will remain on channel 30)
Channel 10: Interim 61, returns to 10.
Channel 13: Interim 25, stays on 25.
Channel 19: Interim 18, stays on 18.
Channel 29: Interim 48, stays on 48.
Channel 31: Interim 21, stays on 21.
Channel 40: Interim 55, returns to 40.
Channel 58: Interim 46, stays on 46.
Channel 64: Interim 62, moves to 26.
(after the SF analog station on that channel shuts down; SF will remain
on channel 27)

When you get up on the morning of February 18, 2009, you'll have to go into your TV's setup menu and do another channel scan, to find your locals on their new channels. You may have to do it more than once during that week as I suspect some stations may not get moved to their new channels quite on time...

You can have HDTV plus another SDTV (standard-resolution) channel.

Actually, to the best of my knowledge there is no hard limit on how many channels you can offer - you could in theory have five HDTV channels - but the necessary compression would probably yield five unintelligible macroblock-filled channels. I do know of stations running one HDTV and two SDTVs though one of the SDTVs is usually a weather forecast which can live with a very small bandwidth allocation.

But the station I work for does run one HDTV and one SDTV (as does one of our competitors) and it works fine.

A handful of PBS stations are already running multiple subchannels during the day, then shutting down the subchannels at night in favor of a single HD channel. That plan works well with PBS' mission, not so much so for commercial stations. (I don't think you'll see much of it on commercial operations)

> You will need an outdoor antenna to get a good usable digital signal.

Not necessarily true. I live in a typical single-story brick ranch house 25 miles from the transmitters. I get reliable reception from four stations with rabbit ears.

It does require an outdoor antenna to get the other stations; that said, the analog signals I get from those stations on rabbit ears are something nobody would watch anyway.

Generally, if a given antenna gives you a stable analog signal that your mother-in-law would watch without complaining, it'll probably give you stable DTV reception. Unless the station is skimping on power. (unlikely in large markets, quite likely in small ones.)

Most, but not all! In San Francisco, NBC (KNTV-11) is already on VHF channel 12, and ABC will be moving to VHF channel 7 in 18 months, when their analog vacates the channel.

In Sacramento, there are no VHF DTVs now, but on Transition Day PBS (KVIE-6) and ABC (KXTV-10) will be moving to VHF channels 9 and 10 respectively.

Likewise in other cities.

Salespeople at "big box" stores will tell you you MUST buy a new HDTV antenna for use with your new HDTV. The antennas they sell are nearly always UHF-only. Do not expect to receive all your local stations if you buy their special antenna. It may work now, but some of your channels may disappear in 2009.

If the antenna you already have on your old analog set is working OK, it will be fine for HDTV.

Can't disagree with that sentiment.

Wasn't it documented that MI5 sometimes "bought" journalists and broadcasters?
I remember reading a report by some jouralist who had been offered an extra tax-free income by MI5 to become their covert mouthpiece, and had refused.

Bet you lots of others didn't refuse. Why do you think MI5 have such easy access to the BBC and media? Because they're directly paying them off, that's why.

It has been reported several times. The most recent was in Private Eye, a few months back. As I recall they also wanted information from him; journalists would be a natural choice for members of the Security Service and the Secret Intelligence Service for information sources.

He was most concerned that many others would have accepted such an offer. However, we can probably make an educated guess as to some of those who accepted: Nigel West (Rupert Allason, MP) and Chapman Pincher would come near to the top of the list.

This is true. I frequently employ private detectives to spy on people (there's a good reason for this and I'll tell you if you guess correctly) and one such detective showed me the latest technology only last week. A small rucksack. One strap of the rucksack has a tiny hole in it that you wouldn't notice unless someone pointed to it. That's the camera: the wires lead into the rucksack itself where there is a video tape recorder little bigger than a Walkman. I don't know if that's what Roger Cook uses but it certainly explains why it is that the subject can look straight into the lens and not realise (s)he's being filmed. Now, I say "latest technology" and I think that's the technology that the police use as well as the retired police who become private detectives, but no doubt the security services have far more sophisticated equipment.

: Alan,

: What about the following scenario? MI5 conducts "experiments" including
: field trials of novel surveillance methods. Say there was a "research : project" underway to see just how invasive a surveillance of an : individual could be. Perhaps it wasn't research, perhaps it was for : training of novice personnel. Either way, there is a sizeable risk of : detection. In order to minimise the consequences of this, you choose : someone who is out of the public eye, and if possible someone whose : credibility is already damaged - by diagnosis of schizophrenia, for example.

: unlikely to be true, and some elements of the story (people in the media
: being "in on it") are just too crazy (though I can see how the paranoia : builds to the extent that you can see "them" everywhere).

My argument is that the fact that it's so totally crazy is what makes it so plausible and so hard to prove.

I shall continue to try to find ways to kick down the house of cards. Because it is a brittle structure. It only needs one person to corroborate, and then it's all over.

: P.S. Anyone else ever thought of "what-ifs" along the same lines? I : remember as a boy daydreaming that maybe I was the focus of national : attention in a "let's follow the life of one person from life to : death" study - that while I was out or in bed there were programmes on

: the television about my life so far, etc. It makes for a good fiction,

Perhaps MI5 have become victims of their own paranoia. Their agency has been thought of as acting disreputably, so when their decision arrives, they don't think twice about breaking the law. Whereas say CSIS (the Canadian equivalent) is at pains to point out how it would never ever do anything in contravention of the law, and how it is strictly controlled in what it does and how it does it.

If this matter does ever make it into the public gaze, then it won't just be a few individuals in the media or security service who'll get hit. The UK is supposed to be a civilized democratic country (East Germany called themselves a democracy and they had the Stasi, but anyway). In a civilized country these things shouldn't be happening - and it is ultimately Parliament and the government who are answerable for not imposing sufficient restraints and accountability on those who are supposed to be ensuring security for citizens, not jeopardising it.

Hi. I'm about to pull the trigger on the new CC Radio-SW. What really intrigues me about this unit is that it has a built-in C Crane twin coill am ferrite antenna. This antenna gets great reviews and since it's built into the unit, I am thinking the radio will get unsurpassed am reception. Does anyone have any opinions of this radio?

I don't have florid symptoms. But I'm in a difficult situation, because those people who don't know, aren't going to believe, and those who do, they just go along with the crowd. It's never a good idea to go against the grain, and the grain here is defined by interests in the establishment and the media. Even people who could say out loud what was happening won't, because then there's a risk that they'll be seen as traitors and ostracised.

Usually this type of 'hidden abuse' is racial and targetted at a racial minority within a country. You keep the minorities out of the good jobs, but you don't admit discrimination exists. It happens everywhere, not just in Britain. The persecution that is going on now is in reality a refined form of racism. Instead of "nigger" it's "nutter", and abusing the mentally ill is still socially acceptable today. In 50 years it might not be, but today there isn't any social or legal sanction against it.

So really they've refined racial harassment down to a minority of one. The words may be different, but the methods are the same.

No mention of bankruptcy. You do understand what bankruptcy mmeans - correct? Don't confuse it with the very different concept of lawsuit.

Oh, well you did day that they outsourced everything to the Phillipines, so sounded like their headquarters could now be in Makati.

Considering that you think they "may go bankrupt soon", and you have have been getting poor service I still don't understand why you would want to consider the possiiblity of buying Vonage stock.

Huh?? What is the VolP

VOIP is a fundamentally flawed way of providing telephone service if continuity of service is important. If price is the only consideration and you are willing to live with outages and dropped calls, then go ahead.

To be clear, please tell us why why are you are posing questions to your VOIP service provider on rec.radio.shortwave. You should be sending them to Vonage.

But I'm really perplexed on a broader issue. If you believe that Vonage "may go bankrupt soon" then why in the world would you want to do business with them. Makes no sense to me.

Realize that VOIP is a fundamentally flawed method for voice transmission because it relies on the internet.

Considering he spammed it far and wide (well, at least to alt.angst and alt.folklore.urban which I saw and each of those included other groups in the Newsgroups line) I doubt he'll be seen anywhere for long. Using the xs4all remailer doesn't really help if you post the url to a web site which makes it clear who you are.

Nuala, who thinks that the sad thing is he used frames much better than many sites done by supposedly 'sane' people.

1603. Old hippy radio commenter busted

Newsgroup: rec.radio.shortwave

From: Tester <teest@test.org>
Message-ID: <a6bjc3hne8o49vh9qnih01htce9i6l2qvk@entropy.org>
Source record: 121336

http://www.santacruzsentinel.com/archive/2007/August/17/breaking/stories/01breaking.htm
and others

Seventy-year old Chandler A. Laughlin. who, under the nom de guerre Travus T. Hipp (pun with travesty intended) gives radio commentaries on KPIG, KVMR and some other stations mostly in California was arrested for posession of 4 ounces of pot (he says he has a medical pot card from CA but he ain't in CA), 3 ounces of peyote, drug paraphenalia and being an ex-felon in posession of a handgun (which he says has the broken broken firing pin taped to its side) at his home in Silver City, south of Virginia City, Nevada.

There had been an investigation into charges he was selling pot to teens but certainly posession of 4 ounces sounds only like evidence of personal use. He said it was neighbors with a grudge.

He got out of jail on $46K bond and did his commentary Friday and Monday, but nothing about the bust, probably on advice of his lawyer.

Laughlin was very much involved in the San Francisco music and radio scene in the late '60's, helping to open a club in West Berkeley where the Grateful Dead rehearsed.

His commentaries are somewhat unpredictable, defending Fidel Castro, one day, but then promoting libertarian positions the next day. One thing he got right on the mark - it would be easy to conquer Iraq but very hard to deal with the insurgency.

I guess the question I would have is whether this is really nothing more than a rebadged Redsun 2100.

Unsurpassed AM reception would be a very high hurdle to overcome. If you are truly expecting it to be better than any other radio on AM then I think you will be disappointed.

Is the internal antenna of the CC-SW really the same as the external unit sold for $99.00 by Crane? Or is it just a bit of marketing sizzle applied to a ferrite rod antenna.

Finally, I don't think the radio receives SSB. Seems like a big omission on a $150.00 shortwave radio.

Well, the "legal option" has just foundered on the rock of lawyers refusing to deal with me on the grounds that my perception of harassment must be due to the disease.

So we're back to square one again, the same place we were two years ago.

Now perhaps one of our uk.legal participants can clarify this point. To me it seems illogical that lawyers should have the final say on whether you are allowed to proceed with a civil case or not. Is there a default mechanism or agency for cases such as mine where it is difficult to find a solicitor to represent you? What exactly is the "official Solicitor"? What is it possible to do if you can't find a lawyer to represent you?

A chance to get a useful response out of the uk newsgroups! perhaps they can be good for something else besides spamming.

What can I do to get competent legal help though? If the case is on the face of it so bizarre that no solicitor would represent me or talk to me, then surely there must be a default mechanism? What is the "official Solicitor" that's been mentioned?

All you need do is go to a good library & read up about it - that's what the McLibel 2 did.

Summary:

Last night (21/Feb/97), I was listening to BBC GLR. You have to understand that I was listening by stealth. Back in 1990 I used to have Capital blaring out of the speakers all over the garden ("if he listens to Capital then he can't be all bad", thanks ever so much). But now I listen on my walkman on headphones with the volume turned right down. It could not possibly be overheard by any listening device, no matter how sensitive, because sound does not carry from the headphones.

Yet somehow they are still able to tell which station I am listening to on the walkman. And last night, I bravely tuned to GLR 94.9FM at around 8.45pm. Everything went well for the first half hour or so. The DJ (today GLR told me it was David Hepworth) had a "rock star spelling competition" (how do you spell Shakespear's Sister?), no trouble there. I was recording the show onto tape just in case anything unpleasant happened, as I had reason to think it might.

Around 9.10pm, it did. Here, precisely, is what Hepworth said after the song "Come Around" by the Muttonbirds (I have this on tape, and at some point will be posting the audio on my website);

"New album's called 'Envy of Angels', that comes out soon, that's the single that's already out, I would imagine, that's 'Come Around', the Muttonbirds, er, coming up after this, we got the rock-and-roll A-level, we have, I assume, Brian do we have an embarrassment of prizes in there, we do, don't we, (EMPHASIS) absolute obscene (END-EMPHASIS) amounts of prizes, there will no doubt be a riot at the back door", and that's, er, A-level coming up after this"

The key phrases in what he said are, "EMBARRASSMENT of prizes", and what he himself emphasized verbally, "ABSOLUTE OBSCENE amount of prizes". It is my belief (based on content and tone of voice) that when he spoke these phrases he knew I was listening, and that the phrases refer directly to my situation. The "EMBARRASSMENT" is the embarrassment he and other media people would feel at having their wrongdoing exposed; the "ABSOLUTE OBSCENE" (which he verbally emphasized) described the disgusting sexual abuse which the harassers have been throwing at me.

Needless to say, I can't prove this is what he meant, although this has happened enough times that it's hard not to recognise it when you see it. But I shall be sending him a copy of this explanation. We'll see what he has to say for himself.

I will try to explain with greater clarity.

I am prone to have ideas of "interactive watching" by people on TV, and "interactive listening" by people on the radio; which means as I listen to their programme, they are aware that I am listening (because my home is spied on, and those doing the spying phone up the radio station and tell them that I am listening to them), and they then interject nasty remarks in what they say.
This is what I believe may have happened on Friday night with GLR, and what I was trying to explain in my article.

It's happened before with other radio stations, most worryingly when I am listening quietly on my walkman as happened on Friday. This time, the interjected words were "embarrassment" and "absolute obscene". The "absolute obscene" referred to the abuse which is currently being directed at me.

I hope that's a little clearer.

A couple of weeks ago I issued a summons against the BBC in my local county court, for the tort of private nuisance caused by the spying by their newsreaders on my home. My argument was that their spying had prevented me watching the news at home, and therefore interfered with my normal use of my home.

The BBC's Litigation Dept at White City have replied not with a defence, but with an application for my claim to be struck out because;

(a) it discloses no reasonable cause of action; and/or
(b) it is scandalous, frivolous or vexatious.

Their application will be heard next week. They have not made any affidavit in support of their application, nor have they given particulars as to why they consider my summons to be unarguable in law, which would be a necessary condition for there to be no reasonable cause of action.

I am more worried about point (b). Allegations are scandalous (says Stuart Sime's book) if they impute dishonesty against another party; which my allegations do, against the BBC's newsreaders. As for frivolous or vexatious, I think that will be up to me to make a good argument for the effect the BBC's spying has had on my life, and up to the district judge's opinion of my case.

Apparently seeking to have a claim struck out in this way is common practice when the plaintiff is a litigant-in-person. Even if it is struck out, there is always the opportunity to appeal. I think we could be in for a fight next week.

Congratulations. This is my first real flame for about a year.

I try to control my anger when I come across another uninformed naive idiot on usenet, but sometimes it goes free. We've had Corley for well over three years now, and his constant spams of various degrees have killed a couple of usenet groups I really rather lied. uk.media, to name but one. I gets my goat to read another useless fucker thinking he is a harmless eccentric.

Mike is mentally ill. He is unwilling to deal with it. He seems to think that uk.misc is some sort of forum that MI5 reads. And it should be avenged. He's mailbombed a large quantity of people, because they opposed his spamming.

1. He thinks MI5 watches him through his television
2. He thinks all references to mad people, refer to him
3. He thinks all people shouting, are shouting at him.
4. He's been diagnosed as mentally ill, just not a paranoid schizophrenic.
5. He gives not a shit about any newsgroups he abuses.
6. He goes through quiet periods, then _very_ nasty periods.
7. All evidence of this great conspiracy is laughable, to say the least.
8. He gives internet/usenet a bad name to the media. Including mailbombing Chris Tarrant and faxing various celebrities.

I do not condescend to him. I actually know what he does, and has done in the past, and am frankly not too respectful of him. He can be openly referred to as "mad" because he is. Let's check my mailbox saves:

He hadn't seen the light at all. His level of spamming had got to such outrageous proportions that we had to mount a concerted attempt to get his account(s) closed. The reason for the lack of spam lately is that Mike has been furiously swotting up on Law so he can bring an action as a LIP against the BBC (all solicitors having quite rightly and honourably declined to act for him). When this course of action is exhausted without result, I confidently predict that we will once again be the innocent victims of his ire and the spamming will commence again.

Hi, thanks for the reply. On the front of the C C SW radio it says,
"twin coil ferrite antenna." I would think it's safe to assume that it's the same one sold for $99 at Ccrane site.

1614. MI5 Persecution: I am being ignored 17/4/97 (12507)

Something mildly unusual is happening. Nobody has been getting at me for the last couple of weeks. Best of all, about three weeks ago I bought a video recorder to try to get some evidence from the News etc, and despite having watched Martyn Lewis, Michael Buerk and the whole lot of them, not one of them has said anything to me in the last three weeks. And I have been listening to and recording Capital, with no ill effect. All in all, I am being comprehensively ignored.

Of course, I should have video-taped the news programmes back in 1990/91/92 (and even 93) when it was still all going on. Anthony Johnsson (casually name-drop to stick the knife in) will tell you how intelligent a person I am, yet I didn't have the good sense to record the programmes at the time, and it's a bit late now.

Today another avenue of exploration closed when my second summons against the BBC was struck out (basically through lack of evidence), and an order was made by the district judge saying that I could not sue John Birt again without the express permission of the court. She explained that this was for my own good, to save me the summons fees. Costs were not awarded though (the BBC didn't even really seek costs), and I am free to sue anyone else I take a shine to.
It is not that you are being ignored.... it is just that as your mental health improves, so your paranoia eases.

OR...

The dark forces are gathering strength for the final battle with you...

Seriously though, it's nice to see you back - cos as long as they are persecuting you, I can relax knowing they haven't got time to bother me!

Well, that didn't last very long, did it?

Capital Radio this evening approx 8.35pm, Neil Long's programme a few moments after I switched to it (I am listening to it as I type this). The following spouted from his mouth;

"want to see Jacko in town? what a gig it's going to be, that guy is amazing, and PSYCHOTIC, but amazing on stage, 0171-4200958, on stage he's a MADMAN but he's wonderful"

God, I am so tired of this. It's been going on for seven years. When's it going to stop?

I have the above extract on tape. When I get around to it I will post it, and the Hepworth snippet, as audio files on the website. Of course, all the doubting Thomases and Smids can carry on doubting, because the mere fact that moments after switching on the DJ starts talking about "psychotic", that's not proof is it?

I wrote an aggrieved letter to Chris Tarrant at Capital and sent it off today, copied to Richard Park, Group Director of Programmes. I suppose they'll just lie as usual. Bastards, basically.

The solution is surely to not have a TV, video, radio or telephone in the house, Mike. That way they can't be used to watch you.

No. I tried that strategy in 1990/91 when I sold my television and stopped listening to the radio. It didn't work because they got at me through co-workers and eventually the general public.

The solution is to gather evidence by recording everything, and then complain or sue if possible. I wish I'd recorded it all five or six years ago, then I might be more successful in a legal action now.
Did anyone else watch the X-Files on Sky last night (Sunday 13th April) and recognise Mike's symptons in the chap with the tattoo? It was quite interesting to see someone responding in precisely the same way, picking up on individual words and phrases in ordinary sentences and applying parts to themselves as though they were intended.

Not a pleasant ending though. You take care, Mike, and keep taking the medication. uk.misc just wouldn't be the same without you now.

No, it isn't, but you knew that anyway.

Mike, how is it that you think that this can't be a coincidence because it happened 'moments' after you switched on the radio? Haven't you just told us that you haven't heard a thing for two weeks? Going two weeks watching TV & listening to the radio without a reference to 'mad', 'crazy' or 'loony' is quite an acheivement, especially given the trashy radio you seem to prefer.

I've just spent a lot of the weekend trying to keep a manic depressive under control, so that she doesn't have to go back into hospital and lose the last few months' memories to ECT. One thing I've noticed is that manic depressives almost seek to foster their fantasies, they enjoy the control and the high. You seem to be the same - you refuse to answer the points put to you that explain away what you call persecution totally - do you have the courage of your convictions to reply to this?
Or do you enjoy the attention your illness brings you?

Do please tell the truth. It has been longer than 2 weeks as I'm sure you have noticed, hasn't it ?

Well I claim responsibility for the absence of persecution. When I rang John Major's personal private secretary, not the personal political one or any of the others in the same office, and I said you would vote for the Conservative Party at the General Election the secretary said Johnny would be so happy and as a sign of gratitude he rang-up the Head of MI5 and told them to save money for tax cuts by abandoning forthwith their campaign against you. Consequently MI5 and MI6 have been able to redeploy urgently needed resources (i.e. manpower and telecoms interceptions) against an international band of (censored**).

On behalf of the law-abiding and decent citizens in the British islands, I would like to sincerely thank you for your invaluable contribution to crime fighting by your instrumental achievement in releasing badly needed and very scarce MI5 and MI6 resources.

Many thanks,

Please don't forget it is National Election time and the news broadcasts at 21:00 on BBC1 are preoccupied with British politics.

Any particular date in mind ? I have a few in the library. You can also purchase copies from the BBC on 0181-743 8000 (central switchboard).

Perhaps it is for the best. Now that it is all over, you can return to Canada. Did you manage to get your Canadian citizenship ? What did your contracts at MI5 say about you becoming Canadian ? You never did mention the name of your MI5 liaison officer nor of any of the others.

That's true. But as it is now all over there is no need to worry about the past. MI5 said your file has been removed from the Registry and put in a burn-bag so there is nothing left for anyone ever to find.

By the way, what was the URL of your famous Corley web site ?

I have to admit that it is actually mildly amusing to have newsreaders watching you, although it is tiresome after a bit. I am currently in an interesting situation, because after my lawsuits against them I think the BBC newscasters have stopped watching me entirely; I also think that ITN, in particular John Suchet, are still watching but they're being subtle about it (his blink pattern followed mine).

Being called nasty words is quite horrible though, and seems gratuitous; what do they gain by it, except to exercise their sadism?

You have. They're not pleasant atmospheres, especially the secure wings, which have more in common with prisons ('airlock' doors, list of 'banned' articles, continuous observation). They have to be that way, unfortunately.

1615. Fetter threatens to sue now

Ya gotta love this.
Here is a posting Fetter just made on the CFLG yahoogroup.
At the end he threatens to sue the Listowner for allowing discussion of his thievery.
Notice too, he no longer puts his website addresses in his Signature and he has dropped the legend "I make $50,000 a week on the Internet; let me show you how."
With the Fetter Emails and postings I have stored away, I cannot wait to testify at any lawsuit involving Fetter.
Here's Fetter's posting:

I don't think any report mentioned FBI.

Any report of Secret Service was incorrect, never was arrested, questioned and my Attorney was never contacted by either FBI or Secret Service. This was a pure error on part of all media outlets.
This is a prove-able fact.

Reports of 'arrested' by Secret Service was done probably so the news story was picked up by National Media outlets as the local police investigator was fishing for a 'big fish'. Also Mr. Stern, you failed to mention that media also reported that I stole over 1 million dollars. If that were true then I would have made bail that very same night.

> of your activities supported your arrest.
> Because you have preyed on the radio community,

Not one person listed on the court documents as a "victim" is nor ever was a user of rec.radios... Not one "victim" had anything to do with radios in any way.

> although I believe the good Judge has ordered > you to stop all your Internet sales.

Again an incorrect statement. Read the court documents, they state "tangible property by internet". Any and all current internet activity has been approved by Judge Parsons.

And finally "it is ordered and adjudged that the adjudication of guilt is hereby withheld". A plea of guilty was never entered and there never was a trial.

> Better check that with your attorneys Simpson & Delgado.

Nearly everytime I have to sneeze I do check with my Attorney Mr. Delgado himself.

Again this has nothing to do with scanning but only to beat a dead horse to death.

The monitor of the CFLG group should have put a stop to this witch-hunt long ago before I contact Mr. Delgado regarding a civil law suit.

Mr. Fetter back to CW and Scanning.....

That seems like a lot to stuff into that case, but possible. Wait a minute - the all important preselector/tuner controls on the $99 twin ferrite antenna don't seem to be on the CC-SW radio. Something was forgotten or we are being dazzled with advertising footwork.

Doesn't a ferrite loop antenna designed for MW and LW reception use two separate loops of wire? It's been a while, but that little detail sticks in my kind from disassembling a Blaupunkt MW/LW receiver. If so is that all the twin loop is?

Has anyone seen the insides of a CC Crane SW radio to tell us what the twin coil antenna is and is not? Their website is gloriously vague about either product.

I'm using an HDTV antenna made by Terk, which gets both VHF and UHF HD. It has a scary looking UHF antenna, then two rabbit ears for VHF.
When assembled, and with the whips down, it looks like the number 7.
There's a Philips HD antenna that has just the UHF element. For a while, Radio Shack was selling an HD antenna that had two loops mounted parallel to the table surface, unlike most antennas where the loop is perpendicular. I have no idea if that was a UHF only antenna.

Yeah, I figured something like that. Tertiary stations skimp on lots of stuff, since they don't have lots of cash.

Did you get this from a website? If you did, I'd like the url, since I may be living in a different state on D Day.

I can't get HD channel 62 (analog 64). But it really doesn't matter, since it's Telemundo (Spanish).

You better believe it. Tuesday's episode had one of its characters being labelled as a "lunatic" with "something wrong with them". I changed channels rapidly at this point, but in retrospect perhaps I should have carried on watching and taped the program.

A few days ago I bought a video recorder (about time too) for evidence gathering purposes. But strangely the TV news (both BBC and ITN) haven't uttered a sound over the last few days. Almost as if they know they're being taped...

And?

There are many characters in TV programmes who _are_ lunatics with 'something wrong with them'. Why do you think this alludes to you?

In the eponymous book, Cervantes' Don Quixote is described as 'crazy'
'mad' and 'lunatic'. Do you think this is a reference to yourself, albeit written by a time-travelling 17th century Spaniard?

If you accept that the character of Don Quixote can be described thus without it being a reference to you, what problem do you have with Peak Practice? Or do you enjoy tilting at your own little windmills?

A friend's lodger has turned out to be paranoid schizophrenic. Her obsessions are strikingly similar to yours, she is convinced that she is being bugged, and that students at her college are making fun of her for being foreign. She has been looking for the services of a private detective. Maybe Oxford has this unfortunate effect on foreigners?

I must say that I'm surviving rather well, or that's what the man under the stairs told me yesterday.

A healthy portion of skepticism seems appropriate in this case. C.Crane themselves have stated that the number of differences between a stock RP2100 and the CCRadio-SW would be not be too high at 20-something (keep in mind that at minimum another mains xformer is necessary). The stock RP2000/2100 does not have much to do with the Twin Coil, save for having two coils on the ferrite core (one is for MW antenna input coupling only) and antenna tuning. Comparing the sensitivity specs, the CCRadio-SW's seems to be the same save for a more conservative rating (MW: 0.2 mV/m vs. 0.15 mV/m for TRA-2350P/RP2000).

BTW: In case of FM sensitivity, the typical Chinese confusion of > and < seems to have survived, it's given as "> 5 uv" (I guess whoever started doing this wasn't into equations much).

Victor Lewis-Smith has broken the silence in his TV review column "Goon and best forgotten" in the Evening Standard (on Thursday 8/May). He said, "If I sound paranoid, that's probably because I once worked there. Eventually, I had to leave because they were all trying to kill me but, for sheer pathological hatred of the Corporation, I couldn't hold a candle to Spike Milligan".

I take this to be about me, because recently I wrote to both the BBC and Capital Radio, saying "I believe the current purpose of the harassment is to force me to kill myself to prevent the harassers, yourselves included, from being brought to justice, and last year there were several incidents of people shouting 'suicide' at me, which would appear to corroborate that view." I think VLS's words about the BBC "all trying to kill me" shows he has seen or heard of what I sent to the BBC or Capital.

Nasty eh? I believe that VLS or his mates read this newsgroup. I wonder how he would explain his article?

Erm, Mike, I'm a bit of a fan of Victor Lewis-Smith, ever since his days of "BuyGones". I must admit, he often likes to play the flawed lunatic evil nasty person. He's been doing it for years, with prank calls, far before your illness. Its his act. He wouldn't be VLS without it.

He doesn't like the "Goons" either. It isn't about you.

I don't think Victor Lewis-Smith has worked for the BBC (or Capital) for several years (1994 was the last time...), so the connection, is paranoia here.

Personally, I believe VLS as a person of reasonable integrity, who wouldn't give a fuck about you...

Not much changes. Today I was listening again to David Hepworth's show on GLR, having more or less waded in on it by accident. Here is the exchange;

David: "we have executive drivetime, we have Brian in charge of the prize cupboard. Brian it's not a bad prize cupboard this week is it?"

Brian: "no David it's an absolute (EMPHASIS) embarrassment (END-EMPHASIS) of prizes this evening" (laughter)

David: "what have we got?"

Brian: "well in my left hand alone we've got that .... Gary Clale, I don't know if you remember him obviously still alive and kicking...."

David: "Rock and roll spelling test is your first opportunity to take advantage of this embarrassment of prizes"

What do I read into this exchange? The laughter after the word "embarrassment" shows they're aware of the last complaint I made on usenet (copied by snail-mail to them). The "left hand" business is I think a coded way of calling me a wer (the term would be better applied to Brian and David).

I have a tape of this exchange, and will eventually get around to posting it on the website.

I looked up the model, and it seemed familiar. I'd seen it on some Japanese website, as, I think, a Hitachi. ... Yup, try this KH-2200:
http://www2.ocn.ne.jp/~ghq777/KH2200.html Looks like the retail price was somewhat below the Sony and Panasonic competition, but then it doesn't have SSB nor can it achieve the same readout accuracy. Is it dual conversion at all? (Same LO chasing should clear that up.)

That could become tricky. The usual suspects here list the service

Overview

What all these snatches of video and audio, and newspaper articles, have in common is that none of them provide conclusive or very convincing evidence of their being directed against me, or forming part of a campaign against me. Other people with my illness doubtless could produce similar non-proof if they were minded to do so.

Good, now we've got the disclaimer out of the way, we can describe precisely what it is that is on display in this part of the site. In the video section, we have Quicktime (MPEG-4) clips of Jon Snow of ITN in action, also interviews with Ken Clarke and John Major of the ousted Tory regime. These are embedded in the page using QuickTime. While each audio/video clip is coded to automatically download the QuickTime player, you may find it helpful to download QuickTime from Apple's website before you start viewing the media files.

Note that each item is awarded a rating of the confidence I feel that it is directed at me, expressed as a percentage. Items with 50% or more are probably about me; 100% indicates a "dead cert".

In audio we have MP3 files of harassment at work in Canada in late 1996, also GLR's David Hepworth not even trying to pretend that he isn't getting at me, and a snippet of Capital. There is also an album track which I have taken as being about me. The newspapers section contains articles by Bernard Levin on his encounter with a madman who "bursts into tears, and swears it is all true - and it is". Also a Private Eye cover, and snippet from Victor Lewis-Smith.

I have added several recordings of abuse "in public". By Sept/1998 I had seven minidiscs of such recordings, unfortunately containing mostly very nasty sexual slanders which I will not be publishing on this website. The recordings were made on a Sony Minidisc Walkman MZ-R30, which I purchased in Canada in July/1997, with ECM-T140 microphone. After both the MZ-R30 and the microphone reached the end of their lives, in June/2001 I purchased as replacement my current recording gear, an MZ-R900 walkman with ECM-T145 microphone.

Share and Enjoy! I hope you enjoy partaking in my delusions which have been recorded with high fidelity digital equipment and presented for your listening pleasure.

Thanks for the replies, everyone. One point I'd like to address is whether or not the actual C Crane Twin Coil Ferrite Antenna is now included in the rebadged C Crane SW unit. Here is what it says about this radio at the C Crane website: "Thanks to the built-in Twin Coil Ferrite™ AM Antenna, this masterful radio has AM reception in the same class as the legendary CCRadio plus."
I can't help but conclude that the actual, complete antenna is inside the unit. I asked the tech at C Crane how it's possible to both fine tune and coarse tune, and he said, "the radio takes care of that."

Ken Clarke (1), April 1997

Certainty level: 30%

The first of two video segments from the same program, this shows Jon Snow interviewing Ken Clarke in April 1997, during the general election campaign. The following exchange is heard;

Jon Snow: "You say we are booming in your posters, the bust's around the corner"

Ken Clarke: "You took that from three years ago, when I was being advised to do all kinds of mad things to stimulate the economy, and being told that I had to take desperate measures to get it going"

At this time I was watching television almost continuously at home, with a video recorder whirring away, trying to obtain from the newscasters a reaction which would give them away. I think this is an instance where it happened. Ken Clarke first darts a glance straight at the video camera (and perhaps at a monitor next to it showing my living room), then comes out with "all kinds of mad things", while engaging in a facial display involving raising of eyebrows and lowering of eyelids.
To me at the time, and also now, it looked as if he was selecting a context into which he could drop the word "mad" as a directed insult against me.

Ken Clarke (2), April 1997

Certainty level: 30%

The second of two video segments from the same programme, this shows Ken Clarke during the election campaign. He makes the following statement;

"we have a party, and we have a Cabinet which has produced a manifesto consistent with our policy of the last five years; people are challenging us on the basis there's been some monstrous conspiracy between all the politicians to guide us we know not where, we know where we're going, we wish to be a leading influence in the European Union"

It should be fairly obvious what I read into in the above sentences.
The "monstrous conspiracy between all the politicians" could of course apply to the public perception of closer European integration, but I took it as referring to the conspiracy of politicians and media people against me. Again, facial expression comes into it; as Clarke speaks of the "monstrous conspiracy" his eyebrows twitch and it is clear that something or somebody is being made fun of.

Dimbleby / John Major, April 1997

Certainty level: 90%

Dimbleby interviews John Major during the election campaign. Here is the exchange, regarding Neil Hamilton, the "sleazy" Tory candidate;

Dimbleby: "It's a direct quotation from what he said to Sir Gordon Downey and what he said to his local newspaper, the Knutsford Guardian".
Major: "Well, heaven forfend that I should doubt what the Knutsford Guardian actually said"
Dimbleby: "Well I should hope so" Major: "Absolutely, it would be quite unforgivable to doubt the Knutsford Guardian"

What I find in this segment is an assonance between "Knutsford" and "Nut" or "Nuts". I think Dimbleby deliberately invents the play on words, and says it clearly enough for Major to pick it up and repeat it.
You can gauge Dimbleby's intent from his facial expression of false honesty when he uses the words "Knutsford Guardian"; and Major's reaction follows from his recognition of Dimbleby's intent; Major smiles and says it would be "unforgivable to doubt the Knutsford Guardian".
These are much clearer on the original video than on this Quicktime clip.

Channel Four TV News - 12/Feb/1999

Certainty level: 100%

I am positively, utterly, completely sure this item is about me. It's a bit subtle so the objective reader might not understand my certainty. Here is what happened. I was watching Channel Four News with Jon Snow, on the day Clinton "got off" (as it were) in the Monica-gate scandal. Snow said;

"[and we're anticipating that the President himself will make his] first comments after the trial in which he has now been cleared at around half-past seven. So we'll have more on the historic judgment, we'll also be considering [starts smiling] the winners and losers in this whole sorry saga. Now further doubts have been...."

When Snow said "half-past seven", I looked at the clock on the mantelpiece above the TV. Snow saw my glance, and in reaction to my glance at the clock, smiled. I think he was smiling at what he perceived as my self-importance.

Usually when newscasters or radio presenters laugh at me, there is an excuse for their laughter; usually they manage to find some reason for my being "funny"; their amusement is blamed on me; it is my "fault" they are laughing. And so it was with this instance; Jon Snow thought it was funny that I should be so interested in seeing Clinton, and his half-smile while reading the words "winners and losers" expresses that.

I wrote to Snow at ITN shortly after this broadcast to ask him about his behaviour; of course, he didn't reply.

Chris Tarrant - 10/March/1999

Certainty level: 25%

This one might be aimed at me, or it might be tinged with a whiff of intent, although I only give one chance in four for Tarrant's thoughts being aimed at me when he said this. During his "Who wants to be a Millionaire" TV show in March 1999, he said;

if you're watching the show jumping up and down screaming at the telly, remember you could be here. You can either seek professional help or call us...

The background is as follows. In early March I'd sent a quantity of emails to Capital FM, the London radio station where Mr Tarrant has his breakfast show. They were addressed to the email account which Mr Tarrant used to read emails posted on Capital's website. Capital objected to the quantity of emails - in fact, they contacted the Metropolitan Police's Computer Crime unit, who, in turn, "felt my collar" by giving me a verbal warning over the phone to cease this behaviour.

The emails contained the words which I had heard Mr Tarrant speak in early 1994, namely;

"You know this bloke? He says we're trying to kill him.
We should be done for attempted manslaughter".

At the time of writing (May 1999), the Police have not told me what aspect of the emails was "illegal", nor despite my repeated urging have they questioned Mr Tarrant about his remarks from 1994.

Regarding the clip from Tarrant's show above. The Police spoke to me on the afternoon of Wednesday 10 March 1999. Tarrant's live show went out that same evening. The Police have told me that after speaking to me they told Capital FM that they'd spoken to me regarding the emails. So Tarrant would have known by the time of the show who'd sent the emails and why.... and it's quite possible that his remarks about "seeking professional help" were aimed at me personally following my attempts to persuade him to own up to his 1994 remarks.

I am having difficulty pulling in any stations while using telescoping antennas. I was thinking of stringing up a simple line of about 50' or so. Actually, my lot is 120' long, so I could string up a 100' wire.
What kind of wire should I use? Bare copper twisted wire will surely corrode quickly in my climate. And should I attach a shielded coax line leading to my radio. And, can the wire leading to my radio be attached anywhere along the length of the wire, or should it be attached to the end.
Sorry about all of the questions.

He's trolling Larry! No one is that dumb.
This is a copy of a letter/email I sent to Investor Relations.

Just so everyone know what kind of service they give. IF they fix thing fast then I'll also post that BUT it looks like they don't care because even Investor Relations hasn't answered yet.

DS,

To the average TV/HDTV Viewer using Cable TV or DirectTV will any of this matter ?

Their TV Channel 6 which became HDTV Channel 31 was always Cable Channel 6; and when it goes back to HDTV Channel 6; it will still be Cable Channel 6.
-Note- Cable Channel = DirectTV Channel too

And somewhere during the process and transition they will begin seeing HDTV on Cable Channel 6 when it becomes available from the Broadcaster via the Cable TV Provider.

Only Over-the-Air HDTV {Free TV} Viewers need worry about all the Channel reassignments and movements.

And like you point-out Hit Find Channel {Auto Program} and let the HDTV do the work for you.

Hello-

I've had my 800 for several years...
the first problem was a bad power switch...
then the infamous "jumping" encoder.
I was able to remedy these two issues.

Now, the radio no longer works above 8 Mhz on shortwave.
7999 khz is OK, but 8000 khz and above is only white noise.
Anybody else have this problem?
Any known cures besides sending it to Drake for a $200 repair ?

I'm reasonably handy with electronics.

Frankly the mediocre performanceof this radio isn't worth sending out for repair.

I've never experienced so many problems with a radio, and I've used/owned dozens.

I know that many people have had good reliability with theirs, but I wouldn't recommend it to anybody!

Thanks,

MI5 boy is Mike Corley and he's been spamming VERY IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT HOW HE IS BEING PERSECUTED BY MI5 to at least 20,000 newsgroups for at least a decade.

I wonder how much it costs him because he keeps on getting TOS'ed from usenet providers. Some usenet providers give you a free trial but you still usually have to provide some sort of billing info. Unless he gives them empty or almost empty pre-paid cards or fake numberz.

If you use Google groups to spam people can see your IP number which is bad, both for spamming purposes and for someone who's paranoid because then THEY can get you.

Of course, you can use proxies so your IP is fake.

(I'm looking for a Brit or Irish open proxy with enough bandwidth so I can watch streaming video from BBC and Channel 4 - they require domestic IP's due to copyright and, with the Beeb, a concern with serving the license fee payers before freeloading furriners.)

Yesterday morning, the resort was evacuated and its 220 remaining guests - quite a few American tourists had already flown home - were transferred to the conference centre inland. The storm began to whip up at around 6pm, by which time wireless internet access had been lost, and hit its peak some three hours later.

Speaking at around 5am local time, Mr Susskind said: "I think the feeling around here appears to be more of relief than anything else. There were lots of trees falling down but it's completely still now, eerily so in fact.

While Jamaicans battened down the hatches for the arrival of Hurricane Dean, European tourists taking shelter in a concrete conference centre were able to track its progress on their laptops as it spiralled towards the island.

Richard Susskind, a lawyer and IT expert who is also a Times columnist, told today how he and dozens of others used the wireless access at the Half Moon resort near Montego Bay to read all about Dean on the American website Hurricane.com. For news and updates on of VoIP you can have a look at : www.knowingabout.com/voip.

"It was striking how everyone was wondering around sounding very authoritative," he told Times Online. "But this is quite a prosperous place and people were just accessing the web on their laptops."

Montego Bay is on Jamaica's north coast and therefore escaped the worst of the season's first hurricane, which blasted past the south of the island, sending winds of up to 150mph slamming into Kingston, the capital. But it still brought down trees and covered roads in debris.

Mr Susskind arrived in Montego Bay on Friday with his wife, two teenaged sons and 12-year-old daughter. The first inkling they had of an impending storm was when they read about it in Jamaican newspapers on the airplane over - although it was not yet clear which way it was headed.

Yesterday morning, the resort was evacuated and its 220 remaining guests - quite a few American tourists had already flown home - were transferred to the conference centre inland. The storm began to whip up at around 6pm, by which time wireless internet access had been lost, and hit its peak some three hours later.

For news and updates on WiMax logon to : www.knowingabout.com/wimax.
Speaking at around 5am local time, Mr Susskind said: "I think the feeling around here appears to be more of relief than anything else. There were lots of trees falling down but it's completely still now, eerily so in fact.

"Dawn is beginning to break and although the roads are completely covered in debris from the trees, there is no sign of any radical damage."

He added: "In my room, there are about a hundred sun lounger mattresses laid out head-to-toe. Everyone's been amazingly well behaved. They've even had a no-alcohol rule, which made me smile.

"There's going to be some kind of advance party, police and military, to look at the state of the resort and then I think they will make an announcement after breakfast.

"What I've been most impressed by is the Jamaican people looking after us. They've obviously got families of their own living nearby but they've managed to look after us really well - not quite as laid back as normal, perhaps, but incredibly supportive.

"It's been a curious experience for us all, a bit of an adventure. And weatherwise, things can only get better."

Hi All. I recently received a Grundig S350 as a gift from my son. They were on sale at the time, and after reading all the reviews he could find on MW DX, decided it was the best "bang for the buck" at that time.

I love this radio! Like I said, it's primarily for AM DX. Unfortunately, I use it in my basement office were the reception is spotty at best. Picking up local stations is no problem, but DX'ing from inside an 8" thick concrete foundation is out of the question. Above the basement, such as using the radio on the second floor, I can actually pick up Montreal stations 300 miles away with no external antenna!

So I need a remotely mounted, external antenna to get full use of my radio from the basement. My options are limited: I don't have a good yard for a long wire or beverage. Whatever I use will be confined to the roof top or inside the house. I have a small DC motor ideal for rotating the antenna remotely from the basement, but any tuning capacitors would have to be near the radio.

What I would REALLY like to do is put together the longest ferrite bar possible, with an optimum number wire turns around it, connected to a coax which would run down to my office and clip into the external antenna connections on the radio. A separate control line will also run down there for rotating the antenna.

I have not been able to find much info on external ferrite bar antennas. Could this be because there is no advantage to ferrite over an air core antenna outside of the radio?

So my question(s): Are there any plans or illustrations for an MW DX ferrite bar antenna available anywhere? (Web, ARRL pubs, etc) Is it just a matter of connecting 2 or 3 feet worth of ferrite bars with epoxy and then winding as many turns of light gauge wire as possible around it? Do I need any sort of balun or isolation transformer? (Lightning protection is not an issue. I always disconnect my antennas when not in use)

Thanks,
Denno

If the CC-SW includes the $99 tunable twin coil then I think they forgot to include the necessary antenna tuning controls. I don't see them. Absent any proof that the entire Twin Coil Antenna antenna and controls are in the CC-SW I think we have to assume the radio includes a ferrite rod antenna that is wrapped with two coils, as any other MW/LW recceiver would have.

An improper TVCT is theoretically illegal - the FCC regulations incorporate the ATSC standard - but I suspect the Commission will settle for the station being on the air at all and using a virtual channel number that doesn't conflict with anyone else...

In any case, no extra equipment is necessary to do it right. It's just a matter of properly setting up the equipment the station already has. Of course, that does require a qualified engineer, which is usually more expensive than better equipment.....

The data comes from an FCC spreadsheet.

I think channel 62 (and 64) are on Mt. Diablo, quite a bit further from Sacramento than the other stations.

FCC figures do indicate roughly 20% of the audience nationally is still using an antenna as their only source of TV. (this figure varies wildly between markets) A considerably larger number of people have cable/satellite on some TVs but also have some sets that aren't connected.

20% is definitely a minority, but it does reflect 60 million Americans!

There's a Zenith antenna out there that's designed to work only on UHF but people have found it's OK for channels 7-13 as well. Channels 2-6 are a lost cause on that antenna, but there are very few DTV stations planning on using those channels. (you should check before buying one though, and make sure your city isn't one of the exceptions!)

In theory, the old UHF loops would always have worked better when bent parallel to the table surface. All TV stations' signals have a horizontally-polarized component - almost none (especially on UHF) have a vertical component.

Experts are finding that the old-fashioned "bow-tie" antennas (with the flat screen behind them) are the most effective DTV antennas. In theory they're only good for UHF but people are reporting decent results on channels 7-13 as well.

The point I'm trying to make is that "Burr" makes unsupported statements about Vonage going into bankruptcy without having an understanding of what such a statement really means.

He also signs up for a service after having problems getting simple questions answered by Vonage beforehand. Indeed he characterizes them as a poor company. I'm finding it difficult to understand what a public complaint about Vonage on rec.radio.shortwave is supposed to accomplish if he makes decisions like that.

Is he looking for sympathy?

I asked a tech at C Crane about the controls for the Twin Coil antenna and he said, "the radio takes care of that." Remember: if the C Crane

How exciting! Are the astronauts sober? Did the love birds all get along this trip? With Casanova astronauts, love triangles, diapers and kidnappings and all it's a wonder they have time to be "heroes". I guess since computers do all the important tasks that leaves the "heroes" with plenty of free time.

What a colossal waste of taxpayers money. The make jobs operation called NASA should have been defunded decades ago. If the egg head PhD.'s want to play space cadets they should do it at their own expense or by private enterprise. Instead, hard working average Americans are forced to pay for it.

I guess you have to give credit to the NASA public relations machine though. They've managed to perpetuate the con game for over 40 years now in spite of the glaring incompetence of the agency.

Ironic, that the very technology that permits you to publish worldwide this diatribe about NASA....is a by-product of the space program.

Johnny America Speaks Out

"what's this freedom war against Life for again"?

Hannity is a perfect example of what a neocon is. It's a one way communications system. He tells us what we think, and he'll never takes our calls, they won't read our emails, and they'll continue to pretend WE don't exist. AND... when WE die, they'll be richer for it. AND you'll be dead, your innocent brother will be dead, your innocent child will be dead. No evidence against an accused is US being truly abused. George Walker Bush is Guilty for 911, while every irrational bushite is a traitor to the American Family.

ABCNEWS.com : FBI Called off Terror Investigations

THERE ARE certain principles that we would all agree to publicly speaking. There are criminals who don't like these ideas, but they ain't going to speak out against us. Example 'I don't want to be held accountable to the American public, cause I want to steal that 16 billion dollars for myself. That's my public opinion.' What are we going to do but defend ourselves of deathly lawless tyranny, eventually. Or, you won't by DECIDING not to decide. Support our rise as the top cop of Humanity, coming down for diplomatic talks to engage the flagrant wanton stupidity of the bushite grunters. All on hopes you'll consider also, these Kingly texts worth a couple hedge funder salaries, a sixty cent barrel of oil marked up to 74 dollars, or a thousandth of the money America would save in a year, if you adopted Canadian Health care systems overnight for yourself to immediately provide all People the respect for life we deserve. Or don't, and needlessly continue to pay twice as much, while dying broke as self made losers without a cause worth preserving.

One in Ten Thousand

UN's Admission: Lebanon Was Right All Along
http://www.globalresearch.ca/index.php?context=viewArticle&code=COO20070816&articleId=6568

/ / Last month its cartographers quietly admitted that Lebanon is right in claiming sovereignty over a small fertile area known as the Shebaa Farms, still occupied by Israel. Israel argues that the territory is Syrian and will be returned in safuture peace talks with Damascus, even though Syria backs Lebanon's position. The UN's admission has been mostly ignored by the international media. \ \

Nazi zionists gave US Jews a bad rap again I see. They're despicable criminal savages the neocon.. who steal the rights and privileges of US peopled folks, all to fall victimized with their self confessed contempt for love and justice.
Condi's crew dropped seven million land mines to murder ourselves for generations, and, shouldn't she and the neocons responsible be put to death for such conducts?? If not then, when? discuss.. They openly target innocent human beings indiscriminately without apology, but excuses that don't hold water. Not that corporate news professionals are even pouring! It's most definitely the re-occurring true story of a censored mankind with You as it's innocent victim. For, what human would support victimizing others for the tyranny of blind terror? Only bushite amerika would fall silent under such self contempt for our constitutions.

"Blame innocent Jews" the holocaust denying zionist shout, of which not one, is a real Jew.

Do you care to buy the bushite lies, when they commit openly the very same terrorist acts they say we should all be outraged against? Somalia is a case to point. They murder helpless people as bushite, then say they'll remain dying to thieve further as enemies to Humans being. It doesn't fool me, but perhaps it does you. A neocon soldier murders innocent Iraqis, while selling you they are all there risking their lives to bring freedom. So, they die. For lies. Die.
Again, KNOWN Aegis goons openly commit crimes against Iraq done officially to get killed! the supposed to be Patriot Marine. P2OG. Soldiers under bushite command would rather die cowardly, than to honorably demand the bushmob's arrest for public trials as defeating ungodly fascist war criminals.

Why suffer otherwise this way under the tyrannies of naked neocon plunder to deny our lives for measured justice I ask YOU again, please believe: truth will set us free.

Al-Qaida = General Mahmoud Ahmad = ungodly bushite liars

I can't understand why you can't help get this party up as starting by supporting our rise to highest acclaim with my authority free willed to anyone. Let's face it, we're great because Your great. However, for greed, corporate america aren't taking our concerns nightly. We want Justice, and WE will get it if we reflect together with impeccable credentials as standing with measured reason for proper assessment on rights making might. Who is who here, a freeing peoples I tell you, arriving to bring a true patriotism to Life for US.
Are you with yourself as respected an equal under the law devised fairly for all concerned parties?.. well then... let's g o ! ! !

be Great!,
for here comes the mighty,

Johnny America - make way! make way!

/ / Or, instead, maybe you'll idly watch some innocent person willfully be sent to prison by liars in your demonized name, to defend the ungodly evils of war criminal traitor, our Mr.
Bush Jr. in foolish disguises. Your call Bud. \ \

Gaffney "It is not George Bush, it is not the Neocons"

"," = swinging pocket watch

It is God's fault, that is of yourself also, that we, leaderlessly, allow bush to further escape rightful public trial then life term imprisonment. This world could be so magnificent, if that demon bushmob wasn't criminally getting sacrificed so many dying leaderless American People left undefended.

You.

bushite talk about random killing of godly persons http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=OHvtIL_TRGE

"You can basically kill anyone you want"

/ / Just a "few bad apples"? I don't think so, this is much more widespread from what those soldiers were saying, and SANCTIONED. \ \

Look, a bushite would kill an American child too. When or will Americans become American? Death to the bushite, death to the enemies of Man. Again, national bushite broadcaster, George Norry stated he'd go ballistic against any American soldier who refused to murder for the neocon as traitors, and "America" STILL refuses to speak in their own defense for dying. Death to the bushite, death to the enemies of Freedom for America.

The anti-Semitic LIAR zionist Jack van Impe show ".. Religious terrorists, such as Ahmadinejad of Iran, bin Laden, and Hamas, and Hizbollah, all promote the extermination of Israel and Jews!"

See how zionists lie to God and Man to thieve and murder for the antichrist enemy of all civilization?

I'm the Jew's Jew, and I'll tell you, I get only mostly praises. True, bushite fight in darkness where we gloriously destroy them for Love and Life, but to pronounce publicly in dishonor against GOD personally has so far, well.. we live and learn, while bushite die as enemies of EVERYONE.

/ / "as the bullets began to fly, the blood sprayed from between her eyes, and then I laughed maniacally." [, then were heard the cheers of godless bushite dumfuk traitors obscening to God and Man as the unholy enemy.] \ \

http://youtube.com/results?search_query=%22hadji+girl%22&search=Search

Look, listen to soldiers who sing about the joys of murdering innocent young girls, see their faces in the videos celebrating the murder of girls LOVED by GOD and ME, and question: Why won't you as an American assist Christ in the glorious hunt. Nothing better in this world than to bill a murderous bushite who claims it's lawless to this suffering Universe, ruled criminally by the demon antichrist enemy of ALL HUMAN LIVES. All religions want US to defend GOD - please help me take on all challengers. We want a fight to death with that dishonorable pro child killer bush bitch nazi "Marine" in a cage match to earn world title of greatest fighters. Pump it up, Johnny's coming Home to end the reign of bushite tyranny by taking on demonic enemies of Our children, me, or US. Death to the bushite, death to the enemies of GOD. I promise to put on one hell of a good show. HELP ME!

Where is the Evidence?

How so can all of Iranian Military Officers be "terrorists", while lawless bushite bomb defenseless innocent peoples indiscriminately routinely, with praises from the actual demon antichrist responsible personally for 911 I want to know. NOW. Kill a bushite THIEF for American Freedom why don't You victimized Peoples of Earth? A bushite kills bushite for stolen nickels. Examples: Aegis, Condi's land-mines, fixed elections, torturing. driving over children, blahblahblah..

Why will you not as a member of Humanity, make the call to the Coast to Coast radio network of demon evil nazi savages who deny your legitimate concern be addressed freely?
Hate God and Love do you? Couldn't care less could you for the giving lives of ignorant Americans as an American?
George Norry isn't as stupid as he wishes you believe him to be, when he supports lawless carnage against the innocent, to help escape those truly responsible for 911.

The Case of Kenneth Foster: Texas Prepares to Execute Man for Driving a Car Near Scene of Murder http://www.archive.org/download/dn2007-0809/dn2007-0809-1_64kb.mp3 http://www.democracynow.org/article.pl?sid=07/08/09/140214

http://www.freekenneth.com/Foster's%20subsequent%20writ%20final.pdf

A JOHNNY AMERICA EMERGENCY

"The prosecution's case was based on the unchallenged and unexplored inference that Steen's testimony provided. Because this evidence was not tested at all, and Dillard [was not allowed as] never called as a witness, Foster was denied the effective assistance of counsel."

There is no criminal intent alleged as found here. Therefore, Foster is innocent of the crime he is going to be murdered by the fascist enemy State as.

"Steen's testimony supplied the basis for the inference that such a conspiracy existed."

No it doesn't, never did. Despite the Prosecution's hypno mugger insistence to the incompetent jury, "that it's a no brainer."

Texas Prosecutor "Foster and Brown understood they were there to commit another "jack" [robbery]."

No, this was not established by the facts, or testimony to the jury. However, even still, would not warrant a conviction for attempting murder.

Texas Prosecutor "You remember Julius Steen's testimony? He said that he was riding shotgun, he had a certain job to do"

This is unreasonable inference. For he didn't state he had a job to do in his dream state of sleeping for unique murder strategies about to be implemented with his direct "shotgun" cooperation as a mastering the mind sleeper cell, a jargin' specialist don't you know., Aiee boiee

A Lawyer quipped: "What is the difference of voluntary manslaughter to first degree murder in the new America? Twenty to life."

America's legal politeness is too generous. The Prosecutors in this murderous case are tremendously unqualified as unjust, and should be minimally disbarred. If not out right arrested for contempt, as for attempted murder! The accused had not earlier murdered their armed robbery victims, surviving victims that Foster was testified as visibly and aurally upset about. Look EVEN IF four guys do a bank robbery, and one guy stays back to molest the 'homeless' mascot baboon crying on the street in crisis, or flies to Vegas to short change the money girl of her holdings, doesn't leave the others 'involved' to fall guilty of everything associated to any as all automatically without question allowed uttered ever. Such as, why isn't the Texas community guilty also of Capital Murder for excepting some in Texas as themselves are lawed unfairly by unquestioningly excepting the State's Prosecutor for the government is formally granting our defense of no counter? Forbidden cross examination of the State's definition of a witness's statement as co-accused is definitely un-constitutional. Who was the jury really and how did they not know what was absent as American jurisprudence there? Who was the Texan "Judge" to find no outrage in absence of argument for 'final' verdict? What was he to judge, if the defense council's request to be heard wasn't recognized?

If we measurably site the bushmob as anti-Iraqi nazi savages, thieves and murderers, as not America's way to US arriving coppers, should we therefore arrest ourselves wrongly for undermining freedom for the suffering World? Like the Bushmob wants to do in stealing monies from those who speak such truths for Justice on behalf of our Humanity?

Armed robbery is the most serious of offenses outside of rape or murder, and deserve seriously termed prison sentences for the convicted, [of which I'm not convinced Foster is guilty of either despite his guilty plea] however, Repuglicons ROB from America hundreds of billions with earmarks by threat of false accusation by gun toting bushite loyalists, and no Texas Prosecutors are calling for the arrests of those that "voted" so, let alone warranting their death sentences for not acting sooner. The Prosecutor's "no brainer" insistence that Foster is guilty of murder, apparently, doesn't however apply under his conditions to the two remaining others present. Unless the Prosecutor believes someone here is going to get away with capital murder... That's of course if we buy the State's interpretation of a sleeper's dream.

Foster's Legal Council "These circumstances deprived Foster of a fair trial every bit as much as if their testimony were suppressed by the State,"

King Johnny Wizard Proclaims:

Kenneth Foster is declared innocent on the charge of murder.

Rick Perry, the TRAITOR, will be tried and executed for Capital Murder in this specific case if Foster is not acquitted by his State party. Under Texas law, those who willingly participated in what would be a state sponsored first degree murder, would also be guilty. 'Law of Parties'?

Please, as an American, defend your freedom as if your life depended on it.

The Law Man,
Johnny America

Pro-mass murderer war criminal Kristol once again, speaking freely to Jon Stewart unchallenged internationally on Our TVs as "Two Jews" stated..

"We don't believe in original sin."

Colbert half an hour later, "Are you calling Jesus a liar?"

Now, that's funny..

See? Jon Stewart isn't Jewish, for he's not black, and he speaks no words in defense of the innocent robbed and murdered in his "Jewish" name. A Zionist! He wants to sound our public voice silent where a Hitler or Kristol marches innocent others into gas chambers by calling ourselves terrorists without a thread of evidence to thieve from as unworthy. Few know, Hitler was a staunch Zionist too. The excuse would be, but G-D is worse.. because, as the "Two [atheist] Jews", they can commit no sin against Christ by trumpeting demon evil lies as if, we have no stronger indivisible arguments present in OUR defense ever for Just causes. AND, he's near the best our American national TV media has to offer!

Did you see Jon Stewart whore himself to Albright TOO!, the physco nazi witch who holds no regret in the murder of more than 500,000 CHILDREN? I believe, Jon Stewart suffers from the ignorance of Celebrity more so, than a genuine hatred for Humanity.. as that is the fault of most TVed Americans. Nothing more greater than getting on the boob tube, to really make your mark on this fleeting world as they sell their life away for nothing but the privilege to be recognized at a gala swarray.. fed on the victimized innocent of Humanity left robbed as worthless their grand stage. His show is often quite bright however, and leastly, reminds people, that CNN, CBC, and FOXNEWS isn't the be all and end all of respect for US caring viewers.

but looksee.. EVIL is real though -

THINK of how Truly evil a person would be to lie for CNN on this issue.. a "Jew"? would do this?..
A "Jew"?

/ / The inflammatory words MEMRI blasted the US media with were when the young caller "Sanable" was supposed to have said "we will annihilate the Jews" were not even mentioned by the caller or by anyone else in that clip. \ \

SEE! A ZIONIST SAID, "we will annihilate the Jews"

http://www.frontpagemag.com/Articles/ReadArticle.asp?ID=25994

/ / When hundreds of millions are calling for the extermination of the Jews of Israel this is more than a lie; it is a blood libel. \ \ This is like satanic neo-nazi EVIL no?

See? Zionists are nazi betrayers to GOD ALMIGHTLY, for they believe we do not have any power great being Loving for others. You WILL see how GREAT we destroy the bushite, then you'll know what joy love for god as innocence is. And then You'll know for sure, how WE truly are as Just and Free.
And, kinda scary Being all godly and such..

Demon evil enemy neocon George Norry is a naked traitor to History:

"..Show me proof that there are real demons"

You, George Norry are a demon because you purposefully broadcast to my America the need for neoconned soldiers to die for the lawless demon antichrist, knowing full well, you work 'happy' to escape the 911 perpetrators of American Wrath, like General Ahmad, with your truly evil demonism about Life, and betrayal to freedom for US humans.. George Norry is 'the evil spirits' he says you can never find. Evidence.

What?

There is no found honor in a thiefs paradise of neocon plunder my friends, no honor.

Have you seen the documented murders of INNOCENT MEN trying to defend their community from lawless nazi dope pushing fundamentalist savages?, just recently released by those who fly in the antichrist's apaches? If you see these things that are in the demonic neoconned dishonorable "Air Force" at your dinner table, talking like human to enemy George Norry, or just walking down our streets like Aegis tries, kill them justly for Yourself, Freedom, GOD, and me, please, Thankx. George Norry, and company claim to have justification in murdering helpless suspects, I say, they don't. Death to the bushiter LIARS, death to the enemies of Man.

Elected Governments All Over The World

British MP Galloway and Richard Perle on TV together!! http://youtube.com/watch?v=nu4GBnxi3wc

Galloway "These are the people who have overthrown elected governments all over the world. and he [Richard Perle] comes on your program to prattle about democracy. These people don't want democracy, they want slave governments. If it's a slave dictatorship - that's fine. If it's a slave elected government - that's also fine. The only thing that matters is that the government is a slave government. That is why they will never invade Egypt. They will never invade Saudi Arabia. They only invade countries, or threaten to invade countries, who stand against them and who refuse to be slaves to them. That is why they hated Iraq, that's why they hate Iran. That is why they hate Syria. Of all the faults of all the three regimes in these three countries - they were never slaves to the United States, and that's why they were attacked. [...^] In Iran, 17 million people voted for the president, Ahmadinejad, and 10 million voted for his opponent Rafsanjani. Those 27 million are determined to exercise their right to nuclear power. The response of Bush and Perle is to threaten them with invasion. These are the people who murdered Salvador Allende, the elected president of Chile. These are the people who have overthrown elected governments all over the world."

911 Leaders Saying They Are Jesus
http://rss.nfowars.net/20070802_Thu_Alex.mp3

Jason Bermas "I just want to let people know, that if this is a hit piece that involves, you know, saying that we're all blaming the Jews, or the Zionists, or something ridiculous, where we go after an ethnic group, [Jason Bermas suggests "Jews" = "Zionists"?] 'we' can not be associated with ANTI-SEMITISM, space beams, utter kookery.

Alex Jones "Or Jesus! they have 911 leaders saying they are Jesus now. They have people saying it's space beams from Pluto. And folks, I've tracked these people, they all were formally in intelligence, or connected to the Bushes, the space beam thing came from a almost cabinet member level Bush member, and folks this is a setup to poison our movement."

Now??

I've given my phone number several times to Alex Jones, of which he's not as of yet, invited me on as official guest, for fears he can find no arguments against US I presume. 911 financier Ahmad = al Qaida, and we have molten iron on video flowing like water. Demon Bush Jr. gave US zero, while closing criminal investigations immediately after the terrorist offense of no questions!, no questions! Case closed. But no, the American media rarely if never mention these facts, while insisting Bush's deathly war criminalling is as only a puppet, look away! look away!, leaving without challenge on the, teen like naivety of wearechange.org's consistence that "we", who demand justice for 911, who might also hold the opinion that zionist behavior does not blindly equal being Jewish, should not be allowed to speak Justly for our public challenge, because bushite Amerika has no defense for censorship against ANY of our judicial wanting, as documented positions on behalf of the suffering to death victimized public. Why? Because we are Just. Well, I try to be anyway. (I've spoken as written for YEARS, with NO ONE WORLD WIDE countering in the public realm, but for the strangely odd insult. Bushite do exist, don't get god wrong, but dumb evil bushite brood in darkness with censorship like all zionists do, selling to be 'godly' honorable men, when in truth, they'd murder anyone of US for a stolen nickel given to a neocon. I, as open line talk radio producer, win every time, always, forever, never fail. [er.. yet..] Why? Because I treat YOU fairly. America should do the same. We are all in this together. Zionists like robbing then killing defenseless innocent Christians, and Jews, while just lying that they don't without scened factual TV perception. Demon 911 WITCH, zionist Condi 'okayed' the dropping of more than SEVEN MILLION land-mines on Lebanon, purposefully done to indiscriminately murder ourselves for generations. Jason might foolishly call you an "anti-Semite" in fear for speaking such not understood truths. And importantly, not because they can publicly disagree so in open debate, so sides to not allow US to rise in acknowledgement to bring about Justice as demanded, for ALL as ANY. (Gee, who's the neocon now eh? (we're all sinners.))

If Americans really want 911 Justice:

Help US out by putting the video of molten iron flowing like water out there in the minds of any who have doubts, tell them hypno mugger Bush, gave US zero to substantiate his public falsehoods, and tell US about Ahmad as more than a passing fact that means little of nothing, then, WE, The People, will believe this has more to do with Justice for Humanity, than the American suffering movie goer ego being, "leading the free world", by voicing no public concerns on the criminality of the bushmob shysters. Left happying in the George Norry, as a TRAITOR to a dying America not hearing. An enemy of Liberty to the, tried to be free soldier, who is led TO DIE still un-wittingly by lie for the misfortuned neocon bounty of global tyranny through coast to coast story lining. Look, the peenackers will tell you freakishly, that they work to lie to us all, to take advantage of a plain to view weakness. I swear. The neocon wants to con your kid to die for a war lied into with as our stolen goods. We lose as crime victims, while they win free accountability because, (well... I'll just let you finish that one liner sucker punch..)

Ron Paul Loves Ron Paul!
http://youtube.com/watch?v=eAvt7BdvJiM

"If you happen to be working for a big company, or the government, you get health benefits dirt cheap.[?] But if your trying to make it on your own, and you don't have insurance, you might be charged two or three time more than the government will pay!"

Almost. PBS showed a man who fell from a ladder, broke a rib, and was bankrupt from his near $250,000+ bill for, for private "free market" health care. Money demanded that doesn't go to the doctors, nurses, or "public" hospitals. So what is Ron Paul saying about Ron Paul? I'd wager, he doesn't know himself, and fears like FOXNEWS from open debate of those who try to teach US to walk through his own argument, (or follow the money (al-Qaida=Ahmad)) and find the fault of all proud blind Libertarians. Look, don't you want the best service possible for the dollars expended? Why give your BASIC health care treatment dollars to a do nothing shareholder, or hedge fund CEOer for procedures, who's success is not made better by needlessly increasing the costs for nothing but selfish sicko greed by bribe payers. Again, rarely are those that "earn" billions in public health care, care givers, but takers. Someone ask Dr. Ron Paul, or Ross Perot, why those with leverage, are able to negotiate better deals through intelligent design, leaving others as single payers, (poor unrepresented pension people,) to flip their expenses? Do we want to publicly sanction screwing over the poor with ignorance, to feed the pay no taxes either, talentless as lowly, highest ranking rich? I suppose if it means radiation treatments.. anti-psychotics or, the play time of genetically altered vaccine strains of true quackery, as has to be done trustingly religious on someone for our money. Money lost as investment on privilege in the market equation of lowering the human capital available to maximize the de-profiting of our shares for nothing but money grubbers. Again, Americans pay TWICE as much as Canadians per-capita, where for those dollars Canadians get full coverage, while Americans are then expected to go out and buy insurance now. TWICE. (Did you know that DO NOTHING hedge fund managers can "earn" as much as 1.7 billion per year in salaries by nickel and dooming everything? And, it's only an elite small few who are 'lawed' to do so? Now, who would want that in a free to be me democracy?)

traffic light for commies, traffic light for commies

A dying waged - by the painfully wealthy status-quo ignoramuses "this is the first step to socialized medicine!!" ahhh!!! caring doctors with calculators are connecting for better prices to improve care.. We'll take less and they'll be free to think.. FOR THEMSELVES! AHHH!!! bare ass and run for cover!! embarrass for. a caring Doctor with math skills and Law is a comin' round, play smart stupid. "What do we do again"?, play smart stupid. . (`_`)

To fix this we must decide what this issue that encompasses the "Health Care Industry", is passing ourselves away off as. Politicians who promote pushing the power of pill popping to purchase your placated peace of mind is perturbed.,

Do Republicans mean to bring health care suffering out of control with no market values, because truly they have little of no skills when it comes to fixing their own buffoonery? Hmm... unless they count to hide the bean all together, fixing the game intentionally to have US lose by remote controlling stupidity! 300 channels, and nobody's taking our call from the space cased file of, "what's this freedom war against Life for again"? Look, is mercury as a medicine good or bad do you think?, let's ask someone for Christ's sake. Or for Deb, Henry, Bill, Beth, Mark, Carol or Tony. Johnny Wizard, our everyday normal magic man of folklore, opens up the stage to ask all the people together, "Are we Man or machine to take this all lying down quietly"? We need to talk about what a King like me, is doing in a place like this, under appreciated, and left alone without my home, dying for a break in radio programming, as President of the company that started the sands running, Shareware Earth Co., a god-like production of miracle and wonder!! You just participate, and you won't even believe how good we could have it, Rejoice, for Johnny Jesus has come down for diplomatic talks. Give away! Give away!

Again, CNN, CBC, and FOXNEWS, (who advertise their listening) suggest G.W. Bush and Co. have publicly acted nothing warranting immediate arrest, or have openly supported the great Kucinich's plan for Impeachment, and consequently, are leveraging America into this mess 'because' we were portrayed as sold to the U.N. for freedom as Iraqi's Grand Strategy. BOGUS! Nothing about the PLANNING of killing people indiscriminately for financial criminal gains as bonafide terrorists, for we had unrestricted access prior to dropping bombs for mangy LIAR neocons. ORHA. I have yet heard FOXNEWS complain in pains of liar BUSH personally being the al-Qaida cause responsible, (like Alex Jones sells foolishly falsely also) More than a million INNOCENT people have been murdered directly by the criminal action of the broken Bush Rule, UN-CONSTITUTIONAL! Don't they know of what You speak? Now???

Make it so,

President and CEO of Shareware Earth Co.
King Johnny Wizard

Christ is Person ! ! !

A reminder: Peres, the Devil demon LIAR, sounds as sweet as any little old man could, but for the fact that he LIES about targeting innocent godly people for murder! While playing ignorance, as if, he doesn't faith G-D as a real Jew would from Israel. Zionists are atheists who lie as neocons who sacrifice all for ill gotten money stolen from US as the blind foolished already with G-D from the Ol? Testament, all on how this Life suspends storied belief as Divine, to say finally, out loud, "hey wait a minute, who's in charge here?", is really something of a miracle. At least when I say it.

Justice to the bushite, Justice to the enemies of America, so called out the Son to God as King of men:

BELIEVE!

Like, so in walks this, out of work time Lord who thinks to converse to the masses about the most basic of reasons to save the lives of innocent others, leaving him convinced, he really needed an audience for this fable to rise as profitable venture. So, it was followed to make it out there in this real world, is to care for Justice measured. All done so to bring greater hope for a better future as all would follow, boy, were they surprised!

Johnny Wizard has arrived..

Spare me some money won't you please for this art of tragedy?

P.S. I'm still hoping that Coast to Coast will bill me godman co-host, all to openly address these freedom for all operations, with Justice ruling our way over the irrational tyrannies practiced by others happily blinded. Evidence is required to convince ourselves on who is good or evil. Period. Don't like it? Too bad. We are on charged!!

Intelcenter.com = alqaida videos you can get nowhere else!

It is important to also realize, this intecenter terror bringer does nothing to sell the arrest of the actual perpetrators of 911 by supporting our Policed requirement to form actual evidenced conclusions in our the land of the make believe. Now, who personally are these pro-bushite anti-American terror scripters, and what is it going to take to find an informed citizenry out in these here parts, to make the proper conclusions by phone calling for furthering our infos around to channels of command of the big ringers in the sky. I'm sure we's a be furious over these facts of high treason in America if we were allowed to freely say as much on our radios and TVs. Al-Qaida = General Mahmoud Ahmad

That's what I'm talking about.

BUSHITE AMERKA CLAIMS THIS DOESN'T WARRANT THE DEATH SENTENCE?

Again, evil bushite THIEVES claim they are justified when indiscriminately bombing populated cities to MURDER US People.

General Johnny would teach MY soldiers to immediately arrest to kill for such criminality. In fact, I'd likely even throw in some bonus cash, an a Freedom medal from all lovers of Liberty. Did you know, many bushite sing a song about killing innocent young girls for pleasure? Did you know that also, an "American" radio host likes playing that same song as recorded on "American" airwaves? Fight back for God, or die from self contempt my friends, fight back for life and love.

Again, evil bushite THIEVES claim they are justified when indiscriminately bombing populated cities to MURDER US People. All to help 'escape' the neocon ENEMIES of America - they also support "officially" destroying Our public infrastructure, thieving humanitarian aid, while incarcerating innocent people to collectively be punished by the TRULY Satanic enemies of GOD. Ten "CIA" bushite enemies have been found to have kidnapped near one thousand innocent Americans to be tortured to death, in tyrannical nations friendly under American funding by Bush unquestioningly. Fight back for your neighbor, fight back for America, fight back for YOURSELF. Or, don't.

See the bushite, you bill it for Christ, You bill it for America, You bill it for them, you bill it for US.

/ / Why did the Army, within three hours, return to tell neighbors that this was the work of insurgents apparently without any investigation? \ \

See? in Johnny's world, that "the Army" person would have been the FIRST questioned, then likely arrested. But look, it hasn't even been acknowledged as evil doing in progress. (Every time you read, "The Army says..", become aware.)

It should be noted, ungodly bushite enemy commanders call every car bomb in Iraq, al-Qaida, without even pretending to do freedom operations for YOUR protections, as just another dead body in the rubble. (Likely caused by Aegis for cash profit.) So then, look my friends, Amerka refuses to demand justice to save the lives of their very own sons and daughters. And when, WE, Humanity, beg them to answer our calls for accountability, they refuse but for to LIE, stating publicly, "God" would grant robbing from innocent others, to enrich their great unholy tyrannical demon liar. They know easily that the bushmob did 911, and they like it. No, they crave it. The chance of murdering their own "loves" to enslave the human race for the antichrist, sounds great, just as long as they can get themselves in on the take.

/ / Idiot General Says Dead U.S. Troops Best Reason To Keep War Going And Kill More U.S. Troops

[Option B: More Dead U.S. Generals And Fewer Dead U.S.

If the sacrifice of soldiers lives is going to mean anything, it going to mean how long it took, Americans to care for themselves as really worth something. When, or if that day should come, it will be the day where Iraqis victims are seen, as just you or me. Today, there is nothing more i wish, than to hear bushite nazi savage thieves for the neocon die rightly, before the innocent they target for murder. All in an attempt to 'escape' those truly responsible for the crimes of 911 a bushite whore practices, as an enemy to Christ and America.

Just look at that my friends of Earth just look at that.
Americans speak only contempt for the value of human life.
Every day, INNOCENT Iraqis die by the criminal actions of the demonic neocon enemy forces of EVIL, and our deaths as the god loving mean nothing. A small few die in a bridge ACCIDENT, and every corporate channel devotes the entire day's news as it. Allawi confesses to killing children for "CIA" money, and there, as with the soldiers who braggingly, beat innocent children to death for sexual pleasure, bomb people indiscriminately, or steal all the humanitarian aid, don't command your slightest concern as impartial paying for it TV viewers. They say, US people who aren't "Americans", do not deserve due process, the freedoms they claim to own exclusively, of which WE, are granted nothing of. See?, by not using evidence to from your guilty verdicts, how can it be therefore possible, to know, you've arrested, tried, then executed a mass murdering NEOCON war criminal? I don't think Americans could possibly be more disrespectful to God and country, Johnny and Justice right now, do You?

http://existentialistcowboy.blogspot.com/2007/06/911-culprits-why-towers-really-fell.html

/ / We know that a crime was committed on 911. George W.

The part where pro-bush "American" soldiers drive over children to kill them for fun, all because they say our Humanity let's those responsible escape retribution for being Satanically evil as enemies to Christ, left me angered beyond words. While CNN, CBC, and FOXNEWS couldn't care less for those children, but will tell us, these 9 accident victims must rule, so far, two full days of wall to wall coverage. "Pro-Western" Allawi blowing up school buses for "CIA" money? Who cares? Really who cares in TV America for defending OUR children's lives I'm saying? Please, I beg you as the Son of Man, to fight back against those who threaten the lives of innocent American children, by forbidding defenses for US, the People. As recognized King of my forsaken World, this wouldn't happen I'm telling you. Support my rise to tax every American ten cents to start up my company of accountability. Running on free open line communications where ANYONE CAN CALL US, and call me a Jerk, just don't expect I wont fairly defend myself. Live broadcasts out in the fields, trumping evil demons by the power of the word. These individuals responsible for criminally victimizing American children, need to be arrested from continuing their action against our families. Support US please, to work on Just causes for the betterment of the human species, Or don't and die unworthy you bunch of bushite nazi savages.

We Have A Problem Here

Look, Bush closed investigations on 911 immediately, then started firstly on Iraq, for war mongering thieves, with General Ahmad escaping un-accosted for the neocon enemies. Not relevant? Your Constitution is laying undefended, a National act that can not be done by any other terrorist group but those who claim your freedom rights denied by bushite command. Not treasonous? Look Condi, the demon 911 nazi witch PERSONALLY assisted in dropping more than seven million land-mines on Lebanon indiscriminately in Your terrorized dying names. Hate Life and God as yourself do You?

Don't anyone be deceived that the neocon enemies minimally assisted these crimes by refusing to allow US pursue the evil doers by following the actual crime scene leads, but we lack REAL leadership skills that are naturally required to see molten Iron flowing like water from the 911 towers on YouTube. Oh golly gee, who is that theatrical man from Canada with all the answers on Justice for Peace with Freedom Ruling Supreme? with atheists and everything? A brilliant man given next to no chance at receiving acknowledgment in Bushite media amerikan impires.?

Ray McGovern on 911 broadcast nation-wide on the coast to coast radio network "What we need here is an investigation. There are answers out there, but no one has pursued the answers." Similarly, there are questions that we isn't [allowed] figuring.

"No one has pursued the answers"? Come on Ray, don't tell US, you have no internet access, or haven't seen the video of molten iron flowing like water... blahblahblah

These DEMONS need to be arrested, tried, and EXECUTED for TREASON. There is no evidence against Iran to substantiate their DEMON LIES to murder millions of People for the pleasures of the sadistic zionist enemies of Human Life, enemies of GOD as LOVE. Just because repuglicons like Liebermann, take bribes to murder US folks as the innocent, doesn't legitimize their treasonous conduct against YOU, my freedom loving dying brothers and sisters. Stand up for Jew Boy Johnny why dont You.

Who as America will bother to care they die by naked zionist criminal command? Johnny Wizard has been screaming for help to America, begging them to pick up their phones leastly, to air concern for the survival of the Nation, for YEARS! to publicly challenge happy happy, joy joy pro-child killer demon enemy George Norry and bullshitter no-national thief of Life Art Bell, and they've near completely refused while laughing and singing by who cares for you zionist news command. They, as America's Coast to Coast voices, would rather richly die YOU sacrificed for CRIMINAL zionist Israel, (Israel, where the government leaves actual Jews to die in the streets starving as garbage dumps, to make it look good for MORE giving American charitable donations to disappear elsewhere) before saving the lives of THEIR VERY OWN. Americans don't seem to care they die by their own unwillingness to communicate openly for Justice. I ask you again, to spare me a few dollars so I can feed myself. I am actually, near starving, and never in my most feared nightmares, thought this world, with our communication technology, would leave me without any financial assistance. I seriously need to eat. Please help me, by supporting our cause to not starve to death. If you appreciate my words in defense of the once great Human race, donate a few dollars to this cause. TRAITORS TO LIFE

"I told him, there's women and kids in that room," Lance Cpl. Humberto M. Mendoza said of Lance Cpl. Stephen B. Tatum. Tatum's response was, "Well, shoot them,"

If Americans don't proudly put to death Tatum, on behalf of the Family that lost their son, their Marine, Johnny will formally conclude, Bushite america is an ungodly evil nazi fascist state of intolerance and hate to US, the Great Human Race. Bushite amerka does not own Freedom, nor do they own our rights to be Just. Join me in demanding the Public execution of the satanic demon liar Tatum, on his Public insistence that murdering innocent families to thieve from for the neocon, is a crime not warranting the death sentence enforced by any family man. Death to the bushite. death to the enemies of man. The neocons will be arrested, tried, and executed for the crimes of 911 as traitors to Life.

Death to the bushite instead of the innocent loved in God

/ / IntelCenter issued a tacit warning that the footage may be re-hashed when they released the "new" tape to the media, but they failed to mention the fact that they released portions of the exact same clips in October 2003. \ \ amazingly - I witnessed blurred-out faces of those they claimed al-Qaida in another instance just recently. (Then, look at the dog fight vids that CNN and CBC refuse to show the dog haters faces in..)

I say American taxing payer folks, flip me some dollars, and I'll pay out rewards - after a moderate lunch - all to take these IntelCenter AL-QAIDA! - AL-QAIDA! - AL-QAIDA! straight to public trial, then public execution for high treason - like holy fuk mon let's get real here People. Or don't and we die further for bin Laden's fear of cameras. Offer a 500,000,000 dollar reward for Zawahererri's crew to get the rest of this done quick like. I wanna rock! Death to the neocon enemy LIARS, death to those who WAR - WAR - WAR innocent Humanity for the continuing bushmob's escape plan from nowhere. See? Heaven or Hell? YOU DECIDE.

Don't EVER forget, the private company Aegis has been officially found dressing up as AL-QAIDA! - AL-QAIDA! - AL-QAIDA! to murder pro-western forces in Iraq, while desecrating Elvis. Elvis Presley. If you don't love Elvis, there is something seriously wrong with America. Now yous messing with a real son-of-bitch. HeY!, question: why don't Americans kill a bushite for Yourself bud? - because Bushites insist "we're" willingly being led by the antichrist enemy of all human life as Satanic LIARS who intend to cheat ourselves of freedom through self respect. Pro-neocon-media enemies are nazi savages, and I don't like it..How about you?

Death to the bushite instead of the innocent loved in God

Time is Up

Al-Qaida Kagan "Al-Qaida, their whole strategy revolves around generating sectarian violence, because that is how they embed themselves within local communities "

What?? For friendship?

What is the demon TRAITOR to HUMANITY in America saying about the reasons he embeds an Iraqi under 50 odd divergent NEOCON labels? Wouldnt most Al-Qaida take great joy in killing a bushite nazi grunt like any real Family man would also? These LIAR dumfuk grunts who cheer "whore yeah", routinely, can barely read or write, so, how possibly does this FOXNEWS expert, expect such ungodly antichrist forces to delineate Al-Qaida from the local communities they PROVABLY indiscriminately bomb as Satanic?

Kristol and Kagan: Put Everything Behind Escalation So We Can Bomb Iran and Syria

Kristol and Kagan MUST be put to death for treason against America, treason against Life, treason against GOD. They both have continued to Publicly advocate murdering more innocent peoples indiscriminately they call, "Al-Qaida", all to rob further monies from an undefended America. It is easily learned by any as all, the victims of bushite tyranny are exclusively, US, The People, guilty of nothing but our shared love of GOD. Remember forever: there was NO JUSIFIED REASON for bombing PEACEFUL Samara, NONE! that bombers confess was done as ordered by Allawi INDISCRIMINATELY, all for getting killed Marines sent in later for more stolen cash from America. P2OG. [hundreds of bushited Marines died rightly almost immediately - (wow eh?)] A Satanic action, Kistol and Kagan, both blame without thought to question on "Al-Qaida".

The action of Satanic bushite bombers targeting Samara as war criminals is FULLY documented.

Death to the bushite neocon LIARS, death to the enemies of Freedom for Humanity. My beloved friends of GOD, please, when you see the mute bushite, kill it for Christ, kill it for Love, kill it to defend your loved family. (Any soldier who doesn't proudly talk of how it hunts those British soldiers who kidnapped barefoot children and victimized them on video, is a soldier worth destroying NOW to defend GOD and Life from needless death.) I HATE the REAL demon antichrist Christ says.

Kagan "You rarely know in the middle of a war, what the outcome will be."

Johnny Wizard the Creator "I win."

/ / The US has also been backing some pro-western politicians like Iyad Allawi \ \

Do you know who Allawi is? Allawi confesses to blowing up school buses filled with children for "CIA" money. NOT THEORY. HE ADMITS IT AS AN ACTUAL SATANIC DEMON! Allawi, the truly insane mad man, confesses to having ordered the murder of doctors and nurses that treated wounded god loving women and children from Fallujah. It was these DOCUMENTED acts that had him thrown out of 'the CBC, CNN, and FOXNEWS TV expert scene as workable', all for fears that US humans might actually wake the fuk up on WHO is Our True Enemies here. All three, pro-private-bank zionist news stations are well aware that the bushmob did 911, but lie to YOU as forsakenly dying for their growing riches and world wide broadcast fame.

CBC National Newz - July 11th 'tens of thousands have died in Iraq since the war against truth started.'

Anyway, these two Allawi incidences are fully documented, look it up, then demand the "The US" pro-western politician person quoted as supporting Allawi - be found guilty of CRIMES AGAINST HUMANITY, Demand publicly, having the neocon zionists EXECUTED by America, for America, as America. A Just America that defends America from criminal madness. Or don't. Death to the bushite, death to the enemies of Man I say.

ABCNEWS.com : FBI Called off Terror Investigations

A question Johnny Wizard has for America: Tell me, is this not a treasonous act - for Bush to close criminal investigations, immediately after the terrorist crimes of 911? Shouldn't the demon enemy be put to arrest for that godless act alone in this forsaken dying world? A world left instead suffering further the tyrannies of the war criminal ENEMY of all Human Life?

A refresher: the neocon will tell you openly, they live to lie to the Public for cheating and stealing by murder of US as proxied, innocent peoples purposefully enslaved by a made ignorantly entranced TV audience that is repeatedly reminded, we have no power worth respecting.

CNN, CBC, and FOXNEWS aren't taking are calls presently, but just lie and tell US they do. Look to see, almost all political internet traffic condemns Bush straight to hell well he rightly belongs, but the polls still say no - WE, seeking for Just cause, are the minority.. just roll over and die for the neocon betrayers to god and country, life and loving.

George Bush "The same folks that are bombing innocent people in Iraq were the ones who attacked us in America on September the 11th"

George Bush 'Iraq has nothing to do with 911, you bunch of nazi dumfuk grunting LOSERS. Whore yeah - praise Satan - die America die. I mean... I love Jesus'

So it was as I thought too: the direct co-operation of the joint chiefs of staff assisting General Ahmad, in committing the murder of thousands in America on 911 for the neocon TRAITORS, as the same 'escaping' enemies today, responsible for 'secretly' ordering these indiscriminate terror attack bombings against YOUR Humanity for their continuing stolen pleasures as Satanic.

/ / U.S. Marines are said to have killed as many as eight unarmed Iraqi prisoners when U.S. forces attacked Fallujah in November of 2004. \ \

WE KNOW they murdered everyone they could in around between 15-55, but went ahead gunning for infants and the elderly too under Sattler. Look it up. Death to the demonic bushite LIARS, death to the enemies of Man, so says the Son to God as Man to men - Kill the dishonorable bushite enemy and be Loved by all as Savior.

DEMON MURDERER PETER POWER TRIES TO LIE HIS SOCKS OFF ABOUT HOW HE MURDERS LONDONERS AS A FOR REAL TERRORIST RECRUITER

[letter written as signed by Peter Power to MSNBC et al.]

/ /It is confirmed that a short number of 'walk through' scenarios planed [sic] well in advance had commenced that morning for a private company in London (as part of a wider project that remains confidential) and that two scenarios related directly to terrorist bombs at the same time as the ones that actually detonated with such tragic results. \ \

OBSTRUCTING JUSTICE FOR AMERICA

Tony Snow "The executive branch is under no compulsion to testify to Congress because Congress, in fact, doesn't have oversight abilities."

IT LOOKS like they are going to attempt making the move of BLATANTLY TREASONOUS war criminals acting to measurably now destroy yOur Freedoms in godless America. The Satanic neocon's 'faith', is in that YOU as an American, will watch the same corporate drivel that offers next to nothing to empower YOURSELF to speak Justly for a dying America. Instead of demanding 24 hour, wall to wall news coverage, of war criminals going down one by one by the will of Man to Justice, CNN, CBC, and FOXNEWS will broadcast your blind 'belief' that you are only a impartial viewer, who doesn't really care about dying right in front of yourself for the zionist's riches, and great worldly power of tyranny through lawless nazi bushite censorship.

AMERICA HATES BUSHITE

Nationally broadcasted every day across America, Mr. George Norry publicly supports the murder of innocent Arab children, and I'm beginning to really hate a silent dying America for it. Speak to defend the innocent in this world American, or die yourself from self contempt.

Bushites war LIFE itself. So then pleads I again the Son to God, as Man to Men: war to kill the enemy bushite nazi savage thieves, for real Freedom is waged truly by Just causes. The mute, pro-censorship/tyranny THIEVING bushite savaged nation, has NO EXCUSE for the crimes they have committed in our dying names. I demand our voices heard internationally for Justice as Freedom is Godly.

To, with a Love in your Heart for GOD, kill such contempt for Human life, is to serve American freedom to the last bushite neocon breathing. Death to the neocon soldier, death to the enemies of Man.

/ / "They can try to have their votes of no confidence," the president said, "but it's not going to determine - make the determination - who serves in my government."

MY government? Now that's entitlement. And you thought George Bush didn't have a vision for America \ \

Hitler, the mad man, wasn't as insane as our demon enemy George Bush Jr. is.

/ / The [BUSHITE ENEMY] US has said it would refuse any request by Italy to extradite the accused [satanic bushite torturers of completely INNOCENT PEOPLE]. \ \

Christ, The Son of Man, begs the godly men of Earth, to judicially bill on sight, any neocon soldier who supports the carnage waged in Afghanistan as cop killing dope pushers. They shoot innocent women and children dead in the streets for humor, and bushite pirates at CBC and CNN, state bushite in Afghanistan are doing a good thing helping the bushmob escape the crimes of 911 by warring for Muslim fundamentalism, persecuting INNOCENT women and Christians, while for entertainment, bomb innocent families running for their lives from a Holy Church. Soulless child killing soldiers who CBC execs would tell are our DEMONIC heroes. Lawless dope pushing cop killers have got to go down dead screaming, instead of the innocent - YOU and me they target for MURDER. Death to the dishonorable bushite THIEVES, death to the enemy neocon LIARS of GOD and man.

We can really be something greater, while a murderous bushite thief, a LIAR, can hardly read or write Liberty without flinching from self contempt.

Kill a bushite LIAR, why don't you my brothers and sisters of the faith in something greater than bushite godless tyranny?

Brig. General David Fraser - former nazi commander of NATO who 'okayed' the bombing of defenseless innocent Afghan women and children for the Satanic enemies of Man, stated on CBC, he liked killing police officers, along with innocent women and children, (deliberately targeted for the pleasures of the demon antichrist) because, Afghanistan's children hope to learn. See? The bushite 'will' murder all our children and teachers on hope that we will never learn the Taliban, led by "Omar the Just", were loyal to Christ as REAL American Freedom, when publicly demanding evidence to form your conclusions. Thus is why the ENEMY to LIFE neocon state on YOUR TV and radio, WE must never be allowed to speak openly with the Taliban regarding the FACTS. Because if we did, neocon pension thievers would be hunted down in the streets for public trial, and then gloriously put to death by Christian values committed to TRUE freedom from lawless godless zionist LIAR tyrannies against Mankind - YOU included.

George Norry and Art Bell are the most evil of bushite, who as betrayers of the Human race, deny soldiers to know: General Ahmad funded Atta. They will both support the murder of Your American Son or Daughter for further zionist evils, before allowing true open line communications, to defend ourselves from the lawless demon enemies of Man. Do something about it, or don't. Let TRUTH set US free.

Instead of making an easy phone call today for your dying brothers and sisters, die as Satanic bad guy enemies of Life on Earth, sacrificed in cowardice to the real demon antichrist, and see if we, the true, strong, and free, care. The Son of Man SCREAMS before coming home to GOD'S America: We are coming to destroy Satanically lawless bushite enemies, all for the love of God, we shall succeed my friends, we shall succeed. I will not willingly live in a forsaken world with LIAR zionist war criminals conning US to believe, God is not Great, True, Strong and Just.

Die bushite die!

demon antichrist in silence. Out of millions, how many even bother to make a phone call to talk radio against the neocon.
how many? Five or six? Seriously.. How many? I know bushites are demon liars for the neocon, but is it really impossible for "Americans" to try speaking?, in the face of murdering millions more forsaken by enemy mortal, pro child killer George Norry?
George Norry too nice of a guy to even bother question the value

God is Great

Again, George W. bush did 911 with General Ahmad, but CBC zionists, actual treasonous LIARS, actually smile to dying Canadian soldiers with only true contempt. CBC kills Canadian kids, with their intentional demon lies, trying to subvert Justice for God and Johnny. In fact, yesterday, they did a special, all on how "God is NOT Great", giving that bush bitch demon LIAR, all the space to pontificate it's hatred for Wisdom, Science, and GOD, with only nods and smiles from the 'illiterate' hord. Remember: A zionist KNOWS it's an enemy of Humanity when it supports dropping seven million land minds to murder indiscriminately OUR CHILDREN for decades, or stealing a Christians Home because they say God says Jews would do such ungodly acts. Blame innocent Jews the holocaust denying zionist shout, of which not one, is a Jew. Like me.

To Kill a Bushite, is to be Heroic

Pro child killer George Norry, enemy of the American soldier, still blabs about how more must die unjustly for bin Laden with LIES, knowing full well, video of steel flowing like water from the WTC exists, and that General Ahmad funded Atta. George Norry is a traitor to the FBI, who further plans more to die sacrificed under the censorship of the tyrant antichrist. Who cares I ask about America truly dying as neoCONNED, for George Norry has millions to not take your calls for protection, and honestly, 'Americans' couldn't care much less for Our Humanity's future. Live free by defending liberty by killing pro lawless pro torture pro fascist bushite enemies my friend, live free by defending Yourself and GOD.

While the same demon administration confesses to FUNDING middle eastern al-Qeada to commit TERRORIST acts in Iran, as demon evil tyranny against the sleeping Sheeple. Again, it is fully confessed that the Satanic bushmob is pro terror now. Death to the enemies of Freedom, death to the bushite betrayers of Life instead of YOU my innocent friends. Instead of US.

Love to God Gives US Strength

The Son of Man begs the Men of Earth to defend Ourselves from the unholy forces of our tyrannical enemies. Death to the ungodly bushite thieving LIARS, death to the ungodly enemies of American children everywhere. GOD praises all Men, who kill the murderous bushite enemies of Just causes. The THIEVING satanic bushite forces, speak only contempt for GOD on our demandings of the public execution of the boastful terrorists, like the bushite who video taped the murderous assault of OUR kidnapped bare footed children, or murdered Iraqis while desecrating ELVIS, done all to please the "escaping" satanic demon antichrist zionist, Our Mr. bush Jr., who with his private business partner, General Ahmad, actually committed the ungodly treasons of 911 in a land of blind men sleeping., according to the eternally Honorable FBI anyway.

To Kill a Bushite, is to be Heroic

To further murder as these ungodly bushite liars do today as our suffering Mankind, is to blindly swear public allegiance to the for real DEMONIC antichrist THIEVES. Bushite enemies are evil nazi dumfuk scum, liars who cowardly watch America in her weakness be high jacked, and squeak nothing for Just words in our REAL defense for dying. Play pretending their actually real men, because to really be so, requires real strength. Not bush bitch Marines "WHORES YEAH!" strength, where they cowardly can't figure to defend America from ungodly war criminals. War criminals who deliberately set them up with Satanic 'black magic' to be killed in criminal actions. P2OG. But see?, the bushite fodder, can't care enough for Life to read, because it already knows like the zionist, it's an ungodly coward and a thief, as siding to lying and censorship, this will out work for evil doers in the long run without any consequences to themselves as Our sworn eternal enemy.

Kucinich for President!
http://www.democracynow.org/index.pl?issue=20070524

Now, it's true, America's Alex Jones states Kucinich wants to take away all your guns, and is a communist, but, Alex as sometimes, is terrified of those who seek the requirements to defend freedom directly, as more specific. (Example: NWO isn't the name of the specific guy who financed 911 to murder America.) So, as a consequence, he gets near ridiculous with labels applicable to generalizations only dummies could believe blindly. With Kucinich campaigning on ACCOUNTABILITY, Alex Jones looks quite foolish. But, he's still trying.

Thank god for that. Thank god for that. Talk radio in America should take open line calls on our ideas about how to actually plan to defeat these, found factually to be, traitors to God and Country.

The bushmob did 911 as traitors to God and Country, don't you know anything worth living for? my dying unjustly brothers and sisters? My friends, please fear not wisdom communicated by a REAL Man, for, we explain ourselves to the best of YOUR ability to listen simply. G. W. Bush used no evidence to form America's "conclusion" on who did US wrong on 911. So, Please, stop forsaking yourself, for, we're going nowhere. Support Johnny's call to demand open debate without censorship from the magic radio and TV execs, who hide in darkness, pretending to be our friends, while refusing intelligent dialog to answer any of our big troubles easily. CBC just did a report about all the great heroin coming in from Afghanistan, that will still cause crime, and be illegal, (and maybe give you life in prison as an American,) but brought in with the help of the demonically evil bushite thieving murderous military, by the likely ton full to attack our direct family left un-protected, BY YOU PERSONALLY. And guess what? THEY, our media masters, couldn't care less if they actually tried to be our good guys. Reminder: the god guys is good, the demon liar antichrist demon enemies who thieve from Life with censorship is bad. If they hide ourselves too far, they loose all around, up and down. So get to it. Or don't. Your choice. Life lived Now, or damnable death by cowardly design brought forthwith under your own power to do nothing under such terrible costs against our suffering natures.

Typical tyranny for media control over all of Life for the beginners is this treasonous betrayal against our Nature, by refusing to be honest about our potential to be far greater than first considered. Bushite War LIFE Itself - and - They Couldn't Care Less

'Alpha company patrols the poppy fields.' 20070420_taliban28.mp3 (pbs broadcast)

"About the poppy harvest, currently gathering pace all around them, they couldn't care less." Instead they kill unarmed innocent people indiscriminately as enemies to ALL HUMAN LIFE.

They Couldn't Care Less

The 82 Airborne, in assisting in defending the world wide distribution and production of heroin, tells of murdering innocent farmers, that would never raise a gun in anger, are those they openly confess to target for first degree murder as labeled the, second tier Taliban. That's when not defending American Pension thiever ENRON'S pipeline managed under their extremist Muslim fundamentalist regime of intolerance for public communications, as the continuing thieving of 80 percent the Humanitarian Aid given by Canada to feed the STARVING, and school our children of the impoverished Afghanistan, as so reported. Eighty percent. 80. 80 percent stolen. I'm telling YOU: CBC couldn't care less about what Canadian soldiers are actually dying as COWARDS for:
"Al-Qaida" = "General Mahmoud Ahmad" = "bush's ungodly partners in crime" CBC national radio management needs to be arrested in Canada for high TREASON. Please, be a Patriot, and demand these zionists allow open communication with the facts to save the lives of Canadians soldiers they hold in contempt to die as the bad guys committed to no better good.

/ / [...] the [New York Times] piece details the torture of [Innocent People] Sunni prisoners at one of the new American-Iraqi "security stations" \ \

Torture is a crime against God and Humanity. So, likewise, joyously, with pride, destroy the neocon traitors of Justice - for the true Love you have as Freedom willed - is as granted.
Don't buy their demon lies by blind blanket false assertions, against YOUR Humanity's Innocence in tyrannical bondage, all done in to fool you believing, we have no rights to be heard in our presence - here existing freely. Therefore, to survive US all for something better, halt the 'escaping' murderous bushite thieves for God and America. SOLDIERS: Instead of dying for nothing, my wannabe Patriot Brothers, try joining Liberty's cause, which is our cause truly. Is it because corporate TV zionist money whores, are cowardly and ignorant, as evil hypno muggers, in MY dying for real America, that YOU refuse to speak Now in your Humanity's begging further defense?, on evidence being the only requirement to establish a person's guilt or innocence? for ungodly terrorist activities committed in our name by bushite bombers from the neo-conned AIR FORCE, who, as rotted juveniles, cheeringly bomb us People indiscriminately leaving a Church as something TRULY SATANIC? To dare, in our presence, continue threatening harm against an innocent child of wonder, not yet even born to God's suffering world? Bushites war LIFE itself. So then pleads I again the Son to God, as Man to Men: war to kill the enemy bushite nazi savage thieves, for real Freedom is waged truly by Just causes. The mute, pro-censorship/tyranny THIEVING bushite savaged nation, has NO EXCUSE for the crimes they have committed in our dying names. I demand our voices heard internationally for Justice as Freedom is Godly.

True, Americans are generally, extremely cowardly as Bush's freely giving PAYERS, led for more ungodly sacrifices in fascistic silence, but this continuing charade of incompetence gathering against our entire Humanity, is going way beyond acceptable to everyone concerning. Johnny Wizard conceivers and otherwise non-believers state together:

The Iraq war against Christ has no true justifiable cause.
Torture is against the law warranting immediate death sentences
The Zionist AIR FORCE bomb people indiscriminately as Satanic
The bushmob stole all the Development Funds for Iraq
The bushmob are stealing ALL of Iraq's oil
The bushmob stole 100s of billions from censored AMERICANS, while George W. Bush personally stole 50 billion from America in the first four months of stealing the initial election.

What ever happened to butterfly kisses after evening prayers?

Are you telling me, an American Father, wouldn't gloriously kill this lawless bushite enemy and his demonic ilk, for our love of girls everywhere? Or, how about the UNARRESTED soldiers we witnessed on video beat shoeless children pratically to death while laughing and cheering? Or like those that speak zero defenses for Haditha's confessed MASS MURDERING irrational women and child killers? The REAL demons

CONFESS to going into a house, WITHOUT reasoned approach, and slaughtering an entire INNOCENT family.. for nothing but their lifeless SATANIC pleasures. The 'cause'? "The [mass murdered unarmed innocent neighbor's] back door was open.." To, for God, gloriously, with love, kill these unarrested murderous continuing ungodly bushite nazis, is to war the TRUE enemies of Humanity to save the lives of our precious loved ones.

The Pentagon's Power to Jail Americans Indefinitely
http://www.jonesreport.com/articles/270307_pentagon_power_jail.html

Look, demon enemies of Christ torture innocent people for fun, paid for by the silent American tax payer. Americans refuses to bother making a simple phone call to Coast to Coast to raise some concern. THEY don't. They refuse to hunt bushite down in their streets for death to defend the innocent held indefinitely against GOD'S will. Death to the bushite, death to Johnny's godless, lawless, fascist enemies of FREEDOM.

Look, CNN, CBC, and FOx News know the bushmob did 911, but will smile while watching your son or daughter sent out to die CONNED by their demonic hatred for US freely communicated.
How do I know this? I made the effort of making the phone calls.

"Al-Qaida" = "General Mahmoud Ahmad"

Defend freedom, and the FBI, by demanding Coast to Coast radio hosts allow free communications, absent their personal contempt for preserving freedom to be our America. George holds for our lives here. He says he only supports murdering Arab children for the neocon, but when your not looking in his pleasure of the president

US Attorneys don't serve "the pleasure of the president", they serve freedom lovers dedicated to defending America from willful criminality. But, americans are too stupidly weak to demand Coast to Coast hosts allow open communications on America's highest of concerns. Bushite america would rather, in silence, thieve from God as our Humanity, than serve the protections of Justice as ourselves.

/ / According to the Islamic understanding of power, the Mujahideen don't compete for the positions in the leadership. \ \

"Those who negotiate in the name of the Taliban will be killed," he [the bushite nazi dumfuk 'Taliban' 2nd in command] said. He did not elaborate.

Hmmm. Allah is all, and negotiating for freedom from naked bushite tyranny is won EASILY through communicating understanding. The tribal strategy of Afghan fighters, where Allah is Oonerroh, seems to be not the only thing missing from the statements of this "Taliban" RELIGIOUS FUNDEMENTALIST top top top leader. Only "second" to Omar the Just. (Apparently an individual this current bushite incantation of "Dadullah" is totally un-familiar of.) Omar, the Just, whom Dadullah claims he receives his Top Secret nobody can see'im orders. In other winds: Bill a bushite for God and America, an all day long you'll have good faith in a world freeing ourselves of godless dumfuk tyranny implemented by the horribly foolish, as deeply ignorant of Allah, bushite demon liars for the traitor neocon. TRAITORS!

"Those who negotiate in the name of the Taliban will be killed," he [the bushite nazi dumfuk 'Taliban' 2nd in command] said. He did not elaborate.

Allah is all, and negotiating for freedom from naked bushite tyranny is won EASILY through communicating understanding. Omar the Just knew this to say so, as do I. And this is why corporate news professionals forbid me to speak openly without nazi censorship, ON OUR AIR-WAVES, because I am honorable, right, and true as believable. While America's fun guy, zionist George Norry, states to support PUBLICLY, the ungodly murder of innocent Arabic children for nothing but his personal contempt of YOUR DYING LIFE, while further wanting to invite thoughtlessly nuking places on Earth all for his secret hatred of US freely commutating. Typical bushite. Ending with to tell US again 'convincingly', that bin Laden did do 911 as a terror-ist bad guy in G's World!!?! How so? EH?

How so? he don't care man, he don't care. He and his family have millions of dollars to sell you out, so why care for your struggle to survive in bushville soldiering?

Alex Jones and me aren't on the best of speaking terms, but I will state, a desire to address every same challenge he has adroitly addressed as publicly lacking. And when I am addressed 'officially', I will campaign to put US in the space to realize, we are the government, we are the people. We don't need to run to the hills and encamp ourselves away to defend ourselves to the max from the man, we are the man. I'm telling yeh, I know this to be so as the sea is we magically. Equal rights for all in God's name is self evident. Self evident to ME anyway... but well.. who am i?, right - I'll tell you as I have for more than a decade as a living fiction forsaken for lack of anybody anywhere understanding in totality what I am here on Earth as true Son to Man - a 'understandable' timeless stand in for G to gain recognition through as honest broker. [I've been everywhere around forever, and.. blahblah.. I know people really don't care to know of ancient wisdoms, truths that guide the order to the Universe, cause often they think I'm beyond their comprehension as a 'better than', when all power is in equal respect for others as our hurting brothers and sisters suffering with tyranny by our collective willful ignorance on Justice.[God's bestest is Just for every reason being thus]] I am one serious genius by no accident in words you have as much right to contend for yourself being, if you'd only believe we have some good ideas here to really defend ourselves with.

Please my American friend, help US speak out freely Coast to Coast. So we together can start, on demanding Justice for all, as innocence in serious jeopardy. Dadullah is most likely an individual who holds at least some control over official military functions of NATO in the region. So, we're going to seed loyalties of the rare Patriots in the force to recognize our need to isolate who supports, not talking FREELY for peace easily in Afghanistan without question. No evidence was brought against Laden, therefore, the Taliban were True Patriots, and bushite traitors are pure racist nazi filth ridden, toxic, as being cowardly dishonorable as despicably evil, enemies to us all. Put US in Command.

Question the bushite, question to anyone who mumbles disagreement in the godly fact, that WE, as Humanity, will spend the better part of this next generation, hunting every last war profiteering nazi war criminal down for our real Freedom from their, so errorred "endless" tyranny of big money terror. Lawlessness with be outlawed, and ANY corporate american who mumbles otherwise, as an enemy totalitarianist, the clear ungodly, (as should be criminal,) will be put to challenge by their very own children, or parents, or bleeding dead brothers. Hannity must be tried for death as lying that the holocaust never happened from Iran. DEATH to the demon liar nazi fu-ker I say, DEATH to the demon liar nazi fu-ker.

"Al-Qaida" = "General Mahmoud Ahmad" = "bush's ungodly partners in crime"

Who IS running this bushite nazi liar show, where they, our elite corporate media masters, kill our stupid kids with their flagrant naked monster lies, while refusing all calls for clarity, Johnny America really wants to know. Like immediately. Help us out here some man, don't be evil.

/ / "Those who negotiate in the name of the Taliban will be killed," he said. He did not elaborate. \ \ He's either with the proven cowards of JTF2, or the two or three "CIA" guys secretly hunting bin Laden in caves out there with tens of billions of dollars. SPENT EACH YEAR 'unknowingly'. (No reason why, but, they just can't tell You, as the paying for it really while DYING) Put US in Command.

/ / The Mujahideen aren't students of power and don't compete for power like others do. We are students of truth and work for establishing this truth and for this cause we sacrifice our power \ \

I would offer rewards for more soldiers to come forward. Why? because there truly is, no honor among thieves. Every bushite soldier in Iraq for the liar neocon is minimum, a purposeless dumfuked cowardly thief. See? if you offer a reward, and they don't take it, their 'fellow' bushite, kill'em for it, right? why take the risk it'll cash in over your worthless life? certainly not a lying bushite nazi savage. In other words:

Let's save some lives, what do you say guys?

Or, are we going to go further with this: George W. Bush:
"If the absence of violence is victory, no one will ever win."

YOU

"If the absence of violence is victory, no one will ever win."
http://cleveland.indymedia.org/news/2007/03/24652.php

I know, it's seems odd that I am, at the same time, offering answers to any question on the science of God as is pertains to Justice measured, but this is just who I am to be conscious man. So, if we can get over the shock of me being so especially normal, maybe we can then realize, I have some simple good old ideas that transcend through time by rational understanding communicable between any two people. I am not a "miracle worker" to all those I advise to not eat Aspartame because it's a poison that also makes your body crave un-needed carbs, that will likely convert to more unless fat. So, it slowly kills you, while making you fatter than you need be along the dead end journey faithing in "the system". So, why do some do it religiously? Who cares (for now) but to say, our governments are failing US miserably. I spoke personally with one of the head scientists in Canada at "Health Food and Safety", and he told me the scientific analysis done by reputable scientists I found freely available repeatedly on the internet years ago, was completely true. (It breaks down to formaldehyde, and methanol (a slow lethal poison), among other shockers. Poison. P-o-i-s-o-n-s in our food stuffs. Poisons.) However, he could take no action to defend Canadians "officially" because we, Canadians, have our corporate interest news departments completely refusing to defend ourselves from corporate exploitation anywhere, and as natural consequence, we, as the dying world, would together unrepresented, probably lose a law suit from mutant Monsanto through the self inflicted bounds of OUR censored WTO program. - instituted through the top secretly mastered puppet people persons of the 'unseen' NWO I guess.

I'm telling you, we need me as King.

Look: Aegis's workforce, for American PAYING profit, has been publicly disclosed through CNN to be shooting people in Iraq indiscriminately for your money, and when the Pentagon was contacted by Nick Roberts about what would be done, they responded, nothing would be done by Johnny's America but to increase the multi-hundred-million dollar contract with demon enemy Tim Spicer to continue. Now... why you ask? Because the neocon liars, steal money by lying to cowardly American kids about what they mindlessly, without thought, give their souls for. Tim Spicer openly hires South African goons to commit hardships for American GIs to die without end for, in lawless tyranny. Peace sells less money for the neocon war profiteers to murder the innocent American as. (Iraqis, along with the rest of Humanity's Men, WILL eventually learn this truth, or life for you will end.) As an Arab hating bushite, (like what you'd find as a publicly proud practiced hatred for all Humanity, by an Amerkan dumfuk soldier in Google's alt.religion.islam), they say nothing for Freedom by Justice, but root themselves to Spicer's monsters who like killing black guys, as world renown mass murdering racist nazi filth. That's why zionist Israel loves them so much.

Look: Somebody stole four trillion dollars out of the Pentagon.

Look: Greenspan STOLE
Look: Lotteries everywhere in North America are running the same PROVEN criminal scams that cost US ALL billions and billions of public dollars that, without question, (as MATHEMATICAL FACT), regressively destroy our dying communities. CRIMINAL. [Solution: 100 percent cash payouts.]

Look: corporate magic TV people couldn't care less for US if they tried. Ahmad funded Atta. bin Laden claimed he played no part in 911. And video of iron running like water moments before the first tower fell is freely available for download all over the place. CBC, CNN, FOXnews et al. know the Bushmob did 911 in other words. I've spoken to most of those 'in control', and I'm telling you, they're losers, and they know it. Remember: they'll censor my voice to send YOUR child to die for no better good, or reason understood, while entertaining. Weekend TV in North America totally sucks. Now, why do YOU think that is brother? The more powerless they make US, the more money the neocon zionists can murder Humanity for, thinking they might just get away from this if we continue to take no action in defense of anyone as God would will. Let me be Your servant King, by backing me up some here. We need some dollars to eat, and I need it now before we starve to deaths.

Look: Barbra Bodine did the Cole bombing. [the Cole whose crew has been completely overhauled. Where are the many who served there NOW eh?]

Look: America has kidnapped countless thousands without evidence to be held against OUR will indefinitely. [Like the NOT Jewish Israel]

Look: innocent people are being tortured to death by those who hide OPENLY in America's uniform. [let US hunt them down for GOD, despite what demon lies they argue give them as Satanic to avoid "The Law".]

Look: the bushmob war profiteers STOLE the Iraqi Development fund

Look: the more than 10,000 security contractors for Bush are officially deemed lawlessly unaccountable to anyone - THINK ABOUT IT

Look: Negroponte PERSONALLY stole the Iraqi emergency water provision money

Look: Sattler OPENLY committed the worst war crimes of all Humanity's history

Support my cause, which is your cause.

This is more true than a bushite would admit before murdering a honorable father to rape his young child, like Lcpl Boudreaux freely confesses. Boudreaux will tell you, openly, you have to murder the Arab father of the Arab child your planning to rape, because if you don't, that Father will spend you limb from limb for it.

Let US, me and the few, proud, and the brave, bring that Civilization's ancient Founder Hammurabi, suggested just to openly publicly have executed those who lay capital allegations without any evidence, while working to close outstanding criminal investigations. A made CRIME within ourselves Hammurabi claimed, and by thinking such ways, brought birth of 'Civilized' to an untamed till then, chaotic confusion. Old becomes again anew, because Americans are weak as polluted, and too cowardly to defend the rights of US innocent. Let's change that. Support my climb to international controversy, with my unchallenged claims of direct accountability being sought, for the 911's neocon war terror plot.

'A military judge ruled last week that Watada cannot base his defense on the war's legality.'

Telling US what?, that it is a crime to not commit a crime? It isn't only high treason against America the ungodly bushite are guilty of, but of a madness held by those truly Satanic..

/ / 'Why are you taking pictures? You don't have permission."' [...] the [bush whore] American, speaking through a translator, warned him that he did not want to see any AP photos published anywhere.\ \

No bushite was found gloriously killed for country, yet, they, the godless bushite enemy, continued to shoot innocent People indiscriminately for a distance of six miles, while likely, secretly masturbating each other as bushite liars do always.

The pro-bush irrational military said only eight innocent un-armed Afghans were counted as murdered deliberately, by those who believe our Mankind, can not ever find themselves accountable, without zionist controlled, corporate news permission. See? The military counts mankind as zionist, but I am a man of real men, committed to defend our world from all enemies, foreign, or domestic. Unlike a bushite traitor to God and America, who's word, as Oath, means as much to them, as we do. Ungodly as they are loveless, the bushite, is Life's enemy.

See my friends, this is why I, as the Son of Man beg and plead for all able bodied men, to kill treasonous bushite on sight, for every time you love God by defending the innocent from murder, (the innocent whom any pro-bush corporate professional hold in total self contempt,) you save REAL peoples lives, and you defend God's good name to love God as ourselves committed to true Liberty. Bushites are enemies of freedom, enemies of God, and worthy of death, before allowed to further bomb people indiscriminately like the commanders of NATO order day after day without risking instant frag because, bushites are blind cowardly thieving nazi fascist savages, brain damaged, who believe as satanic demon whores of Molech, they can con all of US including me forever, just like dare dubya. Dumfuks.

WHERE IS YOUR NATIONAL NEWS TO DEFEND OUR PRIVATE INTERESTS?

Support Johnny Wizard's personal challenge against thieving LIAR traitor Hannity, and his corporate nazi bush whores who lore our stolen values by how much they can deny US privilege. Coast to Coast radio hosts need to be publicly challenged for debate they deny US knowing of together naturally speaking. Great example of our Problem: CBC National Radio, in Canada. When a caller phones during the very rare moments we're taking public words, have a pre-broadcast rig-a-ma-role question session, you'll have with not only the OFF-AIR screener, where he'll probe you for controversy, but after the first process of noting in book form your disclosed intel, will notify you that; IF your independent thought is granted by the "Producer" (- who reviews everyone - rules are rules -) Our national station will phone you back this afternoon, so stay tooned, to line you up with your baking gingerbread creds. They never ever dido! The more Brilliant you are, (like the highly charged as extremely charismatically charming, wild man ruler, Johnny America - the media phenomenoner) the higher probability they'll find POSSIBLE concern, on their do nothing for your taxed attitudes..!. How much much God take as taken, before you people get on over this criminally empowered war monger Congress of an unelected lawless dictator demon, and call them out on the turning talk commercial radios, all to finally truly defend ourselves with a good media plan for results.

Make the call, be a man.

Sir Ken, head of the Crown Prosecution Service

"The fight against terrorism on the streets of [..] is not a war. It is the prevention of crime, the enforcement of our laws and the winning of justice for those damaged by their infringement."

You got that right. So, join US in demanding the quick trials, and public executions of known bushite enemies who murdered Americans on 911 with general Ahmad, and who with Peter Powers, murdered the innocent in Britain for more stolen goods against God. And anyone in the air force as bushite bombers should be a great joy for US all to hunt for prosecuting too. The bushite dumfuk is an enemy to our lives, with it's blatant naked contempt for the innocent, who like the demon liar THEIVES at CJOB, George Norry, or Hannity, will forbid ANY human defenses of the lawless dictate of the IRRATIONAL tyrannical demon antichrist, all so to victimize more of You as the censored forsaken.

REPENT. [from the Greek, meaning to think.]

The TRUE Son of Man Johnny Wizard Exists Born to this Eternal World to end permanently demonic bushite enemies of Creation. Help Life out by destroying cowardly America's greatest threat to the Species, the greatest threat against Humanity's Freedom to be Loved by God. Corporate nazi zionist bushlores at CBC, CNN, and criminal thieving from the desperately poor in Winnipeg CJOBers forbid open communications, and I can't 'take over', because then I'd be defeating my own, power to the Peoples argument. So, it really is up to YOU, yes you there... reader. Who.. really..? YOU, here, now. Life begs, takes a stand for your fellow man, and demand our voices heard for the defense of the entire human race. And be quick about it. Repuglicons don't want freedom from endless war where they kill your forsaken kids, for we all know, bushites would be publicly tried, then spend the rest of their treasonous lives behind bars broke, or dead from lethal injections made popular in America. Again, officer Bowman is responsible for letting 'escape' those from Fort Detrick, who attempted to murder the American Congressmen who thought going into lawless tyranny, !makes no sense! Where is corporate America on our issues when OUR free speech is ruled by the irrational evil minds of Limbaugh, Bell, and Norry?!?!! Back to Bowman: Bowman, also is responsible for sabotaging the Moussaoui warrant. And, how much you wanna bet, he's probably the same bushite who found Atta's passport, and likely had all 19 names of the high-jackers to give CNN, CBC, and FoxNews just like the neocon's "bin Laden" would have too. Take the publicly prancing bushite enemy out for questions by yourself, if he doesn't plead his defense publicly on Coast to Coast by tomorrow. Remember, there ain't an "Intelligence" group worth their salt on the face of our Earth, that doesn't know exactly what I'm doing here honorably for a real Justice made through careful thought. So, support Johnny Wizard speaking for public challenges internationally, and with the 23 plus co-operating for life 'Intel' agencies, along with, anyone else who can join in on the call. as a growing number of Patriot Soldiers, who trust yourself to see, this wanting of Justice isn't complicated. A person accused of a terrorist event without any evidence, has our accuser a bushite, who should be watched carefully until verifiable conclusions are done by the understanding of fact. Not faith. With George W. Bush making real decisions in faith, expecting us to believe as corporately broadcasted unabashedly unbiased, that he is not a deliberate incompetent monster war criminal of unfathomable evil?, who is just too 'stupid' to understand why we are innocent until proven otherwise?, is really something we all need to scream about to save our dying lives.

"[..] just like the neocon's "bin Laden" would have too."

However, the real Laden, on video taped confession, claimed he played no part whatsoever in 911, then later, offered himself for arrest, confident he would be acquitted. Not corporately newsworthy though, so, few even know why their American child was later died in the terrorists act of corporate contempt for US living Freedom with something greater as real Justice wills

Yours again,

King Johnny Wizard

A Soldier's Life Held in Contempt

The way I see it, is that I am completely documented correct on who was responsible for the terrorist crimes of 9/11.
snpd

The affidavit that starts "1. National Security Issues" was submitted in conjunction with my motion to request assistance from the Court. The additional paper "Stand Together or Don't", was an added part of the same affidavit.

The affidavit with 38 positions was submitted with the two motions, "Order of Production" and "for the Crown to Stay Proceedings". Duplicate copies of the same affidavit were submitted in each respect.

Bullshit. The internet would have, and did, evolve with or without the existence of NASA. It's not surprising that their PR Dept. tries to lay claim to makiing it all possible - a typical bureaucratic self congratulatory agrandizement tactic while trying to justify its existence. Raison d'être!

I can't tell you if a fraud ocurred or not. I know Crane has been around for a long time and has quite a following and that the external version of the Crane Twin Antenna got good comments on Radiointel. I can tell you that reveiwers on the Yahoo Redsun group have concluded that the Redsun 2100 and CC-SW are for all practical purposes the same radio. Additionally there is on that forum an extensive discussion about just what a twin coil antenna really is and is not. The consensus on that forum seems to be that the presence of two coils on a ferrite antenna can be done for more than one reason and is fairly common. You would likely find the discussions very interesting.

When the Crane website talks about how the CC-SW has a Twin Coil Ferrite antenna and links directly to the Crane Twin Coil antennna with all of it's controls I expect that those controls will also appear on the radio to tune that antenna. When they are not on the radio I start to worry.

I'm going to hold on to my money and wait for the vaporware Redsun 3000 or 3100 radios to emerge from the ether and make a choice.

Yes I must be "one of them thar commie terrorists"! You are such a senile yokel I'm surprised anyone even responds to you anymore. Hope you incontinence problem continues to plague you. By the way, Wal-Mart has adult diapers on sale this week, you best run down and stock up.
Your size to - JUMBO's.

By the way, did you lose some of your welfare (AKA "social security") through stupid investing? Boo hooo!!! What a cry baby. Yeah blame the investment company for your lousy investments decisions.

Did they put a gun to your head and make you give them your money? Be a man and stop whining, complaining and blaming others for your own inadequacies. You'd think that by once you enter the "twilight" (pretty dim lights at your age) years you would have learned that accepting responsiblity for you own actions was part of being a man. But I guess being able to wipe your own ass properly is part of the process of attaining manhood and we now know that you haven't quite mastered that task either.

The more you post the more evidence you provide the world as to what a contempitible piece of shit you truly are. Please do the world a favor and die soon.

I'm not sure I agree there, having watched one sat retrieval and repair mission while at NASA, itself. But if you're right, then in that case, give it time. One of the reasons for the space station in to serve as a base for deeper space missions.

I'm amazed at the ever increasing impatience of today's citizen, expecting instant and immediate on target results without error, and without question.

Space exploration is as uncertain as medicine. The technology often has to be created in order to make new thrusts. Sometimes that's years in development, with often hundreds of balks before a qualified success.

To simply declare a program as a failure because it hasn't met architects specifications, especially after some rather spectacular setbacks, delays, and one very long hiatus, is the kind of unmititaged bilge that expects war to run on schedule, without misstep and without setback.

It's the kind of crap that sees a father at Little League dress down an 8 year old for not hitting on the first attempt. Or a mother sniping at her 15 year old daughter for not being asked to a Jr High dance.

Things take time to learn. Processes take time to develop. And successes are cumulative and incremental. And this applies not only to the space shuttle, but to life in general.

Anything set before the shuttle program by its architects will be accomplished. Not without setback. Not without misstep. Not without delays as new technologies are created to overcome obstacles. Expected and otherwise.

Long vision.

what did NASA do? they cahnged the spec, and declared victory

it can't do the tasks we built it for it is just that simple I am glad they have things it can do but it isn't what we paid for

"HD Radio is yesterday's future. We're coming close to the time when the towel will be thrown in. HD Radio is not going anywhere. Worse, no radio person will ever use the HD Radio campaign to diagram successful radio advertising. To continue this chase is to throw manpower and money away. Want to read a review on one HD receiver? Try this from Wired.com. I'll give you a quote: Remember those crappy $15 AM/FM cassette radios from the 80s? The HD100 looks just like one and has the sound to match. Consumers aren't biting."

rejected the shuttle and built a beter vechile begun to lay the foundation of comercail use of space return to the moon with perminat settlement complete with mass drivers to allow cheap use of lunar resources in space and here on earth

complete the R@D on the Sacoorv drive and begin serious interplanetary stuff as well interstellar lay real foundations for the long range survival of mankind though deep space exploration

tell the truth about mistakes mades and be in John glen "honest

Correct me if I'm wrong (and I'm sure you will), but broadly speaking, "Social Security" is returning OUR money that WE had to pay into the system for our entire working careers. Getting our own money back can hardly be construed as "welfare".

Now don't be too hard on Steve...he's a finance guy who tells us about his Accounting/ Bookkeeping degree. If Huntington can do this to a big-time finance guy with a financial degree like Steve, there's no telling what these Huntington guys can do to us poor slobs that aren't as financially astute as Steve.

Actually, probably not. Without the mission critical pressures, to create and develop new technolgies, the rate at which the electronics would have developed through market forces would have been decades longer.

The transistor was invented in 1947. It took nearly a decade before it was incorporated into a product because market forces are also possessed of considerable inertia. And then it was trivial applications like transistor radios. Production was slow, and rejection and failure rates were high.

However, with mission critical pressures of the space program, techniques needed to be developed to produce large scale miniaturized electronics working at frequencies not even considered in terrestrial applications. Which led to microwave technological innovations on a grand scale. Driven by lower cost, higher volume, reliable production of solid state devices, and rapid development of miniaturized computer driven hardware.

Fuel cell technology had been known since WWII, but had never had a real application. Practical results in the space program have given us real world workable fuel cell technologies.

Battery technology developed by orders of magnitude through the space program.

And medical knowledge has expanded more than a thousand fold through the space program.

So, though technologies may have developed through commercial channels, they didn't. They developed through NASA, and the space program and its allied industries, without the participation of which, they would likely have developed at a dramatically slower rate, or not at all.

> You employed by the NASA public relations juggernaut per chance?

No. I'm not now, nor have I ever been employed by or for NASA.

I wish that it were so at NASA, but thank administrators after Apollo for the intentional abandonment of cumulative and incremental expertise. Successful programs were gutted and equipment and data scrapped. No one can build a Saturn V these days and it will take exorbitant sums to recreate an Apollo-like technology for NASA's (Bush's) current 'vision'. Thanks to Congress and Nixon for a gutted shuttle program which originally was to look a lot like Rutan's SpaceShip One in launch configuration and be a truly cost-effective launch system. Thanks to all of the rest of us for lack of support for nuclear propulsion, which had it been implemented would have given us the solar system by now.

Instead of adventuring in Asia and the Middle East, we could have been adventuring to the stars with the vast sums spent to fund conflict.

Regards,

Michael

 Welcome to rec.radio.info! ***

Welcome to rec.radio.info, a group that aims to provide a noise-free source of information and news for the entire rec.radio hierarchy.

Two introductory articles about rec.radio.info are posted to the group every month. You are now reading the first article, which explains what rec.radio.info is, and answers some Frequently Asked Questions. The second article is titled Posting Guidelines, and you only need to read it if you want to submit an article to rec.radio.info.

You can skip to the next section of this article by searching for the next
" -- " string. The sections available are:
- What is the purpose of rec.radio.info?
- Why are messages almost always cross posted to rec.radio.info?
- What is a 'follow-up', and what does 'moderated' mean?
- OK, so now I know what 'moderated' means. Tell me more.
- What type of material is considered inappropriate?
- I do not have access to news, how can I get the information posted to rec.radio.info?
- Will the material appearing in rec.radio.info be archived somewhere?
- I have a regular posting with timely information, is there a way to speed up it's delivery, or automate for more convenience?

-- What is the purpose of rec.radio.info?

The purpose or charter of rec.radio.info is to provide the Usenet community with a resource for information, news, and facts about any and all things radio.

All the other rec.radio groups are intended for discussions and general chit chat about radio. Rec.radio.info will contain informational, factual articles only. Follow-ups are redirected to an appropriate other group, and further discussion (if any) will not take place in rec.radio.info.

In order to ensure that rec.radio.info contains only appropriate articles, it was decided to create the group as a moderated newsgroup.

-- Why are messages almost always cross posted to rec.radio.info?

It provides a "tag" for each article to be assembled into a filtered presentation in rec.radio.info (even with cross-posting, only one message, with a unique Message-ID, is propagated across the net). This tag also facilitates a pre-existing method of dropping or canceling the articles locally within the discussion groups if you don't want to see them. This accommodates individuals who want to separate the bulletins from the discussions, discussions from the bulletins, as well as those who are adamant about not reading another newsgroup and wanted to see everything all in one basket.

With the total size of Usenet (in number of newsgroups and total traffic) doubling every year or so, this is no insignificant contribution to reducing information noise and chaos. Making the discussion groups a catch-all, and making extra newsgroups filters on that catch-all, is also the most realistic way to implement such a scheme (It's not intuitively obvious what the charter, contents, and general appropriate topics for each and every newsgroup are. Seeing FAQ's and charter/intro postings in the home newsgroup is beneficial for new readers).

By cross-posting one only is adding a few tens of bytes to each bulletin (to specify the extra group on the Newsgroups line), but are adding the capability for very powerful filtering features available on most news servers, listservers and readers. Your local news guru could probably explain these features in more detail.

In rn, for example, according to Leanne Phillips in her rn kill-file FAQ, add a line of the form:

/Newsgroups:.*[,]rec\.radio\.info/h:j

either in ~/News/KILL (if you don't want to see rec.radio.info articles anywhere) or ~/News/rec/radio/amateur/misc/KILL (if you don't want to see them just in rec.radio.amateur.misc). The latter method means your kill file will only be consulted during rec.radio.amateur.misc (and hence runs more efficiently), and will probably work for most people.

In nn, according to Bill Wohler in his nn FAQ, add a line of the form:

rec.radio.info:!s/:^

in ~/.nn/kill (if you don't want to see rec.radio.info articles anywhere), or put the following lines:

sequence
rec.radio.info
rec.radio.

at the end of ~/.nn/init in order to see all the rec.radio.info bulletins first, then read the remaining rec.radio.* without the bulletins.

More information about kill files may be obtained from Dave Fawthrop's Killfile FAQ at:

http://www.hyphenologist.co.uk/killfile/

-- What is a 'follow-up', and what does 'moderated' mean?

If you are new to Usenet and are not familiar with the terminology, you might want to read the general introductory articles found in the newsgroup news.announce.newusers. Doing so will make your life on the net much easier, and will probably save you from making silly beginner's mistakes.

If you think that at this moment you are reading an echo, a conference, or a bulletin board, I'd also strongly suggest a trip over to news.announce.newusers.

For the rest of this article, we will assume you have a basic knowledge of Usenet terminology and mechanics.

A moderated group means that any article that needs to be posted to the group has to be accepted by the moderator of the group. Since we need to ensure that followups to an article (discussion) do not show up in the rec.radio.info newsgroup, the `Followup-To:' header line contains a newsgroup that is appropriate for discussions about the specific article.

-- OK, so now I know what 'moderated' means. Tell me more.

Rec.radio.info is a moderated newsgroup, which means that all articles submitted to the group will have to be approved by the moderator first.

The current moderator of the group is the rec.radio.amateur.moderated Moderation Team. Submissions to rec.radio.info can be posted, or e-mailed to:

rec-radio-info@panix.com

Comments, criticisms, suggestions or questions about the group can be e-mailed to:

rec-radio-info-request@panix.com

But before you do so, please be sure to check out the "Posting Guidelines" article.

The influence of the moderator should be minimal and of an administrative nature, consisting chiefly of weeding out obviously inappropriate articles, while making sure correct headers etc. are used for the appropriate ones.

-- What type of material is considered inappropriate?

There are three broad categories of articles which will be rejected by the moderator:

1) Requests for information: rec.radio.info is strictly a one-way street. We receive information in our mailbox; we then post it to rec.radio.info. Requests for specific information belong in the normal discussion newsgroups. If your request gets answered, you might consider passing the answer on to rec.radio.info, though. Especially if you can edit it into a informational, rather than a discussion, format.

2) Obvious discussion articles, or articles that appear unsubstantiated.

3) Commercial stuff: a relatively unbiased test of a radio product would be accepted, but any hint of for-profit might be reason for rejection. For three reasons: This is not the purpose of the list, for-profit is a controversial topic, and this list may be passed onto Amateur Packet Radio (where for-profit is prohibited except under certain provisos).

rec.radio.swap may be more deserving of the posting in any matter.

Similarly, copyrighted material generally cannot be used. If it's TRULY worthwhile to the net, We would recommend obtaining permission from the copyright holder. Please note the source, and if permission was given. We reserve the right to make the final decision concerning appropriateness in all situations. In most cases, a brief summary of, or pointer to, the copyrighted information may be all we can allow.

-- I do not have access to news, how can I get the information posted to rec.radio.info?

Google has an excellent web interface to Usenet newsgroups. It is available at:

http://groups.google.com

It supports both reading and posting.

-- Will the material appearing in rec.radio.info be archived somewhere?

Yes. See Google Groups above.

Effectively this means that anything you post to rec.radio.info will be permanently stored, so your work will not be lost.

-- I have a regular posting with timely information, is there a way to speed up it's delivery, or automate for more convenience?

Yes, there is! It may take a bit of chatter with the moderator, but we are willing to take responsible people and provide them the means of posting the articles directly from their site. We will try everything we can as we fully realize that DX (distant signal) and astronomical data can be somewhat transitory. We are also willing to allow regular posters of information the same courtesy, even if the information is not as time critical.

We refer to this as self-moderation, which is partly based on the model for rec.answers/news.answers. This requires co-operation and goodwill to be beneficial to the community in the rec.radio hierarchy.

Please direct any comments, questions, or criticisms about this article to rec-radio-info-request@panix.com.

 rec.radio.info - Posting Guidelines and Etiquette ***

Two introductory articles about rec.radio.info are posted to this group and to rec.answers/news.answers every month. You are now reading the second article, which explains how to submit something to rec.radio.info, and which answers some Frequently Asked Questions about the submission process. The first article is titled "Welcome to rec.radio.info", and it might be a good idea to check it out as well.

-- How do I submit something to rec.radio.info?

Two possibilities. You can use your newsreading software to just post the article to rec.radio.info, as you would do with any other newsgroup. The difference is that the software recognizes the special status of rec.radio.info as a moderated group, and will e-mail your article to us, the moderation team, instead of posting it to the group.

Alternatively, you can mail your article directly to us at the following address:

rec-radio-info@panix.com

Mailing us directly is probably (a wee bit) faster, but using the transparency offered by the newsreading software is probably more convenient.

If you have any questions, or wish to deal with some administrivia with the moderation team, we suggest mailing to the following address:

rec-radio-info-request@panix.com

-- How soon will I see my article appear?

It depends on how busy we are. Your article reaches us as mail, we have to read it first, give it the stamp of approval, and finally send it on to the group. We will attempt to read and decide on all submissions within 72 hours at the very least, though we will probably be able to process submissions much faster in actual practice.

The site from which we moderate this newsgroup, "Public Access Internet and Unix, NYC" (Panix), is directly connected to the Internet, and articles posted at that site should appear at most major news sites, including Google Groups, the same day. The principal delay, therefore, will be the wait in the moderator's submission queue.

If you post a periodic article, and have shown to be trustworthy, we may allow you to post directly if the article is of a timely nature. See the section below on direct posting.

-- Should my article be in a specific format?

No. If it is not totally illegible, we will accept it, and if it does not have a correct subject-line we will correct it with your permission -- that's what a moderator is for.

However.

You could do us a big favor by making sure your article conforms to these simple requirements:

1) The article must present information, not discussion or requests, We will reject the article or require you to change the wording if it is worth it.
2) A good, descriptive Subject line.
3) Always mention what source you got the information from.
4) Don't forget to include a Followup-To header, at least if you don't want further discussion to automatically be forwarded to you, the poster, which is the default if the article is only posted to rec.radio.info.

As we said: if your article is appropriate we will post it even if you don't follow these guidelines, but then don't blame us for not processing it immediately. 'Perfect' articles we can send on with a couple of keystrokes. Stuff that needs minor editing is going to have to wait until we have time to do so.

Please do not waste both our and your time by posting requests, as this is an information only news group.

-- What about crossposting?

If you send something to rec.radio.info, just name any group you'd like to cross-post to in the Newsgroups field. Then, when we approve the article for rec.radio.info it will get automatically cross-posted to any other groups mentioned. This will also override the default Followup-To: poster, replacing it with the groups you cross posted to.

We would prefer if the group be cross-posted to the various discussion groups in the rec.radio.* hierarchy that are appropriate:

rec.radio.amateur.misc Amateur (ham) radio and related matters rec.radio.amateur.packet Amateur Packet Radio discussions rec.radio.amateur.policy Amateur Radio practices, rules, etc.
rec.radio.noncomm Non commercial radio discussions rec.radio.shortwave International broadcasting on the 'HF' bands rec.radio.cb Citizens Band (27 MHz) discussion rec.radio.scanner Scanner discussions (unsupported group) or in one of the moderated groups:

rec.radio.amateur.moderated Amateur radio practices, rules, etc.
rec.radio.broadcasting Discussion of domestic radio broadcasting

We will leave it up to the poster to decide which group(s) are appropriate, but reserve the right to add groups if we feel it has broader interest. We will consult with the poster first.

Notes on crossposting:

- rec.radio.broadcasting is also a moderated group. The rec.radio.broadcasting moderator prefers to review all articles himself before posting. Placing rec.radio.broadcasting before rec.radio.info on the Newsgroups line should accomplish this. We will typically abide by the rec.radio.broadcasting moderator's decision whether the article is appropriate for rec.radio.info.

- rec.radio.amateur.moderated is also a moderated group. As the rec.radio.amateur.moderated Moderation Team manages both rec.radio.amateur.moderated and rec.radio.info, we can manage crossposting and approvals for both newsgroups. The rec.radio.amateur.moderated group does not allow crossposting to other discussion newsgroups, whether moderated or unmoderated. However, we would like to manage rec.radio.info as consistently as possible with how it was done by previous moderators, including the grandfathering of existing regular postings. Therefore, the submitter can choose rec.radio.amateur.moderated or the other unmoderated rec.radio.amateur.* discussion newsgroups for crossposting, but not both.

- Any FAQ or informational posting approved by the rec.answers/news.answers moderation team that is also crossposted to any rec.radio.* newsgroup (besides just rec.radio.info) is also automatically pre-approved for rec.radio.info. See below for more information.

If you post to another moderated group, it may be better to make special arrangements with both moderators before posting by contacting us at our administrivia addresses.

In addition, cross-posts do not take up extra space; modern newsreaders can be configured to show you cross-posted articles only once anyway; not everybody reads rec.radio.info; and rec.radio.info was never meant to reduce the volume of the regular discussion newsgroups. But keep in mind that some of the mail gateways may filter out the informational postings (at request of the subscribers) to keep the load down.

You decide.

-- I have a regular posting with timely information, can I make arrangements to help speed up delivery by posting directly from my site?

Yes, there is! It may take a bit of chatter with the moderator, but we are willing to take responsible people and provide them the means of posting the articles directly from their site. We will try everything we can as we fully realize that DX (distant signal) and astronomical data can be somewhat transitory. We are also willing to allow regular posters of information the same courtesy, even if the information is not as timely.

We refer to this as self-moderation, which is partly based on the model for rec.answers/news.answers. This requires cooperation and good will to be beneficial to the community in the rec.radio.* hierarchy.

If you are currently maintaining (or plan to maintain) a radio-related periodic information posting, you may wish to consider crossposting it to rec.answers/news.answers. Postings that are approved by the rec.answers/news.answers moderators for this treatment are automatically pre-approved for crossposting to rec.radio.info (as the news.answers requirements are far more rigorous than the requirements this newsgroup ever plans to use). For more information about this option, consult the appropriate information articles and posting guidelines in rec.answers/news.answers.

Realize also, that even if your post is not approved for rec.answers/news.answers, it can still be approved for rec.radio.info. The intention is not so much to get every last bit of radio-related information on rec.answers/news.answers, but rather to provide an alternative avenue of approval (as well as grandfather existing maintainers of radio-related information and spare them additional bureaucratic hurdles). Again, crossposting to either rec.radio.info or rec.answers/news.answers, both, or neither, is at the discretion of the poster (subject to the approval of the moderators). You decide what is most appropriate for your article.

Please remember that as an information maintainer, you are not alone. There are many others on the net who maintain and post periodic information postings, using various intermediate-to-advanced features of Usenet (usually via automated tools). Various degrees of technical support and general hand-holding are available from many Usenet veterans. Send us some E-mail describing your needs to our administrative address below, and we'll try to help, or at least refer you to the right knowledgeable individual(s).

-- And Follow-ups?

If the only newsgroup you have specified is rec.radio.info, then the Followup-To: field will always be set to poster. If you do not want this, you must supply a Followup-To line of your own, and we will honor that one, as long as it is a subset of the original Newsgroups line.

If you specify newsgroups to cross-post to, then the Followup-To field will be set to include all the cross-posted groups, excepting rec.radio.info itself. Again, if you do not wish this behavior, supply your own Followup-To line.

We maintain other standards on the various RFC-1036 (news transport) header lines. For example, if the article is appropriate for passing into the Packet Radio Information Network, we encapsulate the Packet Bulletin Identifier (BID) in the Message-ID: news header line indicating the machine of origin as the ampr.org domain:

Message-ID: <$opa.55.1994@ampr.org>

where the Packet Radio BID, in this example, is `$OPA.55', and it was posted in the year 1994, because some of the Bid numbers are cycled yearly. Hopefully, this can be used as a key to re-introduce the articles for the Packet Radio network. Also, if the article is a repost of an already existing information article in the rec.radio heirarchy, we ensure that the References: header line is linked to that previously posted article. This also helps to tag articles, and may be used for additional filtering if needed.

Since the articles are archived, please use the Summary and Keywords header lines to help one search for your article.

-- Why have I received no reply from you?

We never reject anything in silence, and we make a point of it to answer all our mail. However, E-mail, like a brain cell, can and does get lost, every now and again.

So, if you send us something, and you don't see it appear it rec.radio.info, and you still have not heard from us in reply after say, five days, you can be pretty sure that either your mail never reached us, or that our answer has never reached you. In that case, please try again (We will filter out duplicates).

Please direct any comments, questions, or criticisms about this article to rec-radio-info-request@panix.com.

I've fiddled with loops and a North Hills transformer for the balun. Still not as good as a wellbrook, but interesting from a hacking perspective. Ebay has North Hills transformers from time to time, so I wouldn't pay real money for one.

perhaps you need to read your history a bit more.
computer technology (such as that used on the internet) was directly descended from research projects at AT&T and NASA.

If NASA had not existed, and we had NOT gone to the moon, we would still be using older style modems and probably just getting to the TRS-80 Model 1 about now.

AMEN!!!! I used to work for them, and finally quit, nothing to do.
Every day the guy in charge would try to rack his brain to find some project to do. Funny part, they all pretended they were doing something useful and patriotic. What a waste.

Yea, you got a great deal on the HDT-1:

http://ham-radio.com/k6sti/hdt-1.txt

It's nothing but a cheap-shit empty box ! Now, you will have to upgrade that with the HDT-1X - a never-ending cycle of hardware/ receiver upgrades:

http://ham-radio.com/k6sti/hdt-1x.txt

Eventually, you will have to buy yet another crappy HD radio - suckers !

A quarter-wavelength on channel 2 is roughly 1.5m or about 60". Any antenna whose largest dimension is 21" is going to be very much a compromise on VHF.

"Up to 50 miles", kinda suggests that if the VHF station is operating from a 2,000-foot mountain, you're on a hill too, there are no noisy computers in your house, and the atmospherics are just right, you might get a snowy picture. I would suggest that in "real life" 10-15 miles might be a better estimate, at least for VHF.

I hope you're right about the future of AM HD. Several stations have begun testing at night in anticipation of this September. If this happens the AM braodcast band will be worthless at night. This is so sad to see what an inept government we have.

I know I'm sorta nitpicking here, but the transistor we're familiar with, the junction transistor was invented in 48, but Bell Labs didn't announce it until 1951. It was first commercially used in hearing aids in 1952.

And all that can be said in spades for military technological development.

I used to have an old Radio-Electronics magazine from 1965 or so which included an article about the upcoming integrated circuit revolution. It said that 90% of the then current IC production capacity was being used for military production. It was expected to be 50-50 around 1970 and then consumer production would explode.

The silicon transistor was developed around 1955 and it's early production was also dominated by the military.

I haven't checked in quite a few years, (before I got DirecTV) but I guess I can still pick up Ameica One tv out of Greenville, Mississippi on one of my tv sets that isn't hooked up to DirecTV.The picture was snowy though because Greenville is about seventy miles North Northwest of me, on the Mississippi River.I think America One tv is broadcast out of Arlington,Texas and relayed to Greenville.Of course, when the big HDTV switchover comes if Feburary 2009, I probally won't be able to pick up America One tv.I don't want HDTV, SCREW the fcc!.
Local Jackson area tv stations I can pick up are, WLBT 3 NBC, WJTV 12 CBS, WAPT 3 ABC, WMPN 29 PBS, WRBJ 34 CW TV Services, WUFX 35 NNT TV Services, WDBD 40 FOX.There is another tv station that might be broadcasting in Jackson someday, WWJX, may be independent, owner is Flinn Broadcasting.

According to Shockley's papers, 1947.

I'm not familiar with the hearing aid appliction. Again, Shockely's papers report the first use in 56 or 57, in consumer entertainment applications.

Not bad for what was intended to be an industrial switch.

Thanks for the tip, though.

Oh yeah. The technology that came out of WWII for instance fueled generations of innovation.

I remember reading that military leaders attempted to corral all silicon transistor production to keep it out of the hands of general interests, and our enemies.

The Cold War did wonders for technological evolution.

Is it possible to stream audio from a computer to a good wifi router
and broadcast that way unlicenced to FM radios around you?
How far would it go?

CBX, did you say you used to work for them, as in NASA? Was there a woman who worked there when you was there? I think her last name is Green.Did you read that article in Popular Mechanics magazine about five something years ago about that woman who retired from NASA and she said NASA is broken.I have that magazine floatin around here somewhere, (because I subscribe to that magazine (Popular Science magazine too, snail mail home delivery) but it would take me forever to find it.I am sooooo unorganized and lazyyyy.Head on over to your local area libraries and see can you find that article.If you do, copy it on a library copying machine and take it home and scan it and post it in this newsgroup for all the World to read.

It's pretty dry and composed of mostly one-way mesages. The biggest problem is the complete lack of organization. It's just a date sequenced dump of tens of thousands of single messages with no structure. It has the potential to be useful if the moderators would organize the information by subject.

DS,

I suspect that the combo of a Amplifier and an {any} Outside Antenna will give a reasonably good HDTV Signal on VHF and UHF with in 15~20 Miles; along with a Rotor to point right at the TV Station.

Still have two RadioShack VU-75 VHF/FM/UHF TV Antennas
http://support.radioshack.com/support_video/doc52/52245.htm
and a RadioShack VU-90 VHF/FM/UHF TV Antennas
http://support.radioshack.com/support_video/doc52/52246.htm
down in sub-basement # 3 in Oakland, CA.
The original set-up (30 Years) for Over-the-Air three Antennas was having the VU-90 on top and pointing at Sacramento; with a VU-75 pointing down at San Jose; and a VU-45 pointed at San Francisco. Most people thought I had Cable TV because of all the Channels I was getting.

==========
Police Provocateurs Exposed at North American Summit
August 22, 2007
by Harry Thomas
It seems agents are up to dirty tricks again. It has been reported in the past that agent provocateurs have been used to provoke riots at otherwise peaceful protests. Monday's attempt was thwarted by the protest organizer Dave Coles, president of the Communications, Energy and Paperworkers Union of Canada.

This video released today clearly shows evidence that cops were staging an event at the protest line to get riot police to respond with violence towards the peaceful protesters.

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=St1-WTc1kow

The protested summit expands the progress of a North American Union also known as the SPP (security and prosperity partnership) in which Canada, Mexico, and the United States will become one known as the North American Community. Very little media attention and no public or congressional oversight or input has been allowed during this process of integration.

Critics of the Summit say Canada's water resources , sovereignty, and way of life is in grave jeopardy
. Most Americans do not even know about the existence of the SPP let alone talks of replacing the Dollar with the Amero. This is mainly because of a media blackout on the subject. The little exposure that does gets mentioned in the mainstream media usually exemplifies what the Global Elite behind this keep saying, that these fears are unjustified. There are many Mexicans up in arms about these plans also.

There has been a substantial border set up keeping the protesters many miles away from the actual summit venue.

Thanks for the responses! There was a lot of good information and references in the replies. I especially liked the stormwise site.
Funny how I can google for hours and still miss some of the best web sites.

I had read in some other articles on the net that a longer ferrite bar can be made from two shorter bars by using epoxy to glue them together. I have my doubts about this. I realize that the inductance may not know the difference and just "jump" across the glue joint, but does it really? Perhaps winding the bar so the coil spans the glue junction would compensate for the separation between the bars? Do you think gluing two bars together would truly behave as one long ferrite bar?

Thanks,
Denno

You must have a very dull life - nothing to do but post your very stupid remarks about HD Radio.

The auto industry is gearing up to add HD Radio to nearly every make and model automobile within the next 3 years or so. All 2007 BMW's now offer HD Radio as an option. For 2008, Jaguar has added the option. Also for 2008, the new luxury car being offered by Hyundai will have HD Radio as standard, I believe. And the list goes on.

The same nonsense was said about FM Radio, about radio itself when television took off, about tv dinners, etc. etc. Things don't happen overnight.

Get a life and grow up.

FM did not interfere with anyone's ability to listen to their favorite AM station. TV didn't interfere with anyone's ability to listen to their favorite AM or FM station. FM stereo did not interfere with anyone's ability to listen to their favorite FM station in monaural. AM stereo did not interfere with anyone's ability to listen to their favorite AM station in monaural (in fact, it enhanced the experience because of the allowed extra bandwidth. IBOC DOES interfere with people's abilities to listen to their favorite stations. Not only does AM-IBOC interfere with stations up to three channels away from an IBOC station's carrier frequency, but it has meant that the audio bandwidth now used for AM analog is little or no better than a telephone. FM-IBOC interferes with first and second adjacent channels, making them difficult or impossible to receive. And anyone who lives in a high population area, such as the east coast, knows that their 'local' stations are not the only ones they can hear. Areas between say, New York and Boston, or New York and Philadelphia, can hear stations easily from either city. Not with IBOC..

Sure, 900+ for the R7, probably 900 for the RV75 and then, very rare is the adapter that enables the RV75 to be used with the R7/A and one has a sweet set-up.

Good luck to all.

"U.S. automakers not jumping into HD Radio"

http://www.reuters.com/article/ousiv/idUSN2632750220070427?pageNumber=1

Not happening - Satellite Radio is taking over in-dash, with 1/4 of new cars having Satellite as stand/optional equipment. Even Hyundai is installing Satellite as standard in all of its models, except for the luxery model where HD Radio remains an expensive $500 option. iPod jack are also taking over in-dash, stupid !

Do you really think ANYONE cares what YOU think?

Of course satellite radio is available for most cars. Look how long satellite radio has been out. Satellite radio was first available in the LUXURY CARS ONLY, and now available in some non-luxury models. SAME FOR HD RADIO. It will start with the luxury cars and gradually work down. Like Satellite radio, receivers will go DOWN in price as more units are sold.

IF HD Radio was dead, I wouldn't be making the money I am making now for HD Radio. And the income keeps going UP, not down.

I have NO problem with analog AM reception here in central California. I get every local station loud and clear, PLUS several stations hundreds of miles away all day long. NO interference from the MANY HD stations broadcasting in my area. Get a quality radio and maybe you won't have all these problems.

Perhaps it should be the state of Massachusetts who should apologize, since they were the chief railroaders. Massachusetts is a far more liberal place than it was in 1920, so this should be no problem. It should be noted that the same hatred that killed these guys is now directed at Mexicans, with demands for mass murder of them and Muslims being heard. We're becoming the Nazis. At least in 1920 there were no attempts at anti-Italian genocide.

Massachusetts should certainly apologize also. The US government apology is more important because they created, nurtured and fanned the flames that made a Sacco/Venzetti atrocity possible. Do you recall the infamous Palmer Raids so named after U.S. Attorney General Palmer?

>From Wikipedia:
His tenure as Attorney General was concurrent with the First Red Scare, and Palmer became a zealous opponent of anarchist communists, insurrectionary anarchists, and other radicals who advocated the violent overthrow of the U.S. government. Twice the intended victim of anarchist bomb attacks, the bombing and destruction of his Washington, D.C. home (which killed the bomber, Carlo Valdinoci as he was placing the bomb on Palmer's porch) undoubtedly influenced his actions in this area. His campaign against radicalism culminated in what came to be called the Palmer Raids. These were a series of police roundups, warrantless wiretaps (authorized under the Sedition Act), and mass arrests of suspected leftists and radicals, during which a total of at least 10,000 individuals were arrested. Fearful of extremist violence and revolution, the American public widely supported the raids, and outside of criticism by those apprehended, some civil libertarian groups, and the radical left, condemnation of the raids did not surface until many years later.

Palmer also famously predicted that Communists would attempt to overthrow the United States government on May Day 1920. He had some reason for making this statement, as the original anarchist mail bombing had been timed to ensure delivery of the bombs by the Post Office on May Day 1919. The date came and went without incident, but on September 16 of that year, Wall Street was rocked by a violent blast, later known as the Wall Street bombing. The bomb was constructed with 100 pounds of dynamite and was wrapped with metal shrapnel in order to cause indiscriminate casualties. Concealed in a horse-drawn wagon, the bomb was precisely timed to catch people leaving for their lunch break. The Wall Street bombing killed 38 people and wounded or maimed over 400, causing extensive property damage and leaving visible marks on several Wall Street buildings to this day. In spite of the Palmer raids, the Galleanist (followers of Luigi Galleani) bomb campaign would continue for another twelve years, until most of its members had been prosecuted, deported, or become inactive.

I think the bigger issue is the permeability of the core. I've fiddle with air core loops and the North Hills. The signal strength isn't as high as the wellbrook, but the signal quality isn't bad. I haven't put a cap across the loop to tune it.

There is some fancy way to make the loop if you are going to put a cap across it. It involves two loops and maybe two caps (but on the same knob). I don't recall the details, but it is on the net someplace.

I don't particularly like tuned loops since you need to tune them as you change frequency. If your radio has decent filtering, the tune loop isn't really needed.

If you wanted to match impedance, you could determine the L of the loop, and then use wL as the impedance. It really wouldn't be matched since the inductor is reactive. The parallel LC is resistive at resonance. I think it is real and infinite. [Too many years since I had to know that stuff, but it should be on the net.]

Denno,

Building "Joined 'Twin' Ferrite Rods" : Making a One Longer Ferrite Rod from Two
http://groups.yahoo.com/group/Shortwave-SWL-Antenna/message/14369

Joining Two Ferrite Rods" by 'gluing' them together is a little more complex than that . . .

CRITICAL - They should be the same Type Ferrite
Materal and Size of Ferrite Bars. { Twins }

First - The Ends that are to be joined together need to be Polished and Flatened so that the two end Surfaces can make full and complete contact with each other. Throughly Clean the Two Ends of the Ferrite Rods.

Second - Rig an Assembly Form (Jig) to position the Two Ferrite Rod so that the Ends Tough Flat and the Two Ferrite Rods form a concurrent line and separate the Rod Ends by a 1/4" so that they can be "Bonded"

Third - Use a very small amount {1/2 Drop} of "SuperGlue" to "Bond" the Two Ends of the Ferrite Rods. Press the Ends together firmly for 5~ 10 Seconds.

Fourth - Prepare a small amount of Clear Epoxy to use to cover the outside of the Two Joined Ferrite Rods.
Cover the Outer Surface of the Ferrite Rods with a Thin Coat of Epoxy all around for about an Inch and let the Epoxy set and harden.
* Repeat the Epoxy covering for about 3/4".
* Again repeat the Epoxy covering for about 1/2".
Three Thin Coat of Epoxy thin at the edges and thicker in the middle.

Note - Clear Epoxy not the 'colored' kind that may have some metalic fillers in it.

Fifth - Carefully remove the "Joined 'Twin' Ferrite Rods" from the Fixture and handle and store them very carefully.

TIP - Have all your 'other' Antenna Rod Work done first and building the "Joined 'Twin' Ferrite Rods" is the last work step before the Final Assembly Process.

hope this helps - iane ~ RHF {pomkia}

The Circle of Zap ! - Lightning - How Close Is Close ?
http://groups.yahoo.com/group/Shortwave-SWL-Antenna/message/14342
First you and your Family were not Home so no people was Hurt.
Considering a Direct Hit - Lightning Hitting Your House;
-or- Your Antenna Ground System;
-or- Your Car while it was parked inside the Garage.
- - - To Say The Least You Have Been ZAPPED and the Worst could be that the House and Everything is a Total Loss. Yes - It was Over before you knew it happen.
Next consider a Near Hit within 300 Yards of Your House. The EMF was so great it fried many of your household electronic appliances, Microwave, Toothbrush, Telephones, TVs, PC, and many of the Light Bulbs were gone too; not to mention the Washer & Dryer; Refregerator; Hot Water Heater and the AC Unit.
-Now- If before you left the house you disconnected the Antenna from the Radios; and unplugged the Radios from the AC Power; Shorted Out the Antenna Inputs of the Radios and put the Radios in a Strong Metal Box . . . The Good News is that your Radios are OK - Whoopie ! - Now Explain that to your Wife :o)
Then consider a Not-So-Near-Hit about a Mile Away from Your House. The EMF was not-so-great; and some items in your house did get Zaps. The DVD doesn't DVD anymore and the Fish in the Fish Tank are dead because the Air Pump stopped.
-But Again- The Good News is that your Radios are OK
- Now Explain that to your Kids who want to have a Funeral for the Fish :-(
Finally consider a distant Hit of Lightning about 3-5 Miles away, Your House is Safe and you Radios were not harmed.
The Gizmo Box gizzed; The Neon Bulb glowed;
The Diodes dioded; and the Bleed Resister bled.
Most of these things are designed for 'low-level-protection' and are simply not Lightning Protectors. The do a reasonable job of getting rid of Static and minor EMF problems from distant events. But a Very Near of Direct Hit NO [.]
With out going through a lot of work and a lot of money Protecting your House and your Radios from Lightning is not easy. However there are somethings that you can do to Protect your Radios and in the process Protect Your House and Family.

1 - Disconnected the Antennas and feed-in-lines outside and away from the House when you are not using the Radios; or when a T&L Storm is in the local area. This should be a designed-in feature of your Antenna Grounding System.
2 - Unplugged the Radios from the AC Power when not in use or when a T&L Storm is in the local area.
3 - Shorted Out the Antenna Inputs of the Radios when not in use or when a T&L Storm is in the local area.
4 - Put the Radios in a Strong Metal Box; this is way too much; but if it makes you feel good . . .

- FM-IBOC interferes with first and second adjacent channels,
- making them difficult or impossible to receive. And anyone
- who lives in a high population area, such as the east coast,
- knows that their 'local' stations are not the only ones they
- can hear. Areas between say, New York and Boston, or
- New York and Philadelphia, can hear stations easily from
- either city. Not with IBOC..

BAD,

There is No "DX" in IBOC and that is as clear as what
"HD" in in HD Radio means to DX'ers "Hell and Damnation" !

Local FM Radio will become 'localized' FM "HD" Radio and better serve the Local Advertizers within the Local Market by keeping out Advertizers from the adjacent Radio Markets.
HD Radio on AM and FM will result in the further
'localization' of the Radio Advertizing Market.
Oops did I fail to mention Radio Listeners ? ? ?
Oh that's Right the Radio Listeners are Owned

It's a question of what you want. I like having a radio with good radio performance and radio ergonomics. I prefer a PTO to a DDS.

I'd love to have a similar setup, but since I'm a ham, it would be a
TR-7(A) not an R-7(A).

Probably most of the people reading this would prefer a computerized radio with a DDS for tuning, and digital filtering etc. While I'm sure that they could perform better and may even sound better, it is not going to happen even in a $2000 radio (look at the Ten-Tec Orion II, for example), or the $10,000 Japanese radios.

The FlexRadio may be equal in performance on the digital filtering side, but it lacks a tuned front end and the filtering is all done in a PC, which adds it's own problems (or good points depending upon your point of view).

In the end it may be a museum piece anyway. Even without BPL, the noise level on my Kenwood R5000 with a 20 meter random wire antenna is already at S9. It's not local, at night on 14mHz, the noise is around S3. As the day progresses and signals come in from North America, so does the noise. :-(

Lucky for me, those DX stations from Europe are a lot closer in both distance and time. :-)

Geoff.

I've had considerable success with it! However the tuning wheel is very sensitive and the optimum point is very narrow; if you tune it into the start of the 49m band you have to retune when you reach the end.

Best way I have found is to tune the radio into an empty frequency and then tune the antenna until the noise peaks. Once you get around 15KHz and above the effect is less prominent and the preamp seems to act like a high-pass filter instead of a notch filter.

Good luck!

Which "it" are you talking about. If you are referring to the info group any information posted there would be of use for only a very short period of time because there is no organization or structure to the messages. Under rec.radio-shortwave messages are posted under topics. The info board should adopt that structure to correct the chaotic structure.

The administrators of rec.radio.info are adept at creating overly-long lists of behaviour rules, standards for editing message content and levels of review. They are woefully short on presenting those fully sanitized messages in any useful order however.

Again, which "this" are you referring to. When cross posting you have to give a point of reference to a, this, that and it.

It's still a dated design that now contains 30 year old electronics.
When new it may have been a sweet setup but that was 1980. The National HRO500 was a sweet setup when new in 1965, but it is long past it's prime. As with the R7.

Are you sure the noise isn't local or are you just surmising this

This is the only response I will make to this posting.

Mr. Stern once again is dreadfully wrong.

Mr. Stern claims I was arrested by the Feds. I was never arrested by the feds.

I sure hope Mr. Stern has done more fact checking regarding his frequency lists than he has during this character Assignation. But we all know Mr. Stern has badgered me for years. And still to this date
I have no clue as to why.....

1818. OT: GMRS base station operations, or...

Good morning - question on GMRS radios.

Is it easily/trivially possible to either (1) hook up a GMRS "walkie talkie" to an external antenna (elevated and outdoors), or (2) purchase for a reasonable cost a GMRS base radio system with an external antenna for this type of installation?

The reason I ask is because I am sometimes part of the "geyser gazer" network at Old Faithful (Yellowstone) in the summer, and we all communicate with the visitor center via FRS/GMRS radios. The VC is in a reception-poor spot, they use only a regular little Motorola Radio to talk to us, and we believe that an elevated external antenna at that site would greatly facilitate effective communications and the public's enjoyment of the geysers. The national park service seems to not have a direct link to any such radios, but they do have a small pot of money they could use for incidental expenses such as this.

I have not been successful at finding this kind of thing on the web so far. If anyone can point me toward a manufacturer/seller of such equipment, I would be grateful. Thanks!

It may be a nice receiver, but a radio that requires a external VFO equal in price to the radio itself seems like a poor deal if chasing dx stations is ones goal.

It should be noted that the winning Bidder placed three Bids :
One for $2K and two more for $2K+ and $2K++ neither of which were exceeded. Must be a real Drake Radio Collector.

FRS/GMRS radios are 'type accepted,' and certified to meet the requirements and limitations for the service as they come out of the box. Modification of either the electronics or the antenna can violate the certification of type acceptance, and make the modification illegal.

You'd also need to hold the proper personal license to make such modifications. First Phone was required. Now a General Phone is the ticket to make modifications to a type accepted radio. You would still be on the hook for any out of spec operation.

So, no, it's not a trivial matter.

Technically speaking, at the lower powers of FRS, adding length to the antenna, while flat out illegal, is not so much of a technical problem. There would be a need to account for proper antenna loading, but a mismatch of considerable margin can usually be tolerated by the electronics. The gain, however in transmitting range would be marginal. Although receivability may improve.

At the higher input powers of GRMS, however, the mismatch of antenna to electronics is more of an issue. Output stages can be damaged. And, again, potential benefit to transmit range would be offset by losses due to the mismatch. So, greater care would have to be taken to make the proper modification. But even so, if you had the proper technical credentials (license) you'd still be responsible for any out of spec operations.

Finding a type accepted radio to meet your needs would be a much better option, legally, and functionally.

Depending on terrain and conditions, there are some 11m HT's that would work with a base station quite well.

Found this on the Universal website:

http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/frs/1606.html

It is an ICOM GRMS HT, with an adaptor available to convert the antenna input to BNC. Which would imply the use of an external antenna is not only possible, but accounted for.

Operation within range limits would still have to be observed, but if you keep the impedance of an external antenna/transmission line within spec, you should be able to get what you're looking for without legal violations or hardware damage.

Thanks, Peter, this is very helpful! Remember, the operator is a federal government agency anyway, and the communications would be dedicated to geyser-related (and the occasional wild animal conflict/public rule enforcement) communications over a small area (about 2 square miles). It would be used solely to communicate with volunteers in the field using FRS/GMRS radios - as is the current practice. As you suggest, I don't think there would be any legal issue as to use.

I own an old copper teapot.I think it dates back to the 1940s or early 1950s.I never use it though because I don't like tea.I have an old World War Two era U.S.Army aluminum canteen with the cup (cup has a flip up handle) (have y'all priced those old World War Two era aluminum canteen kits lately? they aren't cheap!) and the carying case.I bought a brass cap and I drilled a hole in the cap and I drilled a hole through the center of a brass bolt with my drill press and I bolted that into the cap.I used one of my tubing benders and I bent a curve in a little piece of copper tubing, the tube is a snug push fit over the drilled bolt.Prestot! I have a neat lttle water distiller for emergency situations.I can put any of nasty water in my canteen/distiller and I have pure distilled water.U.S.Military ought to quit using those cheap plastic canteens and go back to aluminum canteens and rig them up like I did with my old canteen.

A lot of rain in the past week or so, and currently sprinkling. A fast moving

I rode back from Milwaukee in it. Fortunately, I always carry my rain gear. But it was a frog strangler.

Still heavy lightning, with occasional downpours right now.

BTW, with all the standing water around here, my pumps running non-stop 24/7 because of the ground saturation and the high water tables, and the local lakes overrunning their spillways, I've informed the public works/water company that I will be washing my car this weekend, and I don't want to hear any more crap about 'drought.'

NASA Pushes Ahead With Nukes In Space While New Report Predicts More Space Shuttle Accidents Could Occur

Karl Grossman, author of the "The Wrong Stuff: The Space Program's Nuclear Threat To Our Planet" reviews NASA's report on the Space Shuttle Columbia explosion and his concerns over NASA's plans for nukes in space.

A report on the loss of Space Shuttle Columbia predicted that NASA would suffer similar tragedies killing more astronauts if it did not transform its quote "broken safety culture."

The report focused on both the physical errors that caused Columbia to explode on its on Feb. 1 mission as well as the work culture at NASA.

The explosion that killed seven marked the second time in 20 years that a Space Shuttle blew up.

Investigators determined NASA's engineering had grown careless, its safety system was flawed, and communication within the agency was muddled. NASA Administrator Sean O'Keefe was also cited for creating the problematic culture.

The review board determined the Space Shuttle's problems stemmed from a problem during the liftoff when a 1.7 pound piece of foam insulation fell off hitting the shuttle's wing at 500 miles per hour causing some damage.

The investigators found the culture at NASA where policies and managers were seldom critiqued led to the agency being unable to make possible fixes after the problem occurred on liftoff. Among other things it was reported the Agency never obtained pictures of the space shuttle Columbia in orbit that may have displayed the extent of the damage. Lower-level engineers requested such photo, but the requests were ignored or blocked.

The report read "Management decisions made during Columbia's final flight reflect missed opportunities, blocked or ineffective communications channels, flawed analysis, and ineffective leadership." It went on to say "Perhaps most striking is the fact that management . . . displayed no interest in understanding a problem and its implications."

Unless fundamental changes are put forward the board warned "the scene is set for another accident." However the board did not call for the permanent end to space shuttle flights if NASA followed 15 recommendations.

The board did recommend the government should spend more money on NASA but one analyst told the New York Times, "The problem is, the program is worthless. It doesn't involve anything worth dying for."

TRANSCRIPT

AMY GOODMAN: We're joined on the telephone by Karl Grossman. He's the author of The Wrong Stuff: The Space Program's Nuclear Threat To Our Planet. He's also a professor of journalism at the State University of New York, Old Westbury. Welcome to Democracy Now!

KARL GROSSMAN: Good morning, Amy.

AMY GOODMAN: Tell us your analysis of this report. You have been reporting on NASA for decades.

KARL GROSSMAN: Well, I'm heartened that we have another commission declaring that NASA is a bumbling bureaucracy out of control with very minimal concern for safety. One of the lines in the report is so telling-- NASA's organizational culture had as much to do with this accident as foam did.

AMY GOODMAN: Talk about that culture.

KARL GROSSMAN: It's a culture in which criticism is not welcomed. I know this from whistle blowers, insiders in NASA who have come to me through the years. Whether it's a low-level person or a mid-level person concerned about the foam striking the shuttle in this particular situation.
Or thousands, millions of concerns that NASA employees have. You don't open your mouth. You don't raise a concern. This is not an agency, as this commission report said, with checks and balances. Its report does not have an independent safety program, has not demonstrated the characteristics of a learning organization. That's really important. They always talk about lessons learned. Apparently at NASA lessons are not learned.

AMY GOODMAN: Can you talk about what you have most focused on, and that is nuclear material in space, and what that has to do with this report.

KARL GROSSMAN: My biggest concern since, well, it goes back to the 1980s. I broke the story in 1986 about the Challenger's next mission to be a mission involving lofting plutonium into space. That would have been in May of '86 if it hadn't blown up in January of '86. And now NASA is involved in a great expansion, a sweeping expansion of its space nuclear program. This Sean O'Keefe calls it Project Prometheus-- NASA's good at these catchy names and titles. Three billion dollars is to be spent over the next five years on all kinds of space nuclear projects, including a nuclear-propelled rocket. This is a scheme which NASA spent billions on way back in the '50s, '60s, and early '70s. The major reason this was cancelled was out of concern for a nuclear rocket crashing back to earth. But Sean O'Keefe is gung-ho nuclear--in fact there's a personal angle here.

In an interview with a nuclear energy trade publication, Sean O'Keefe talks about, at the dinner table at night being regaled by stories from his father who was in the nuclear Navy about the wonders of atomic propulsion at sea. Then he goes on, Sean O'Keefe saying that we're going to bring nuclear power to a new dimension above all our heads. The L.A. Times quoted Sean O'Keefe as saying we're talking about doing something again, this Project Prometheus, on a very aggressive schedule. Talking about getting missions up, nuclear-propelled rocket missions up by the end of the decade. So here you have this agency that can shoot right in space, being charged with negligence, serious negligence in connection with the death of the seven astronauts on Columbia. And it goes back, this history of ineptness, incompetence, and lack of concern for safety moving to all kinds of things nuclear in space. And we're not volunteers. The astronauts were volunteers, we're not. And to embark on this foolish atomic course endangering lots of life-not to be anthropomorphic--lots of life on earth, for this agency to do this is just horrific. And it just must be stopped.

AMY GOODMAN: And how would you suggest that it be stopped?

KARL GROSSMAN: Well, I think critically it's important that people know what's going on. And there's not a whisper, not a touch in the coverage this morning or last night about--and I think it's very much connected because this is Sean O'Keefe's big project, this project Prometheus. And I think people have to know and thank heavens for you, Amy, and for Democracy Now!, we're getting the word across to good degree this morning. But I think people should write letters to the editor, people should shake up the media, or whatever the media is these days, in their areas and get some attention on this space nuclear program. Then there's a very good organization that I would suggest people connect to and that is the Global Network Against Weapons and Nuclear Power In Space. You go to their website, it's www.space4peace.org. I put together a number of videos on this issue of nukes in space and you can give a call to Enviro Video at 1-800-326-8846.

AMY GOODMAN: Karl Grossman.

KARL GROSSMAN: And churches and schools and people just have to know what NASA has been up to and what it plans to do now and how that will be endangering all our lives.

AMY GOODMAN: Well, Karl Grossman, thanks very much for being with us, author of The Wrong Stuff: The Space Program's Nuclear Threat To Our Planet He's a professor of journalism at the State University of New York, Old Westbury.

The full House passed the Commerce, Justice, and Science appropriations bill, which would give NASA $17.6 billion in FY2008, $300 million more than what the Bush Administration requested.

Hard working Americans forced to pay for the WPA (works project program AKA NASA) for Ph.D eggheads (you know the type - professional college students who were too lazy to work so they stayed in college until they were finally kicked out into the real world). The same crowd that looks down their noses at you because they are so superior to you because they have so much "education".

I don't understand why this guy still hangs around.

Don't forget, he pled NO CONTEST to a 3rd Degree Felony, ORGANIZED SCHEME TO DEFRAUD.
It isn't an admission of guilt, but he is saying "YOU HAD SO MUCH EVIDENCE ON ME THAT I CAN"T CONTEST IT".
The courts view it as an admission of guilt and judge it accordingly.

He is on 3 years of probation with very specific rules he must follow.
If he breaks one of the them, he goes back to jail.
He was streaching the truth about sneezing and having to tell the judge.
The real truth is if he FARTS the judge must be informed.

I still believe that his websites are close to being outside his probation order and are on a very fine line. Web searches still will pull up pages on Licensed4Fun.CON. and SLOTmachineSCAM.4me
Although none of the pay links work, all it takes is a setup to one of his many aliases and he back in business.

All of us should never forget to check them now and then and make sure they don't work.
If they do, print copies of the payment links on the website. Be sure the web address and date is in the Footer of the document.

Mail them certified to:

Put out on this group your intent and I am sure a few us of us will be glad to provide you with his SS#, Instrument and Case number his probation was filed under.

Any one ever find out what he is doing for work????

Part II : Beyond the Simple One-Wire Outdoor Shortwave Antenna
http://groups.yahoo.com/group/Shortwave-SWL-Antenna/message/14406

OK so you have your Eton E1 Radio and you want more out of it.

Clearly besides a new Radio the only major way of doing this is a better Shortwave Antenna for the Radio.

Assume you live in an Urban Area and AM/MW Radio Stations become a problem when you start using an External "Longwire" Antenna with your Radio.

Assume that you have the Space for an External Antenna and that there are No Restrictions on Outside Antennas.

Now lets start with your eton E1 Radio : It uses a PAL Jack for the external Shortwave Antenna connection.

So first of all you need a PAL Plug to mate-up with the PAL Jack on the Radio.

-Note- The PAL Connections are the EU {World Wide} equilvalent of the USA's "F" Connector. and most of them work well with TV type 75 Ohm Coax Cable.
-OR- You could use a PAL to "F" Adaptor.

So why not use TV type 75 Ohm Coax Cable as your Shortwave Antennas feed-in-line !

Converting from the Coax Cable to the Wire Antenna Element(s).
To 'match' the Coax Cable to the Wire Antenna you will need a Matching Transformer. The simplist an most common to find is the 300 Ohm to 75 Ohm TV type Matching Transformer.
-Note- The TV type Matching Transformer greatly attenuates the RF Signals below 5 MHz so to some extent it is an AM/MW Band Rejection Filter.
The Two 300 Ohm Wire Leads of the Matching Transformer give you a few Shortwave Antenna Options :
* Dipole or Inverted "V' or Multi-Dipole Antenna
* Windom Antenna
* Horizontal Wire Antenna {Longwire / Random Wire}
* Inverted "L" Antenna
The Dipole and the Windom both use each of the Two 300 Ohm Wire Leads like a Balun. And you can either Cut them to a Shortwave Band Size -or- Cut them to fill the Available Space

you have to work in Safely.

Examples of Cut-To-Size Dipole Antenna Sizes :
60m = 95.4 Feet Tip-to-Tip or = 47.7 Feet per Arm
49m = 77.0 Feet Tip-to-Tip or = 38.5 Feet per Arm
41m = 63.7 Feet Tip-to-Tip or = 31.8 Feet per Arm
31m = 49.0 Feet Tip-to-Tip or = 24.5 Feet per Arm
25m = 39.3 Feet Tip-to-Tip or = 19.7 Feet per Arm
22m = 34.1 Feet Tip-to-Tip or = 17.7 Feet per Arm

Examples of Cut-To-Size Windom Antenna Sizes :
60m & 41m = Long Arm 47.7 Feet and 31.8 Feet Short Arm
49m & 31m = Long Arm 38.5 Feet and 24.5 Feet Short Arm
31m & 22m = Long Arm 24.5 Feet and 17.7 Feet Short Arm

-Note- The Dipole and Windom Antennas are 'balanced' Antennas and a Ground may not be needed to make them function well.

The Horizontal Wire and Inverted "L" Antennas are single Wire Antennas and you will use one of the 300 Ohm Lead to connect to the Wire Antenna Element and . . .
What Do I Do with the 'other' Lead ? ? ?
Connect a short 3-4 Inch Bare Wire to this other Lead and use a Hose Clamp to Secure it to the outside of the "F" Connector attached to the 75 Ohm Connector of the Matching Transformer - you now have a Magnetic Longwire Balun (MLB).

The Horizontal Wire Antenna can be any Random Length Wire
that you can Safely Rig within your Property Limits.

The Inverted "L" Antenna can be any Random Length Wire
that you can Safely Rig within your Property Limits.
-OR- Inverted "L" Antenna can be Cut-to-Size

Examples of Cut-To-Size Inverted "L" Antenna Sizes :
31m & 60m = Vert-Leg 24.5 Feet and Horiz-Arm 47.7 Feet
25m & 49m = Vert-leg 19.7 Feet and Horiz-Arm 38.5 Feet
19m & 41m = Vert-Leg 15.1 Feet and Horiz-Arm 31.8 Feet { Relative Aspect Radio 1V : 2H }

-Note- The Horizontal Wire and Inverted'L" Antennas are 'un-balanced' Antennas and a Ground will be needed to make them function properly.

For the Coax Cable feed-in-line i recommend RG6 Quad Shield Coax Cable. As musch as you need to get from you Eton E1 Radio to your Matching Transformer and Wire Antenna Elements.

All of these above Wire Antennas should have lower Noise and better Signal Levels then a simple plain wire Antenna;

and provide for a more enjoyable Shortwave Listening (SWL) experience.

hope this helps - iane ~ RHF {pomkia}

1855. Venezuela going to GMT-3 1/2 in September

Other "split" time zones include India (+5 1/2) and Newfoundland (island only) (-3 1/2 / -2 1/2).

(CBC radio in English sends the Atlantic zone feed to Newfoundland time zones, thus causing programs to be a half hour later by local clocks.)

The point being that it's being treated as yet another Hugo Chavez weirdness and it isn't quite that weird. However, what it DOES do is to slightly isolate Venezuela from other countries although not so much when people get used to it.

Venezuela to change time zone by 30 min in September

CARACAS (Reuters) - Venezuelan President Hugo Chavez has changed his country's name, redesigned its flag and rejigged its coat of arms in his drive for a socialist state.

Now the leftist reformer, highly popular for redistributing oil income, is seeking to move the country's time zone to offer a more equitable distribution of sunlight.

Venezuela in September will turn clocks back by 30 minutes as it switches time zones to boost the amount of natural light to residents, a government official said on Thursday.

Next month Venezuelan clocks will be set at Greenwich Mean Time minus 4-1/2 hours, compared to the previous GMT minus four hours, Science and Technology Minister Hector Navarro told reporters at a news conference.

That would be 'assassination', George. An 'assignation' is what you had with Quite nicely. Interesting design that always reminds me of a mailbox.

The ones I had went to Japan with one exception, and that one went to Sindre Torp, 'The Drake Collector' in Norway.

There is currently a 1A up on eBay:

Chavez has succeeded in performing another feat of magic. Yes, by setting the hands on the clock back he has actually increased the amount of light available during the day. What's next - set them back 12 hours for a full 24 hours of daylight?

I get updates in all other subscribed groups. I can post on this one.
When I try to get help at Earthlink they make me do terrible things, but none of it solves my problem. I have 2 choices for broadband,
Time-Warner or Earthlink (via Time-Warner).

David,

Until you have resolved your problems with EarthLink;
you can simply log-on to Google Groups and Read was is current and Post at will. Hopefully the RRS updates will be back and up to speed with EarthLink in a few days. When EarthLink finally finds out what their problem is and how to fix it. Call EarthLink everyday an let them know that they have a problem.

until then have a nice day ~ RHF

That will either put the good people of Venezuela :
a Half-Step (Hour) Ahead of the rest of South America
-or- a Half-Step (Hour) Behind of the rest of South America

Maybe Venesuela like Libya under Muammar al-Gaddafi will adopt a new Calendar too.
http://news.bbc.co.uk/2/hi/middle_east/country_profiles/819291.stm

"Libya has its own Calendar based on Muhammad's Death."
"BM" Before Muhammad -and- "AM" After Muhammad Prophet Muhammad - Praise and Peace be upon Him
http://english.islamway.com/bindex.php?section=article&id=88

But what would El Presidente Hugo Chavez http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Hugo_Ch%C3%A1vez use for the Point of Reference for 'his' Calendar ?
Karl Marx ? - Lenin ? - Mao ? - Himself ?

Be aware that transmitting (license required) involves additional equipment, i.e., a 25Amp+ regulated power supply, antenna suitable for transmitting, microphone, VSWR meter, etc

Dave,

Why pay for something you may not use or can not use ?

Most Amateur Radio Transceivers covering 160 to 6 Meters will cost you at least $500~$1500

You may find a very good deal on a Transceiver -but- a Shortwave Radio receiver will usually give you more Radio Listener features {Bells and Whistles} then a Tranceiver.

Beyond a Shortwave Radio invest in a good Shortwave Listening Antenna so that you can really hear what is Out There Beyond The Beyond . . .

I didn't think you could carry all those separate IBOC services on the AM band?

I thought IBOC for AM consisted basically of the station's digital signal plus RDS, since there isn't room for anything else (unless you turn off the analog signal).

IBOC FM, I know for certain, can support up to three or four "streams". Maybe even more if you do away with analog subcarriers (like 92 and 67 khz for voice) and the analog section of the signal.

500 foot rolls of # 12 or 14 copper wire from Lowe's Home Improvement used to run about $25 -- now they're up to about $40, still a good buy and that'll make a lot of wire antennas.

1879. Looking for antenna recommendation

I used to be a big fan of swling, back when I lived on a farm and had lots of room and not much local radio noise. I'd throw up a long-wire antenna and do pretty well with it.

Nowadays I live on a small lot in a city, and have several computers spewing out noise. I can hear almost nothing with a wire antenna, and I was thinking that if I could find a dipole that came ready-made, with a coax lead-in, I might drop it from the third-floor window and run the dipole along the foundation of the house.

I know that the low elevation of the antenna isn't a help, but it would be away from the computers on the second floor, and away from most of the house wiring, so I figure it is a good compromise.

The thing is, I have gotten to the point where I do not want to do any work, and am looking for a ready-made antenna. I had one years ago, which would be ideal. The wire was attached to the coax and sealed, so there was nothing to get loose. If something like that is still around, it would be perfect.

Thanks for any recommendations.

There are some ready made whips that will get you where you want to go. Noise is a problem, but placement can usually get around that. RF Systems makes a noise resistant antenna, the MTA, that is a single white pole about 2m in length, that is a good alternative to random wires and dipoles. Again, placement is a help, but this antenna is natively resistant to man-made noise. It will benefit from a preamplifier, but most receivers have enough gain, with their built-in gain stages and preamps, to make the natively lower gain of the antenna largely irrelevant.

There are also ready made active loops, with small footprints, lots of gain and equal native resistance to man-made noise.

Pick the one that works for you, and you're back in the game.

Some campers were sleeping beneath a tree when lightning struck that tree. Those who were sleeping tangent to that tree were unharmed. Two who were sleeping pointed at that tree required emergency medical transport being struck directly. Struck directly? Lightnng struck the tree - not campers?

Lightning that struck a tree only harmed two. Follow the current. First, the path is from cloud to earthborne charges maybe miles from those campers. The path was down to tree into earth, up campers head, down and back to earth via feet, and then on to charges. So yes, only the two campers who completed the direct electrical circuit suffered a direct lightning strike.

That is more likely the reason for router failure. EMF from lightning is so small as to be made irrelevant by protection inside all electronics.

A direct lightning strike was to the building lightning rod. That means the entire lightning strike traveled to earth via a wire outside the wall. On the other side of that wall and only four feet away was a running computer. Computer did not even crash or reboot. Destructive EMF fields exist where half facts are posted. Most damage from nearby lightning is, in reality, a direct strike to appliances. What was the current path to and through earth? Same question describes why only two campers suffered from a direct lightning strike. And suffered massively.

A long wire antenna sees maybe a few thousand volts due to a nearby strike. Then we reduce that thousands of volts to near zero by connecting that antenna to earth via an NE-2 neon glow lamp. Notice how near zero volts is created by conducting only milliamps to earth. Many will hype the thousands of volts and forget why we make that induced surge irrelevant with only milliamps through a neon glow lamp. As noted above, many will preach the dangers of EMF from nearby lightning by only discussing the voltage; by ignoring current and by ignoring how little makes the EMF transient irrelevant.

Speak of the devil. Something happened to my H-800. It powers up but seems to have lost all sensitivity. A nearby lightning strike probably blew the FET in the e-probe. That's my guess, anyway.

The U.S. space program is less than 1% of the federal budget. Go play with yourself. You want to save money? STOP WELFARE, STOP SENDING BILLIONS to OTHER countries.

Simple.

There is a "support" newsgroup that you may not already be aware of.
Perhaps checking in there and reading through some of the threads might help? (I'd only check back until the beginning of August or so.)

The group is earthlink.support.usenet

Ahh poor baby lose part of your welfare check (AKA social security) playing investor? Gosh with that high powered book keeping degree you got from junior college that is hard to believe! But it all their fault isn't it. You are a "victim" aren't you. Aww poor baby...

No wonder you are having such a time of it with your bowel control.
Maybe you should invest in Sam's Club where you buy your adult diapers by the gross. How many do you go through a day?

It must be a real treat eating dinner with you while you "hershey squirt" into your diapers. Has your wife killed herself yet?

Think I'll check out Huntington Investments and open an account.

Some of us have information that might have been of interest to the Judge who heard Fetter's case. I wish I had contacted the Judge's office, but I did not find out the Judge's name in time.

According to the Volusia County Jail booking list:
WS680882 (booking #)
M/W (male white)
011665 (date of birth)
CRC0636151CFAES (Volusia Co Circuit Court Criminal Case #)
FETTER,GEORGE W
HHPD/JABH/PROW
WK: 1 (1st week in custody)
*ALIAS: BROWN,DAVID
JDG: PARSONS,WILLIAM A (judge handling the case)
0000000.00 (no bond)
80 JENNIFER CIR
PONCE INLET FL 32127

So when George pulls some more frauds, we might want to contact the judge in addition to contacting the Probation Officer, as you rightfully suggest. We might want to drop a line to Judge William A Parsons at the Volusia County Circuit Court. Address should be easily attained.

Hi, I have for sale 2 shortwave radios. One is a Radio Shack DX-392. This is the model with the built-in cassette deck and BFO for ham reception. In excellent condition with box and manual as new. Asking $65 obo on that one. The other one is a Icom IC-R70 receiver. Very sensitive tabletop receiver with numerous tuning features such as passband tuning and notch filter. In excellent working condition but is missing the tuning knob. I can still be used without it. I called Icom parts and they have it for like $25. Asking $150 obo for that one.

Please email me with any questions or offers.

thanks,

Chris Tarrant - 10/March/1999

Certainty level: 25%

This one might be aimed at me, or it might be tinged with a whiff of intent, although I only give one chance in four for Tarrant's thoughts being aimed at me when he said this. During his "Who wants to be a Millionaire" TV show in March 1999, he said;

if you're watching the show jumping up and down screaming at the telly, remember you could be here. You can either seek professional help or call us...

The background is as follows. In early March I'd sent a quantity of emails to Capital FM, the London radio station where Mr Tarrant has his breakfast show. They were addressed to the email account which Mr Tarrant used to read emails posted on Capital's website. Capital objected to the quantity of emails - in fact, they contacted the Metropolitan Police's Computer Crime unit, who, in turn, "felt my collar" by giving me a verbal warning over the phone to cease this behaviour.

The emails contained the words which I had heard Mr Tarrant speak in early 1994, namely;

"You know this bloke? He says we're trying to kill him.
We should be done for attempted manslaughter".

At the time of writing (May 1999), the Police have not told me what aspect of the emails was "illegal", nor despite my repeated urging have they questioned Mr Tarrant about his remarks from 1994.

Regarding the clip from Tarrant's show above. The Police spoke to me on the afternoon of Wednesday 10 March 1999. Tarrant's live show went out that same evening. The Police have told me that after speaking to me they told Capital FM that they'd spoken to me regarding the emails. So Tarrant would have known by the time of the show who'd sent the emails and why.... and it's quite possible that his remarks about "seeking professional help"
were aimed at me personally following my attempts to persuade him to own up to his 1994 remarks.

Nicholas Witchell - 10/April/1999

Certainty level: 100%

This clip is of Nicholas Witchell reading the BBC2 evening news at 7pm on Saturday 10 April 1999. You have to understand that the psychopaths of the Security Service consider their abuse of me to be "so funny"; and central to their persecution of me is their inducement of their "bought journalists" like the BBC's Nicholas Witchell to laugh at me on television.

So in this clip we see Witchell smirking and grinning while he reads the news. Only part of the news broadcast is shown in the clip; preceding it, Witchell's upper lip quivers in mirth for several minutes, until his entire mouth twists into the uncontrollable smile shown in this clip, through the excuse of a weak non-joke about sports fixtures.

1896. MI5 Persecution: England expects every man to do his duty (2723)

"England expects every man to do his duty"

Certainty level: 90%

This video clip portrays a fairly-certain case of unpleasant MI5 harassment; because of context, surrounding events, not just this one happening. It's the first time an MI5 agent has been caught on video, and, presumably to their chagrin, their paid agent is either engaging in an onanistic practice, or, more probably, pretending to do so, in order to carry out an act of harassment.

The background is as follows. In late June 2000 I had posted the following message to Usenet, about MI5's making obscene noises at me on several recent occasions;

>From: bu765@torfree.net (Mike Corley)
>Subject: relax, don't do it (mi5 again)
>Date: 22 Jun 2000 00:00:00 GMT
>
>you will recall that a couple of weeks ago I was supposing what MI5 were >doing with their 'single'handed' posting antics at 2am
>
>exciting stuff
>
>so about a week ago someone rings me up at home.... 'is that Emmanuel >Goldstein?' then he phones back the following day and goes 'huaaaagh' on >the phone before dropping the handset in excitement >and a day or two later, just coming out of our house to put something in >the rubbish bin, a pair of blokes over the other side of the road, again >start making orgasmic noises
>
>
>I'm not paranoid enough to record minidisc when I pop out for a few >seconds..... but perhaps I should be

The video clip, which was captured on 1/September/2000, is the culmination of that thread of harassment. You have to understand that MI5's abuse is in threads; they choose a topic, and then continue with it for months and years. Sometimes they drop a topic, usually to be replaced by a worse one, and you never hear of it again.

If the person in the video clip were not an MI5 agent, then he would deserve privacy, despite carrying out a real or feigned act in a public place. But I am almost 100% sure, because of context, that this man was one of their operatives, which removes any consideration of privacy from his act. He is facing away and cannot be clearly identified from this clip. I've never seen this man before or since, but that is true of most other such incidents.

C4 SnowMail - January/2001

Certainty level: 50%

In January 2001 I signed up for Channel 4 TV News's email service SnowMail, under an anonymous email address.
Quite soon Jon Snow and others started getting at me in the SnowMail bulletins, so I promptly unsubscribed.
Here are three distributed messages which may be intended to be against me; I have given these items a joint probability of 50% only, since it is quite difficult to be sure these are against me, although I think they may well be.

First item is from 5 January 2001. "Back passage contacts" might genuinely be about Labour were communicating in a shielded way with ITN; but it may be about Snow's covert communications with me on his programme and in this bulletin; and it's a slightly strange thing for him to say, it suggests the human body's back passage.
"I wish they'd come and talk on our website".... Snow knows I'm subscribed to his mailing list, and he may be encouraging me to talk to him by email; again, if that comment were genuinely about Labour, then it would be a strange thing to say, since the politicians talk to Snow by phone and on his programme, so they wouldn't talk to him by email; my suspicion at the time is that he was trying to persuade me to talk to him by email, so he could decently lie that my thoughts of reference were incorrect.

Good afternoon dear viewer,

Well the 'snowmail' drew a little ire from Labour HQ yesterday. A sensitive call at 6.35pm from my friendly mentor there sought to correct the impression I gave in yesterday's missive that in some way Labour was bounced into naming these latest millionaire donors. Well I'm afraid they were...rest assured Paul Hamlyn would not have been named without the diligent sleuthing of my colleagues, and had HE not been named neither would these latest two.

The only serious inaccuracy I must plead to was the promise that we would put these matters to a 'senior Labour person'...alas none was forthcoming...I shall make no such rash promise again. My same mentor was on the phone again during last night's Channel 4 News urging us to 'get some reality into the programme'. I fear we may have touched a sensitive nerve...and the election campaign has not even started, or has it? I shall try to keep you posted with these 'back passage contacts' as the campaign unfolds..from all sides. I do wish they'd come and talk things over with all of us on the web site...here's an open invitation...

So to today:

Harold Shipman murdered as many as 250 people it now turns out. But he is never to be tried and relatives who seek closure to their uncertainties will never reap satisfaction..we have the DPP, the Chief Medical Officer and a solicitor for aggrieved and bereaved families on the programme..the world's second-worst mass murderer..can he be allowed to escape further action?

Sending private/sexy emails in company time gets workers the sack..Big Brother spies on office premises..is electronic life in the work place getting out of hand? We explore what we can...and if you are not sure what you can and can't send, our site spells out the legal dos and don'ts and gives you the chance to put your views to us.

The CIA publishes its risk assessment for the world in the coming years..beyond the CIA itself, what's the biggest threat to life and liberty? Find out on Channel 4 News..and a major encounter with a man expected to take a top job in the Bush administration...

And a sumptuous piece from Nicholas Glass in Valencia..a city transformed by a brilliant young architect for half the price of what the Dome cost us.

Lots moving, see you at 7.00,best as ever,

Jon Snow

The next contact was on 11 January, with the unsubtle words "the lunatics have taken over the newsroom" from Krishnan GM. The phrase needs no explanation as to why it might be a dig at me.

January 11, 2001

Good Afternoon. Jon's away so the lunatics have taken over the newsroom. I am joined by Samira for tonight's show.

The Depleted Uranium confusion deepens. What did Ministers and senior officers know about the risks to soldiers?
What did they tell others? And why the lack of candour over the recent documents that have surfaced? Having dismissed the army report leaked yesterday warning of the dangers of exposure to DU as written by a trainee and littered with mistakes, the Ministry of Defence now accepts it was written by an experienced officer.
But they won't say who. More awkwardly it emerges that senior officers decided a month after it was written that the report should be circulated to all personnel likely to come into contact with DU. But was it? Nobody seems to know. Our Science Correspondent Andrew Veitch has also visited the lab in Oxford that could begin testing veterans for Depleted Uranium within six months, but they have had no contact from the government as yet. From the Tories, Mr Duncan Smith is likely to join us. And we have Defence Secretary Hoon coming into the studio to answer the obvious (and not so obvious) questions.

No interest rate cut today from the Bank of England, but could it be next month? As real fears are raised about the likelihood of recession in the US how could it affect us over here? There's been a recent consensus that Britain could weather the storm instead of falling into the usual pattern of shadowing American trends. But how realistic is that? And what about all that inward investment we rely on from the States? Liam Halligan has been looking at just what impact economic downturn across the water would have on us.

The former Bosnian Serb President Biljana Plavsic pleaded not guilty to charges of warcrimes including genocide today. She was number two to Karazdic and a reputed hardliner during the "ethnic cleansing" of Bosnia.
But has a deal been done on her sentence if found guilty? Just why did she get on a plane and give herself up to the Hague War Crimes Tribunal? Nobody seems to have any explanation. Her lawyers are asking for special accommodation and even the possibility of bail. Gaby Rado is there and joining us live is the first Prosecutor in the Hague Judge Goldstone to discuss whether plea bargains and deals are the only way to get the real villains.

Also the astonishing news that scientists in America have bred the first genetically engineered monkey. What will they be used for and what's the next step? Does anybody really believe they won't do it to humans before too long? Julian Rush will have details.

All that and loads more at seven. See you then, I hope. Krishnan.

The third and final item is from 24 January, shortly after which I unsubscribed from SnowMail. Again, it is difficult to be sure if this item refers to me; it may do, it may not do, 50% captures the possibility. Snow refers to "third leg of [Blair's] political footstool". In English culture "third leg" indicates one's male member;
Snow's phrase may be a sexual reference, of which there were others around that time.

Good evening dear Channel 4 News viewer,

There are times in this business when you suffer severe attacks of deja vu...haven't I already said "Mandelson Resigns!"...I'm afraid I have, and tonight I shall say it again. He's gone, the fat lady has not only sung but died completely and utterly on his career...that is the end of the former Northern Ireland Secretary's political career.

It's a body blow against Blair for whom Mandelson was a mentor, manipulator, calculator, friend, brother and the third leg of his political footstool.
It's a body blow for a Prime Minister who has had to have him resign not once but twice. It calls into question Tony Blair's judgement. Mandy, probably one of the most brilliant spirits in politics, flew too close to the sun...suffering finally at the hand of his own diabolical flaw.
Amazingly it's a flaw Blair understood more keenly than anyone...

And then there are the Hindujas who have compromised every political party with ridiculous photographed party poses..who are they and how do they work?
Masses moving on all fronts on this story tonight. We have the resignation speech in full on our site www.channel4.com/news;
if you want to see how Mandelson bowed out.

There are other developments:

The cancer tragedy at Nottingham Queens medical centre..the wrong drug going into the spinal column of an eighteen-year-old Leukemia victim who's now in intensive care, dangerously ill...it's happened before..why has it happened again?

And a moving interview with Sharon Sage who's mother Lorna Sage wrote a spell binding memoir highly rated in last night's Whitbread Prize. An exceptional piece....

A highly political night....see you at seven on four...best, as ever, Jon

After this email I unsubscribed from SnowMail. I could not be sure that these items were or were not about me, but it's an unpleasant feeling that Mr Snow might be getting at me in writing, as he certainly was when he watched me while presenting the news; so I cut my losses, so to speak, and bailed out.

BBC-TV "See You, See Me" - 7/Dec/2001

Certainty level: 80%

On Friday 7 December 2001, BBC Schools aired a TV programme from their "See You, See Me" series.
The series was based in Scotland, with Grant Stott and Wilma Kennedy trying to find some stolen jewels.
Its web home is www.bbc.co.uk/scotland/education/seeyouseeme/

The programme appeared to make some "subtext" references to my situation. Kennedy refers to "it's not fair", which is a key phrase; its existence started with OCTS MD Hugh S.-W. who humorously referred to my treatment with the same phrase.
The subtle statement is that it is fair, because we're doing it, and we're always right, even when we're wrong.

The phrase "useless idiot" from the police chief is a clear insult directed at me, and needs no explanation.

But it is the third item in this clip which is most telling. Stott says the words, "humiliating in front of the whole public, it would crucify us" if the investigation were called off. That's the phrase that assures this clip of an 80% probability rating. MI5 are trying to humiliate me "in front of the whole public", and their strategy is a mixture of ambiguous covert, such as this very programme, and clear overt.

Channel Four TV News - 10/April/2002

Certainty level: 80%

I was watching Jon Snow on Channel Four TV News on Wednesday 10 April, and he again reacted on seeing me watching his programme. At 7.25pm he was reading an item on atrocities during the Balkan war;

JS: "It was Europe's worst massacre since the Second World War, and Dutch army officers [cough] and the United Nations should share the blame. So says the first authoritative report into the murder of thousands of Muslim men in Srebrenice at the height of the Bosnian war in 1995. The 7,500 page document took Dutch Government researchers six years to prepare, and it condemns military and political leaders for sending peacekeepers on a mission impossible. Our Foreign Affairs correspondent Gaby Rado, who went to Srebrenice very soon after the massacre, is with us now. Gaby, how damning is this report?"

GR: "Well it is very severe. It accuses the Dutch Government of sending badly armed and badly briefed Dutch soldiers into a very dangerous space out of a sense of national arrogance basically. It accuses the United Nations basically of..."

There are two incidents in this one recording. The first (80% certainty) is when Jon Snow develops a frog in his throat in the first sentence, shortly after reading the text "Europe's worst massacre". There is both verbal expression and facial expression at that point; he is laughing at me, which is at odds with the serious material he is reading. His eyebrows twitch upwards, and he is smirking at the phrase "Europe's worst massacre", and its application to the Security Service's actions against me. Another aspect is that when Snow said "Europe's worst massacre", I facially reacted; in return, Snow would have seen my change of expression, and followed it with his own reaction. He almost says "United States" instead of "United Nations"; he isn't looking at his autocue, his mind is off what he is reading, instead he is looking at me in the little monitor where he sees me through the television.

The first incident I'm fairly sure about, but the second I only give a 20% certainty to; it's when Gaby Rado talks of a "sense of national arrogance", supposedly about the Dutch, but perhaps the English actions against me for over a decade. If Rado's statement were about me, then it would be condemnatory of MI5 as being "arrogant"; but I cannot be reasonably certain it's about me, or much less so that Snow's reaction in the first instance, anyway.

BBC1 TV News - 18/Dec/2002

Certainty level: 30%

This item occurred on Wednesday 18/December/2002, on BBC1 TV News shortly after 6pm. It is one of the "coincidence" category of happenings, where people by supposed coincidence repeat exactly the words I have said or thought very recently.
In this case, the BBC's New York correspondent Stephen Evans, live from NYC, says the words "airy fairy language", during a piece on Britain's entry in the competition for a successor to the WTC after 9/11.

I had been thinking the words "airy fairy" a day or two previously and may have spoken them in my sleep. I did not speak them awake.
The TV practice in 1990-92 had been to repeat on TV/radio (or at work) words which I had either spoken while awake, or words I had thought but not said consciously - since I know that I sometimes say things in my sleep, but cannot later recall saying them, obviously since I was unconscious at the time. The TV news reader or reporter then finds a context in which to drop a particular phrase;
this practice has a famous exemplar in the "Phil the Greek" item relating to the Duke of Edinburgh - who had been called Phil the Greek in Private Eye, then a TV reporter managed to structure his report to include the words "fill the Greek community with alarm".
It might appear funny, but when such "intentional coincidence" happens a lot, as in 1990-92, and when it supports other methods of obscenity, then the amusement value wanes.

The choice of words appears to form a homosexual reference - the way it works is that the Security Service are blokes fantasising continually about another bloke, so to avert the obvious observation of their being gay see here for another instance of unwholesome MI5 fantasising in public), they try to assign the attribute to the victim - they do this sort of thing all the time, with all sorts of attributes. However, in this particular case I give it only a one in three probability, since this incident seems to have been a one-off at that particular time.

Life is so hard

Certainty level: 100%

This relates to harassment at my workplace in Canada. Yes, "they" had their claws into my employers in North America, it doesn't just happen in England, it happens here as well.

During the second half of 1996, at work, I was sitting near a co-worker whom we shall call Mark (we can, because that's his name). This guy occasionally came out with words and phrases that made me think that "they" had got to him and were supplying him with information about my home life (not social life please note, because of course I don't actually have a social life here).

During November 1996 I tried to catch him in the act of saying something "meaningful", a difficult exercise because as soon as he saw a tape recorder, he shut up completely, except for times when he knew he would be out of range of the walkman. (Note that the quality of this recording is not very good; I was just using a four-year-old tape walkman with a cheap microphone, quite low-tech).

During the evening of 12 November 1996, at home in my apartment (flat to you UK-ers), I said "life is so hard, and then you die". A nihilistic, negative thing to say, but quite distinctive. The following day, 13 November, Mark said loudly, "life is so hard eh, and then you die" followed by loud laughter.

In my book the precise repetition of the words makes this incident a 100% certainty. You, the reader, may differ, but then living in a free country allows each of us to have our own opinions, doesn't it?

1909. Ready-Made Dipole Antenna Options and a few others too . . .

Nomen Nescio,
Ready-Made Dipole Antenna Options and a few others too . . .
http://groups.yahoo.com/group/Shortwave-SWL-Antenna/message/14436
Placing a Dipole Antenna next to or on the ground has problems.
Actually placing any Antenna Wire next to or on the ground has problems -if- the Wire is Bare Copper {Metal} and Uninsulated.
1 - These four Shortwave Listener (SWL) Antennas are Dipoles :
-BUT- They have Bare Copper Wire Antenna Elements.
* Alpha Delta DX-ULTRA Shortwave Listener (SWL) Antenna
http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/sw_ant/3377.html
-obtw- it is 80 Feet long
.
* Eavesdropper-C Trapped Dipole SWL Antenna
http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/sw_ant/0680.html
-obtw- it is 43 Feet long
.
* B&W ASW-60 Multi-Band Trap SWL Antenna
http://www.bwantennas.com/ama/specials.ama.htm#asw60
-obtw- it is 35 Feet long
.
* Grove "Skywire" Dipole SWL Antenna
http://www.grove-ent.com/ANT2.html
-obtw- it is 66 Feet long
.
2 - Here are three smaller Shortwave Listener (SWL) Antennas that use Insulated Wire Antenna Elements :
* RF Systems EMF Electro-Magnetic Field Passive Wire Antenna
http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/sw_ant/0743.html
-obtw- it is 16 Feet long and 16 Feet of Coax feed-in-line
.
* RF Systems Mini-Windom
http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/sw_ant/3575.html
-obtw- it is 16 Feet long and 16 Feet of Coax feed-in-line
* Par Electronics EF-SWL End-Fed Shortwave Antenna
http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/sw_ant/2205.html
-obtw- it is 45 Feet long
Set-Up the EF-SWL as an Off-Center "T" Wire Antenna with the Short-Arm 17 Feet and the Long-Arm 28 Feet.

http://www.grove-ent.com/ANT8.html
3 - Here are three Out-Side Active Antennas to put on top of a 21 Foot Long piece of Top-Rail and mount it Vertically along side the House. Place a Ground Rod at the Base of the Top-Rail and Ground the Top-Rail.
* MFJ-1024 Outdoor Active Antenna
http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/sw_ant/1132.html
.
* McKay Dymek DA-100E Active Shortwave Antenna
http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/sw_ant/0328.html
.
* LF Engineering H-800 Skymatch Active Antenna
http://www.grove-ent.com/ANT15.html
5 - Now there is a Dipole Antenna that comes with Coax
Cable and uses Insulated Wire for the Antenna Elements.
It is the Workman HF / 40 Meter Antenna [WORKBS1HAM]
http://www.k1cra.com/catalog/product.aspx?productID=1334
2 x 33' (66') 12 gauge Stranded Copper Wire w/Black Plastic Jacket
12' of RG-58AU Coax with PL-259 Connectors
1 Center Insulator / Strain Relief with SO-239 Connector Trim one Arm to 19.7 Feet and the other Arm to 31.8 Feet http://www.k1cra.com/images/products/original/626.jpg
- - - BUT IT IS OUT OF STOCK - - -
Also on eBay there is the Workman BS-1 HAM Dipole
http://cgi.ebay.com/_W0QQitemZ160150713260
Antenna is only 16.5 Feet per side = 33 Feet Tip-to-Tip Comes with 12 Feet of RG58/U with PL-259 Plugs
- - - See three Photo-Images for more info.
TIP - If you have a Wooden Fence in you Yard mount the Wire Antenna Element on it about 4-5 Feet above the Ground. Keeps the Wire Antenna Elements Off-the-Ground and puts the Wire Antenna Elements away from the House and the man-made-noise within it.
BUILD YOUR OWN DIPOLE ANTENNA :
Build a One-Piece Dipole Antenna for Shortwave
Listening (SWL) from common Speaker Wire.
- Buy 50 Feet of Stranded Speaker Wire.
- Fold it in Half to find the Center-Point of the Wire.
Mark the Center-Point by Wrapping several Wraps of Black Electrical Tape around the Wires; and put a Black Plastic Cable Tie around the Tape to hold the Tape in-place.

- Take one end and Strip the Ends and Tin the Wires
if your Radio has a pair of Terminals for the External Shortwave Antenna. Or if your Radio only has a SO-239 Jack for the External Shortwave Antenna attach a PL-259 Plug to this Wires. This is now the {Near} Radio-End of the Antenna.
- At the other {Far} Antenna-End of the Antenna Split the two Speaker Wires apart all the way to the Black Tape at the Center.
- Tie an Overhand Loop Knot in each of the two Antenna-Ends for Rigging.
http://members.aol.com/goodheavens/overhand.html
- Coil-up each of the Antenna-Ends and secure the Coils.
- Secure the Radio-End to a Fixed Object.
- At the Black Tape at the Center begin Twisting the Pair of Speaker Wires from the Center to the Radio-End until you have from 4-6 Turns in the Wire Pair per Foot from the Center to the Radio-End.
-Note- You have now created a Twisted-Pair feed-in-line for your Antenna.
-TBL- You now have a 50 Foot Tip-to-Tip Dipole Antenna with a 25 Foot feed-in-line.
- Run it from the Radio out the Window and Rig it Outside as you like.
- Rig with Mason Nylon Line
-Windom-Ize-It- Trim 10 Feet off one of the Dipole's Arms so that you have a Short-Arm of 15 Feet and a Long-Arm of 25 Feet for a Tip-to-Tip length of 40 Feet. -OR- Simply Fold over one of the Arms on itself so that it is Halfed to 12.5 Feet.
-Variation- Fold the 50 Foot of Speaker Wire in Thirds and Wrap the Black Electrical Tape at one of the 1/3 Points. repeat the about remaining steps. This results in a Dipole Antenna that is 33 Foot Tip-to-Tip with a 33 Foot feed-in-line.
* * * This is a very low cost Dipole Antenna for Campling etc.
hope this helps - iane ~ RHF {pomkia}

Nowadays I live on a small lot in a city, and have several computers spewing out noise. I can hear almost nothing with a wire antenna, and I was thinking that if I could find a dipole that came ready-made, with a coax lead-in,

I might drop it from the third-floor window and run the dipole along the foundation of the house.

I know that the low elevation of the antenna isn't a help, but it would be away from the computers on the second floor, and away from most of the house wiring, so I figure it is a good compromise.

The thing is, I have gotten to the point where I do not want to do any work, and am looking for a ready-made antenna. I had one years ago, which would be ideal.
The wire was attached to the coax and sealed, so there was nothing to get loose. If something like that is still around, it would be perfect.

Thanks for any recommendations.

1913. MI5 Persecution: GLR: David Hepworth (21/Feb/1997) (1500)

GLR-David Hepworth (21/Feb/1997)

Certainty level: 80%

I was listening to BBC Greater London Radio (GLR) by stealth, ie. on my walkman with headphones, with the sound turned right down, to prevent anyone from hearing what I was listening to. Yet somehow "they" are still able to tell what station I am listening to on the walkman. After half an hour or so listening to GLR, DJ David Hepworth came out with this;

"I assume Brian, do we have an embarrassment of prizes in there, we do, don't we, absolute obscene amounts of prizes, there will no doubt be a riot at the back door, and that's A-level coming up after this"

The key phrases in what he said are, "EMBARRASSMENT of prizes", and what he himself emphasised verbally, "ABSOLUTE OBSCENE amount of prizes". It is my belief (based on content and tone of voice) that when he spoke these phrases he knew I was listening, and that the phrases refer directly to my situation. The "EMBARRASSMENT" is the embarrassment he and other media people would feel at having their wrongdoing exposed; the "ABSOLUTE OBSCENE" (which he verbally emphasised) described the disgusting sexual abuse which the harassers have been throwing at me.

Of course, I can't prove that this is what he meant, although this has happened enough times that it's hard not to recognise it when you see it. I sent David Hepworth a copy of this explanation, with the results listed in a subsequent item (David Hepworth 9/May/1997).

GLR-David Hepworth (9/May/1997)

Certainty level: 100%

This time I deliberately listened to Hepworth with the sound turned up on the radio, to try to get a reaction. Sure enough, he and his cronies reacted;

David: "we have executive drivetime, and we have Brian in charge of the prize cupboard. Brian it's not a bad prize cupboard this week is it?"

Brian: "no David in fact it's an absolute (EMPHASIS) embarrassment (END-EMPHASIS) of prizes this evening" (laughter)

David: "what have we got?"

Brian: "well in my left hand alone we've got that .... Gary Clale, I don't know if you remember him obviously still alive and kicking.... and that's just in my left hand"

David: "So it's certainly worth competing. Rock and roll spelling test is your first opportunity to take advantage of this embarrassment of prizes"

What I "read into" this item should again be quite obvious. Remember, I sent off a letter of complaint to Hepworth after his spying activity during the previous show. Here the emphasis on "absolute embarrassment" of prizes shows he knows this is a "key" phrase.

It might be interesting to try to talk to DJs like Hepworth and ask them what they get out of abusing their listeners. But if you challenge them directly, they show their true colour (yellow) by either not answering the challenge, or by denying that harassment has taken place.

Capital Radio (11/April/1997)

Certainty level: 10%

A nice easy one here. The DJ is heard to say (around 8.30pm);

"Jacko in town, what a gig it's going to be, that guy is amazing, and psychotic, but amazing on stage, 0171-420-0958, on stage he's a madman but he's wonderful"

I was listening to Capital loud and clear, trying to get a reaction. The above may have been a reaction. I'm not sure if it was, and I'm not sure that it wasn't.

Neil Fox's Juke Box on Capital Radio (week ending 15/March/1998)

Certainty level: 70%

Here is an excerpt from Neil Fox's show on Capital Radio 95.8FM, sometime during the week ending Sunday 15/March/1998 (probably during the weekend, but I don't remember).

First I will give the text of the conversation between Neil Fox and telephone caller Martin, then I will state my interpretation.

(conversation) (F=Dr Fox, M=Martin the caller)

F: coming up on the jukebox, the hotline's 0171-4848-958, just a quick shout here and so who's this going to be then Mr Producer?
(staff, shouting) MARTIN!
F: Couldn't quite hear you, it's going to be?
(staff, normal voice) Martin.
F: Thank you. Martin, hello.
M: Hello, Foxy.
F: How are you Martin.
M: Er, knackered.
F: Why?
M: Didn't get much sleep last night. Party down the road.
F: What time did you go to bed?
M: Four o'clock this morning.
F: Well that sounds quite a reasonable Saturday night if you ask me.
M: I was up at eight.
F: You were up at eight this morning?
M: Yeah.
F: That's sick. Why? What on earth made you get out of bed at eight this morning?
M: My father.
F: Well that's no good. Why is he being sicko, is he being a sadist?
M: No, he out there, sort of clearing room.
F: Listen, is your dad there?
M: No, he's downstairs.
F: Oh mate, can you get him?
M: No.
F: Does he not let you on the phone? The only reason is that I wouldn't mind having a chat with someone who makes anyone get up at eight o'clock on a Sunday morning. I'm sorry, that's ill isn't it, that's out of order.
M: It's sick.
F: I'm just going to ask around here. What do you think then, eight o'clock Sunday morning? That's out of order isn't it, for any father?

(staff) Yeah, definitely.
F: Is he like victimising you or something, is there any reason why he wanted you up at eight o'clock? To clean your room?
M: Well as I say I got up at eight this morning to clean my room and it looks worse that it did yesterday.
F: Well I should have just left it and stayed in there until eleven o'clock if I was you.
M: Well I was up, I didn't get out of bed.
F: What, you didn't get out of bed at eight o'clock? No, he woke you up at eight o'clock. Did you do any cleaning at all?
M: I haven't touched my bedroom.
F: Top man. Boy you're going to get your arse kicked later aren't you. Now a song for you, what can we play?
M: Guns and Roses, "Sweet Child of Mine".
F: And we're going to dedicate this to your father?
M: No we're not, we'll dedicate this to my good mate Jamie, who's sitting on the bed now.
F: Right, hello Jamie. And anyone else? Any top totty in your life at the moment?
M: Unfortunately no.
F: The totty factor is quite low at the moment is it?
M: It's dead.
F: It's dead? What, nothing?
M: Nothing.
F: What, zero? Well, that's pathetic. No wonder you're down. You stay out til four o'clock and nothing. We'd better have words when we're off the radio I think. We need to give you a team talk. You have a good night tonight.
M: And you.
F: Take care.
(song starts)
F: Actually something was going through my mind. I think I'll leave it.

I'm not really sure whether this is in any way about me. It probably isn't. Probably it's just my nasty suspicious mind finding links where none exist. However, here is an explanation of why it might, possibly, be about me.

Throughout this interview, I was throwing abuse at the radio, and to my mind, Neil Fox was hearing the abuse, and responding interactively. This explains why he sounds so stressed when talking to telephone caller Martin, and the general violence of his words including "Boy you're going to get your arse kicked later aren't you".

The piece starts of with the producer shouting the name of the caller, which might be related to my loud vocalisations at the radio. The trouble starts off with Fox saying "That's sick". "Sick" might be taken as a reference to my condition. Then Fox says, "Why is he being sicko, is he being a sadist?", again sick = my illness, "sadist" = attitude of my oppressors towards me. "that's ill isn't it" = further comment on my illness. "Is he like victimising you or something" = again what my enemies are doing to me.

Fox sounds quite happy when he gets Martin to say "It's sick"; as you would expect him to, if the comment were directed at me. It is a constant feature of my enemies' harassment of me that they get intermediaries to verbalise the abuse. Immediately after saying "victimising you" Fox gives a little laugh, to show he thinks the victimisation (of me, not Martin) is funny.

Fox gets increasingly nasty as the piece progresses. "Boy you're going to get your arse kicked later aren't you" is not really what you would expect him to say if he were just talking to Martin. Fox is on the same side as Martin, so why would he be so verbally aggressive to him? On the other hand, if the piece is about me, then his strong words start to make sense.

Fox's jubilation at finding that Martin's "totty factor" is "dead" again doesn't make much sense unless you think that he might not be considering Martin's totty factor, but mine, since it's a fairly well known fact that my "totty factor" is not significantly above zero.

To round off the 135 second interchange, just as the next track is starting, Fox says, "Actually something was going through my mind. I think I'll leave it". Given that I was chucking abuse at Fox throughout, it is only natural for him have thought up a reply that he would have wished to have made, except that such a reply would (a) probably not be suitable for a family show, and (b) have given the game away completely.

So there you are. You the jury, what say you in the case of plaintiff vs. Neil Fox's Juke Box, guilty or not guilty?

1918. MI5 Persecution: Neil Fox (Nov/1998) (6392)

Foxy's Showtime on Capital FM 25/11/98 7.35pm

Certainty level: 100%

This one, I can say with absolute certainty, is about me. It was recorded on my Sony Recording Walkman on the evening of Wednesday 25 November 1998. It doesn't mention me by name, so the objective observer might have trouble understanding why I'm so sure it's about me. I'm sure, because the harassment had restarted over the period when this piece was broadcast, and what Capital transmitted would have been in context with events at the time. (Sorry if that explanation is somewhat opaque, but I don't really want to embarrass myself by giving an explanation in detail, and an intelligent reader should be able to work it out for him/her self.)

This isn't the first time Capital have "got at" me; they were doing so right at the very beginning in summer 1990, when they said, "if he listens to Capital then he can't be all bad"; and Tarrant made remarks about me in his breakfast show in spring 1994, when he said, "you know this bloke? he says we're trying to kill him. We should be done for attempted manslaughter."

Unfortunately I didn't record those previous, much more conclusive instances of harassment by Capital DJs, and Capital Radio tells me they only keep recordings for three months. But lately I've been recording everything, and here is one product of that recording.

Neil Fox was introducing some petite Swedish songstress, sounded like Amelia, when he said something about her petite-ness ;

"she's a big big girl, actually she's really about tiny, she's this big, would you say what less than....."

then one of his studio staff shouted, "six inches"

then Fox laughed and said, "less than a meter tall, definitely"

What I think the "six inches" referred to should be obvious. I think it's sexual abuse directed at me.

Also there were a lot of words like "crazy", "mad" etc on this programme, which reinforced my belief that this was on purpose directed at myself.

I think Fox may be something of an unwilling participant in this abuse, he doesn't want to be an abuser but the persecutors are using his show and his staff to get at me. This is not the first time this sort of thing has happened from his show; and my guess is that it won't be the last

Thanks for the heads up. I used to listen to them a lot when they used 8997 for air-to-ground many, many moons ago.

Best heard here was a helo on the ice at the South Pole.

While checking for IMD products from a new 40/10:4 transformer for my antenna,
I found a new, to me, station on 1640KHz. It is a continuous rebroadcast of a NOAA WX station. From the counties it lists, I suspect it is located at or near Cave Run lake or Morehead. I have tried to search the FCC TIS and BCB data base with no success, does anyone else receive this station and does anyone know where it is located.

I have trouble accepting a 10W AM signal would reach from Cave Run to Nicholasville KY.

Antenna is a Lankford "15' Relay Switched Antenna" with 16 15' radials mounted about 3' (1M) above the ground.

Yes I will be seeking re-election as President and should I be re-elected you will be witness a proactive aggressive agenda like you have never seen before. Gay marriage, hate crime legislation, gun control, are just a few of the issues we will be lobbying Congress for. And that is just for starters.

I am wanted to be ham all my life? I study reel hard & they dont want to let me pass! I take the test 5 times before I pass,this meen I spent alot a money $14.00 for test x 5 test = $93.47 I spend to get license; so when I pass I get on 2 meter reepeter for fun & decide to make my own radio show in morning from 8-8:30am,I am tell weather & play music,but a local ham come to my door & tell me to stop my show & stay off his repeeter,he try to say he own the repeeter,but I no the fcc rule & tell him no 1 can own repeeter repeeter is for all ham & I am ham!He says he will just shut off repeeter but again I know the fcc rule & tell him the rule say you can make a repeeter & once you put on repeeter you dont own it anymore it belong to ham radio & all ham can use it & if he turn it off I can report him to fcc and he will get a fine maybe even loose his license!he laugh at me and leave,I know he do this because ham only like old ham & dont like new ham because they dont no mores code!they blame new ham tech because fcc make it against the law for them to use mores code to talk to other ham!Later that week they complain on my friend I give him ht to talk to me on repeeter,they say if he dont have license he cant talk on 2 meter!again I have to tell them fcc rule(you think they wuold no the rules) It is ok because i am controll oparater he call me from ht says my call sine & wait for me to answer I answer by saying this is(call sine)+ acting as controll operater for station player hater(that his handle) mines be ruff rider but I always id by say this be (call sine) the 1 ruff rider.So as long as I say controll operater it is ok!but he still dont like it! I decide to go and join local ham club I think if I join theer club then tey wont give me trouble any more,only me & some fourin guy(he is from a cuntree called Alaska) show up to join,they let the fourin guy join theer club,but say I cant join & say I am bad ham and want me to leeve! I tell that is not fair and it is against the law.And by fcc rule a fourin persin cant be a ham,They try to lie to me & say he isnt fourin, But i am not stoopid and tell them since Alaska is a country in yourup (I beleeve between sweeden & France) he is in fact fourin!if you arent from Amerika you are fourin!but they dont care & say I have to leave & that they have report me to fcc(lol for what I no the rules & follew them)Bottum line if you are new ham they dont want you & wont talk to you. So I ask all good hams to get together & try to get rid of the meen & bad hams,so we can all enjoy fun & musik on ham radio the way it was ment to be! To all new hams (or those that just dont no the rules) you can play musik on FM only (FM term came from stereo and it means For Musik)never play musik on AM (AM means Alternit Mode and is for talk only)and never play musik on SSb(Simple Sight Band) that is also talk only! have fun & mabe us new ham can git together and make our own club and chase away the old meen hams they must reelize we are the future of ham radio & without peeple like us ham will not servive it will just wither and dye!

MT,

The Yaesu FRG-100 Shortwave Receiver lacks a Numeric Key Pad {there is a Non OEM Option}

Some do not rate it's perfromance as good as other Shortwave Receivers made during the 1990s.

Note - The newer "B" Model is said to be a little better than the older versions.

I started when Sky build the ISP in his garage in Pasadena many years ago. I have one of the 8 free email addresses on my card so it will be hard to change and I also see that most of the other ISP's come and go.

Earthlink has gotten very bad sense they outsourced to the Philippines and India, the Philippines is the worst. Vonage has lost 54% of their customers because of the Philippines and they will lost me soon.

The CEO's just don't care, I have wrote the "Investor Relations" people and they don't even reply. I make sure I keep my few dollars out of ISP's.

It hurts me to see a company like Earthlink go down the tubes.

From what I've heard, there really was no "B" model. It's just that somebody, somewhere, sometime, decided to call it the "FRG-100B", but it was never badged as such. Merely the FRG-100.

Although Universal Radio states that "[This model is also sometimes referred to as the FRG-100B reflecting improved filter performance in later production].

With what serial # does this improved performance begin? Your guess is as good as anybodys.

At around that price, or just a wee bit more, a Drake R8 can be had these days.

Alaska is a U.S.State.When I was on my way to Vietnam in January 1964, the Pan Am Blue Ball stopped at Anchorage Airport for refueling and so us Troops could eat at the Airport restaurant.There is a great big stuffed Polar Bear standing in that Airport with his arms reaching out like hes gonna gitcha! Alaska is not a furrin country.That stuffed Polar Bear is still standing there right now.

Hopefully this isn't deemed too far off topic for this newsgroup. I am looking to improve the AM-FM broadcast reception on my 1995 Chevrolet Silverado pick-up. I have done some searching here for similar posts and the ones that I have found refer to both Crutchfield and C Crane. I am familiar with both companies, but I can't see any long range automobile AM-FM antennas listed. Does anyone here have much experience with this? Can I expect to vastly improve my AM-FM range with a better antenna or are they all going to be pretty much alike?

I stand corrected. I found this at C Crane. Does anyone have any experiences with this or is there anythiug better available?

J&D,

104" CB Whip Antenna mounted on the rear Bumper of your pick-em-up-truck connected to your AM/FM Radio.

All these other standard size AM/FM Automobile Antennas with Spring Base Coils and Coils at the Top of the Whip Antenna do nothing. It is the basic Whip Antenna and the Body of your Automobile that make your Car/Truck a very good Receiver.

Can't change the Automobile but you can change the Whip Antenna. The 104" CB Whip Antenna adds Size and Capture Area to your Car/Trucks Boby and that will usually get your better AM/FM Radio Reception in Suburban and Rural Areas.

hope this helps ~ RHF

Perfectly put, Brenda. IBOC is the biggest joke that I have seen in a long time. And they have the nerve to call it "high definition radio". As big a joke as Windows Vista.

Have you ever looked at an IBOC signal with a spectrum analyzer? I don't think to. Of course, you are joking when you try to tell people about the interference that you don't get from the local IBOC stations. Receiver quality has nothing to do with the adjacent channel sidebands emanating from these pretend "hi-fi" stations.

Does your car use a whip or window antenna. If it uses a window antenna then the omni-directional whip antenna might make a difference. But don't over-pay for one - just get one from Pep Boys.

You must be using some goofy combination like Safari browser on a Mac. Just use internet explorer on a windows based machine and all will be fine.

And yes, google groups is an excellent way to read messages. Message history is easily obtained and you can delete all the histiry that usually gets strung along in responses.

I once had a Dodge Dakota with a cowl mount antenna. Reception was improved greatly by replacing that antenna with one that was 4' long with a spring at the bottom. Not much extra length, but I was surprised how much AM reception was improved.

I still have the antenna, but alas, not the Dakota, which was totalled on 8/23/03.

If you are having reception problems I would first check all connections including grounding very closely. From personal experience a bad connection can be not apparent and yet cause local radio stations to become dx targets.

Buy it now for $1,049 and help fund a retirement plan. Since the ad

The Ebay listing states: "there is a DC power plug installed on the back of the receiver, however there is no DC connection yet inside the receiver".

It's been a while since I added a DC adapter to an R-5000. However, I believe the receiver plug, internal connectors and 12v cord came as a kit. The receiver components were installed by removing a small plate on the receiver back. If the plug is there but there are no connectors to the receiver board it means 1 of 2 things. Either the connectors were snipped off, or the guts from one radio were married to the case of another.

That does not describe a pristine radio.

I guess you'd better ask Dan to clarify that, but as far as 'pristine' goes, I'd guess that this one is a close as one might get.

Wow -- I guess that's what one gets in trying to ADD relevant information....I installed the DC connector with an eye toward eventually installing or wiring some sort of DC capability. . .but time overtook me. . . so I am leaving the DC plug in place, to proceed....there has been nothing done certainly nothing of the sort implied in the Good Point Roadie - Check the Antenna Connections at the Radio; and make sure that the Antenna itself is secure to the Auto's Body.

Good Point David - Check the back of the Radio for an Antenna Trimmer and see if you can get a better 'matched' between the Radio and Antenna.

TIP - Usually with an Antenna Trimmer a Small Plastic Bladed "Tuning" Screw Driver is used to make the process easier. Less back and forth tweaking.

I have always wanted to own one of those old DeSoto cars (1940s era, I think) with the square metal head light covers thingys.Yeah, and a 1960 Imperial convertible car with those bullet tail lights on there and the drivers seat that swivels when you open the door.

I just came across this rundown of Drake-related people and activities at the Dayton 2007 Hamvention. Definitely some interesting stuff here, especially the presentation delivered by Bob Sherwood comparing older receivers to some of the newer, DSP rigs being manufactured now.

Mississippi is DeSoto Country.(not really, but sort of anyway) There is a DeSoto County wayyyyyy up North in Northeast Mississippi, if you are in Southaven, walk a few steps North and you will be in Memphis area, Elvis Presley's old stomping grounds.There is a DeSoto State Park about thirty miles East of me.My sister and her hubby get over there once each year.Some retired Firemen with their familys get over there to get away from the rat race for a few days in the Springtime.There is a DeSoto National Forest South of me.Some kooks say fed govt has one of them concentration camps in that Forest, but there are no concentration camps in Mississippi.Of course you have read about Hernando DeSoto before.I wouldn't doubt there are some old DeSoto cars floating around here too. You say "just" a bunch of guys. Well, you forgot to mention that they are just a bunch of guys with a common interest. As to age, weight and hairline, what's your point? Two of the three at least, age and hairline, are beyond an individual's control. It seems you are around 64, give or take. You (and Dorian Gray) are going to -not- get old? ;-)

Steve,

We Can All Happily Dream of a RL Drake R9 Receiver in Our Future ! :o)

I think RL Drake's Big Dilemma for any 'future' Shortwave Receivers is Reasonable Cost and High Quality and Place of Manufacture.
* Made-in-the-USA ?
* Designed in the USA -but- Made in China or India ?
Drake has always made High Quality and Excellent Performance Shortwave Receivers that were affordable and had a good volume of Sales within the limited Shortwave Radio consumer market.

Until them I have to plan on picking-up a 'used' {but tenderly cared for} RL Drake R8B in the next year. Buy-It and Send-it to RL Drake for a complete going over and Tune-Up Alignment.

Content is another issue besides the fact that IBOC HD radio is a poor engineering solution for digital radio. If it really was a better solution than the current analog scheme people would buy it.

I don't think I've even seen an antenna trimmer on a car radio (at least a factory supplied one) since digital tuning arrived on scene. (let me qualify that a bit... there probably IS a trimmer, its just no longer accessible to the end user, but on a PC board somewhere that only a technician with rubber tools and a penchant for contortionism can get to it...)

Yes there is a 'difference' between the Par Electronics Shortwave Listening and Amateur/Ham End-Fed Antennas.
The Par End-Fed Shortwave Listener (EF-SWL) Antenna allows the Matching Transformer to be configured to your Antenna set-up and needs.
- http://www.grove-ent.com/ANT8.html
Plus it uses Par EF-SWL Antenna uses 45 Feet of AWG #14 Black Polyethylene Coated Flex-Weave Antenna Wire which is made up of 168 Strands of #36 Gauge Woven Copper Wires. {This is Great Stuff}

The Amateur Radio Par Antennas use a Black Polyethylene Jacketed Highly Flexible AWG #14 Copper Wire made up of 41 Strands of #30 Gauge Wire. {This is Good Stuff}

JS,
The Terminated {Shorted} Speaker Wire "Skinny" Loop SWL Antenna :
http://groups.yahoo.com/group/Shortwave-SWL-Antenna/message/14485
The Speaker Wires can be made into a long-thin-loop Antenna.
As you describe 'connect' the Far-End Wires together.
At the near-end 'connect' the two Speaker Wires to a TV type 300 Ohm to 75 Ohm Matching Transformer.
One Speaker Wire each to one of the 300 Ohm Wire Leads of the Matching Transformer.
Use RG6 Quad Coax Cable as your Antenna's feed-in-line.
Note - The RG6 Quad Coax Cable should be at least 25-Foot long and 50-Foot would be better. -Why- Because you want to get your Shortwave Listener's (SWL) Antenna Up-in-the-Air and Away-of-the-House as much as possible.
Use 'whatever' Connection / Adapter that you need on the Radio-End of the RG6 Quad Coax Cable's "F" Connector to match-up and connect-to your Radio / Receiver.
This is a rather 'stealthy' [Hidden] Antenna especially
-if- your run it along or near the top of a Wooden Fence.
-Why- Use a Wooden Fence for a Stealth [Hidden] Shortwave Listener's (SWL) Antenna ?
* Fence is made of Wood and does not interfere with the Electrical properties of the SWL Antenna.

* Usually the Fence is several feet away from the House and out of the House's RFI Noise Zone.
* Fence is "There" already - hence no construction is required.
* Fence is Long and Straight and the Wire Antenna Element will be Out-of-the-Way and not a Hazard to anyone.
* Mounted and Rigged just a few inches below the Top of the Fence {on your side of the Fence} the Neighbors will not know that it is 'there'. { Again Stealth [Hidden] }
* Your biggest obstacle is getting the Coax Cable from the House to the Fence : Under-Ground; On-the-Ground; Up-over-Head-in-the-Air.
Give this basic Shortwave Listener's (SWL) Antenna a Try.
I had one of these made of 100-Feet of Landscaping Lighting Cable Heavy Duty Zip Cord {Power Cord} comes in basic Black.
Landscaping Lighting Cable => http://tinyurl.com/36fae6
It was mounted about 2-Feet above a Chain-Link Fence.
THE NEXT STEP - Changing the Speaker Wire Loop Antenna into a Dipole Antenna !
READ - BUILD YOUR OWN DIPOLE ANTENNA
at the bottom of Message # 14436 :
Build a One-Piece Dipole Antenna for Shortwave
Listening (SWL) from common Speaker Wire.
http://groups.yahoo.com/group/Shortwave-SWL-Antenna/message/14436
Basically un-connect the Speaker Wires at the Far-End and Split the Two Speaker Wires apart for Half as many Feet as you have to put-up a Dipole Antenna. Secure the end-of-the-split with several wraps of Black Electrical Tape and hold that in place with 2-3 Black Plastic Ties.
Rig your Dipole as space and location permit.
hope this helps - iane ~ RHF {pomkia}

Ahh yes...its Sunday night and tunning around on the radio listening to 5930 kHz playing old music and talking about Memory Lane, sounds like the BBC WS.

However my memory is being jogged around a bit regarding what I used to listen to many years ago on Sunday nights and yes I do miss it.

The Happy Station hosted by Tom Meyer.... used to listen EVERY SUNDAY from 1973 until 1980 and some sundays here and there up to Tom's retirement and then continue hearing teh show with 2 other hosts before Radio Nederland took it off the air for good in the early 1990s.

Yes...those were the days my friend. Unfortunately I never had the chance to hear a show hosted by Eddie Startz. I tuned in way too late for that. Besides back in 1973 I was 14 years old and tuned into my first Happy Station Program in August 1973 and I liked what I heard.

Not sure which kind of beast you were referring to but they ran some big hemi motors in those beastly De Soto cars. The DeSoto brand was killed for several reasons, one of which it was not easily distinguished from Dodge and Plymouth in consumers eyes.

I've had the opportunity to drive a variety of older Chrysler products including a 1936 Chrysler Airflow, 1941 Plymouth and a 1949 Dodge but not a DeSoto.

I've seen the shape of one on a screen capture. Yes, I know, not the same thing, but still.

On AM, if you try to tune in a faint out of market station in the daytime -- say AM 74 out of Huntington, NY -- which is between AM 710 and AM 77 in New York (both IBOC stations), you can't. If you're not getting hash from 710, you're getting it from 77, either of which wipes out the already pitiful reception of this peanutwhistle on AM 74.

If you try to tune in AM 1240 out of Morristown, NJ, you'll be hit with interference from AM 1280 (another local station running IBOC).

Had I had power Thursday nite I would have responded sooner to this.
The front - or tornado--or whatever you wish to call it - apparently came in from the town of St. Charles around 3 pm on Thursday and pretty much followed North Ave/St. Charles Rd. straight east. I have the pleasure of driving with the storm straight down North Ave. I saw a power supply for the electrical company actually explode as I passed it , and then there were flying garbage cans to dodge. Also, all lights on North Ave - west of West Ave in Elmhurst going to as far as Glendale Hghts were out and remained out most of Friday -- it made for some very interesting travel times. Most streets in Elmhurst, Addision and Lombard were impassable up until late Friday evening, because there were parts of trees or in some cases complete trees blocking the roadways. Much of Elmhurst and Lombard remain tonite without power. This was a real interesting storm.

The Right Antenna -and- The Right Matching Transformer - That's Par Electronics !
http://groups.yahoo.com/group/Shortwave-SWL-Antenna/message/14515

JL,

The Par Electronics Amateur {Ham} Radio End-Fed Wire Antennas are single Band 1/2 WL Antennas most likely using a 1:1 Matching Transformer with a single Wire Antenna Element.
http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/hamwire/4456.html
These are each designed for a Single (1) Amateur Radio Band.

However, the Par Electronics Shortwave Listener (SWL) End-Fed Wire Antenna is a Random Wire Antenna which uses a 9:1 Matching Transformer with a single Wire Antenna Element.
http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/sw_ant/2205.html
The Par EF-SWL Antenna is Optimally Designed for 1-30 MHz Reception.

The 'difference' is the Matching Transformers that come with the Antennas.

POTS lines are encoded at 64 Kbps, which is why V.90 modems work, and which is sufficient for decent audio, albeit not "hi-fi".

You can use an external antenna on GMRS,but NOT on FRS.
An external antenna will help a great deal.I once added a simple external 1/4wave groundplane to an FRS radio,and range was Way,WAY better... but,of course,that is illegal.

Go for GMRS,and put an external antenna on the roof,etc. Reception should be much better.

How many consumer grade (almost all) radios have sync detectors or IF passband shift? Not everyone is using a high end comms receiver to listen to POTS lines are not encoded at all. Hence "Plain Old Telephone Service" which can be used with any telephone (ain't no decoders in a WE 500 deskset) that uses a DC line.

I am with you 100% on Earl Holliman! He has always been one of my favorites. I can remember him doing lots of PSA's on behalf of animals urging spay and neutering to reduce the homeless animal population.

Think you could get any of the so called "stars" of today to do something constructive and positive like that? And for free GASP? Not a chance.

By the way, I have never liked John Wayne or Frank Sinatra because they were draft dodgers during WWII and unlike today that was a MAJOR disgrace back then. Jimmy Stuart on the other hand was a hero who not only volunteered to serve in the middle of his very successful movie career but did so heroically. He ended up making General in the Air Force reserve before all was said and done. Ed McMahon also made Colonel (I believe) in the Marine Corp reserves. Johnny Carson served honorable in the Navy also.

Unlike the chicken hawks of today (Rush Limbaugh, Dick Cheney, Tucker Carlson, Sean Hannity, Glen Beck and all the other right wing gas bags who all love the idea of going to war) the stars of yesteryear walked the walk and not just talked the talk.

2038. Terminated Folded on a Fence Dipole (TF2D) Antenna

Yodar,

The simplest and easiest T2FD Antenna is not Tilted
-because- it is mounted on . . . . . .

You Got It :o) - - - - - - - - - - a Wooden Fence !

So it is a Terminated Folded on a Fence Dipole (TF2D) Antenna
http://groups.yahoo.com/group/Shortwave-SWL-Antenna/message/14517

Top-Wire runs along the Fence about a Foot below the Top.

Bottom-Wire runs along the Fence about a Foot above the Bottom.

Distance between the Top and Bottom Wires is 2~5 Feet

Length of the Top and Bottom Wires is as long as your Fence.

Feed-Point is at the Center of the Bottom Wire.
- - - Place a Ground Rod here to to attach to the Coax Cable and the Feed-in-Line Side of the 4:1 Matching Transformer {Balun}

Terminating Resistor 400 Ohms ~ 900 Ohms is located at the Center of the Top Wire. Start with 600 Ohms and work up or down to find out what works for you.

The Top and Bottom Wire Ends are Joined at the Ends.

Feed the 4:1 Matching Transformer {Balun} with a Coax Cable.

WINDOM-IZE-IT

Since this is not "Tilted" and is close to the Ground.
The Frequency Variable Factor that Tilting provided for the Antenna can be achieved by placeing the Feed-Point and Terminating Resistor at the 38:62 Off-Center-Point of the Top and Bottom Wires. { Windom-Ize-It }

Call this a Terminated Folded Windom (TFD) Antenna

BUT . . . MY YARD & FENCE ARE . . .

Fence Not Long Enough ? -or- Location Not Right ?
Can't Mount this Antenna along one side of the Yard ?

Mount it in a Corner along two adjacent Fence Sides and make the Feed-Point at the Corner.

i b tilted and on de fence - iane ~ RHF

All you newbies on this sight your best bet to get the true and correct imfo is to go and get the ARRL "Antenna Handbook" they also have several others to.

Haft of the information floating around on this sight is B.S.

Also most local public libraries will have some of ARRL books
if you are to cheep to invest in a factual book.

Also the ARRLs yearly "The Radio Amateur's Handbook" cover all the functions of radio waves also a lot of basic Electronics.

In 1952 I was 10 and read the whole book. Sight is www.arrl.org

All there books are worth the money one pays for them.

Another good book is put out by RSGB it is the Great Britains equal to ARRL "Radio Communication Handbook" It covers many things ARRL does not also there parts labeling is different, also tubes are valves over there.

So try it out you will find all your correct answer there not some one pet ideas.

In the US, the telephone network has been digital since 1962. At the time of the conversion, there was a decision made to keep the instrument and the interface familiar to the user, so there is no conversion in the deskset, and the 'last mile' from the CO is still analogue with battery voltage as it always has been. But behind that interface, the network is digital.

Now, that 'last mile' analogue circuit can be VERY poor. In my area, a v.92 modem will only pass 14.4. While only a mile up the road, I was getting 53k+ on the same v.92 modem.

When the network was converted from analogue to digital, there were complaints that voices no longer sounded right and that some people didn't sound like themselves. The complaints reached suce a pitch that AT&T launched a PR campaign in which TV spots attempted to explain the change in the audio at the instrument. As was the style of the times, they didn't really explain anything, certainly nothing as technical as digital audio, but instead, they described, through narrative and animation, how a person speaking into a telephone would connect to the central hub, where a voice that was similar to the speaker's voice was selected, and sent on to the far end. That's why someone didn't sound like themeselves.

No one bought it, of course, what with AT&T's reputation, by that point...but it was a hilarious exercise in TelCo spin.

And paved the way for the explanation of 'Tru-Voice' 30 years later.

Yes, POTS lines are encoded. At the CO. The only thing POTS about a POTS line is what sits on your desk, and a length of copper to the network.

POTS lines that are on pair gain systems are, indeed, coded in the same manner as is the message network. It has nothing to do with the phone, and is transparent to the user. They may, however, not be coded to a full 64 kbit/s.

2055. ILG & PT Gone: Who To Use ?

Newsgroup: rec.radio.shortwave
Date: 2007-08-27 10:46:36 UTC
From: Robert11 <rgsros@notme.com>
Message-ID: <GqGdnQ9OvOSDNk_bnZ2dnUVZ_sGvnZ2d@comcast.com>
Source record: 121739

Hello:

Just want to be sure I'm not missing any:

Now with ILG gone, and Prime Time about to be gone, who do you folks use for your HF schedules ?

Is EIBI the one to concentrate on, now ?

Or, are there (good) others also available that you like ?
(sure would like it to be importable into the swlog program)

Thanks,
Bob

"Dxace1" your auction is now somewhat more informative. A picture of the boxes for the Kenwood YK88a1 AM and an aftermarket Vertex CW filter does help. So the potential bidder can guess a bit and assume the wide position has the Kenwood AM filter, the second position is still occupied by the standard Kenwood narrow filter, the third position is empty and the fourth position is occupied by the Vertex CW filter. But a simple statement saying which filters are installed in which positions would clarify things.

And apparently the 12 volt plug was added to the back of the receiver. It is not clear whether the internal cable with the 3 pin connector is dangling loose within the receiver or simply missing. Because you talk about "eventually installing or wiring some sort of DC capability" it makes the reader wonder whether he will have to build a connector from the plug to the receiver board.

Here we have:

780 KKOH
790 KABC
810 KGO

all obliterating each other and all owned by the same company. AM is about to die.

I'm talking about normal radios. I don't own any "communications grade" gear (unless you want to count my Zenith Royal D7000Y, which I don't).

I've owned ghetto blasters (yes! ghetto blasters) with very good quality tuners that allowed me to pick up -- and comfortably listen to -- stations like WICC AM 6 in Bridgeport, Conn., WMTR AM 1250 in Morristown, NJ, and yes, even what was then WBLI-1240 (now WGBB) out of Freeport, NY.

On a few run-of-the-mill 5-tube radios and pocket radios I would sometimes be able to scrape out AM 1210 from Philadelphia. All during the day.

Can't do this anymore. But that's unimportant Let's get on to a topic that's more important for "joe random" AM listeners: The sound quality of the analog signal.

I have a Kloss Tivoli table radio which is definitely not sensitive on AM, but was designed to have have very decent sound for its little size.

It's gotten to the point where it's gotten impossible to listen to an IBOC AM station on one of these during the day because you ALWAYS hear that "hisss" in the background. And please, find an excuse for the "clipping" of the audio?

Fine, so I won't be able to DX. I can live with that, considering it's not worth doing so anymore.
But can't I have at least the local stations sounding decent and "clean" without something that sounds worse than over-driven cheap magnetic tape hiss constantly buzzing in my ears?

Despite ILG's relative completeness and ability to be "computerized", seems to me like EiBi has always been a good choice for a core database, with some other specialty lists for augmentation.

iBiquity specifically states that "HD" in "HD Radio" does not stand for "High Definition." At one time, it stood for "Hybrid Digital," as the intent was to make the transition to full time digital only broadcasting.

Today, iBiquity claims "HD" stands for nothing....

Which, if you think about it.....:)

And as for the idea of apply synchronous detection to get rid of IBOC interference....yes...well....ahem....

Not so.

You're not that far from me, and there is no end of IBOC rash over the stations worth hearing, up here. I think this is a solution desperately looking for a reason to execute the perpetrator.

Radio isn't going to give up on this crap easily, though. Not with the investment they've already made in hardware and licensing. But it's not a solution that will bring the results Radio was hoping for. First, it's not CONTENT focussed in its marketing...And it's CONTENT that drives listening. That's why we're all so willing to sit through the noise and static to hear programs that are not broadcast locally....we're want the content, not the gimmick. (Well, except for one, whose logs reflected at most 2 minutes each of the stations in the ILG database.)

Until Radio gets this, and starts creating content that listeners want to hear, and making it availble only on the digital streams, IBOC will continue to languish.

No matter what HD salesmen claim.

The data tells a different tune than a claim about a commission check.

Processors were always set "hot" way before IBOC came on the scene, and I never heard station audio clip and distort the way it does now on the analog side of AM HD. Reducing the available bandwith for analog to +/- 5 khz to shoehorn the digital portion sure hasn't helped either.

The whole idea with HD is that you have to back off on the processing a bit. You can't overdrive digital the way you can with analog and have it come out sounding good. It's like slightly overdriving a recording on cassette tape vs. Minidisc. If you try it with Minidisc, you hit a brick wall and everything above that starts sounding like so much mush.

Clipping has been part of audio processing since the early days of audio processing. It's usually inaudible. AM processing has been using 'smart' clipping for awhile, now. Smart clipping is not quite as hard--rounded edges--but for a number of years CRL openly hard clipped the composite baseband and let the shit fall into the filter where it may.

And not all analog clipping is that objectionable. It adds even order harmonics, which are pleasing to the ear. If over done...well, that's another story...but lightly, it can be a good thing...

One of the problems we have with digital audio, is the number of analog engineers applyin analog thinking to digital audio. And this applies to both recording and live audio, as well. You're right, digital audio is a brick wall at '0', and anything beyond that becomes some serious trash. Analog engineers, especially in the recording industry, routinely try to recreate 'tape compression' at the top end, by driving preamps and other pre conversion electronics mildly to their top end. Especially if they're using tube preamps. This takes a delicate hand. But who's that delicate is broadcasting, today? Not many.

The most common complaint I hear about HD reception, today, and this applies to both AM and FM, is the audio quality isn't what is expected.

It's not CD quality, which according to Philips and Sony was only supposed to be medium-fi in the first place. And the HD audio is nearly always loaded with some kind of distortion artifact resulting from trying to pack 5 lbs in a 4 lb bag.

Truth is, the very reasons we developed audio processing in the first place still apply to the digital audio--limited headroom and the attempt to control clipping distortions while retaining compelling listening. Simply going digital is not changing those needs. While digital usually has deeper dynamic range, on the soft end, there is still a finite, limited ceiling at the max end, and that's where the most objectionable distortion is. So, the same needs for processing still apply. Albeit in different areas, with different parameters.

To provide compelling listening in the digital stream, engineers MUST provide the proper dynamics and spectral controls.

But that costs money. And most HD streams are not self supporting. And with Radio facing performance royalty payments, that's not likely to change any too soon. Another reason why the HD battle is upstream.

The hard truth is that Radio in the main, isn't playing HD the way it needs to be played to maximize it as a resource. Some are. There are some very good sounding HD streams. But most aren't.

And they aren't likely to start. It's too much work, for too little revenue return on the investment.

And while you're at it, have them explain it to -you-.

Although you may (or may not) have meant it that way, it came across as more or less of a slam against so-called "typical" hams rather than self-effacing humor.

Finally, from Wikipedia:

> Self-deprecation [self-effacing] is a form of humor in which people make jokes about themselves...

Sorry, but any reference to -you- in there was weak or unclear, so that's probably why I didn't take it as self-effacing humor. Also, unless someone went to a separate site to look it up, you made NO reference to your age; unfortunately, the lack of those two reference points made it difficult for others to divine that it was "self-effacing".

Nice spin, but no cigar. :-)

There will be a total eclipse of the moon beginning at 0851 GMT with totality about an hour later. It will be visible in the Americas, over the Pacific, Oceania and East Asia subject to clouds and, in the eastern Americas, sunrise.

Unlike solar eclipses I don't think this one has any propagation effect.

BBC7 hqs a rerun of recreations of Marx Brothers radio shows.

See:

http://www.bbc.co.uk/bbc7/listenagain/monday and look for "Flywheel, Shyster and Flywheel". Realaudio on demand for one week after the first broadcast.

Their first two Marx Brothers films, The Cocoanuts and Animal Crackers, were essentially filmed Bway plays made here in Queens, NYC at what is now kaufmanastoria.com, thus starting a tradition of comedy through the years when it was owned by the Army Pictorial Center and later when Imus was there at WFAN. (He pulled the big one at MSNBC's studios in Seacaucus, NJ.)

Hey Roadie,
I own a 1940 Chrysler Royal coupe and used to own a 1949 Chrysler Windsor. Both with Fluid Drive. Would love to get a 46-48 DeSoto,

Did the DX-150 by Radio Shack have a calibrated bandspread dial for International Shortwave Bands? I believe the DX-150A, DX150B, and DX-160 did not.

You are correct.....iBiquity didn't make that claim. The local radio station on 97.1 calls theirselves "high definition radio".
When I spoke to one of the PR folks at iBiquity a couple of years ago, they made the claim that when I heard the hi fidilety capabilities of IBOC on the MW band that I would be impressed. When I asked them about eliminating the interference to the adjacent channels, they didn't have an answer.

Yep, I like those DeSoto waterfall grills too, I always have.Nowadays, all of the cars look exactly just like each other cars, they SUCK! When I was in the Army at Scott Air Force Base,Illinois in 1963, I bought a 1950 Dodge four door car, six cylinder with fluid drive transmission, for $75.00 (that's what I said, for $75.00,,, seventy five dollars) at a used car dealership in Saint Louis.The car dealer guy said somebody else wants to buy the car for $95.00.I told him, Well, let him buy the car then, seventy five dollars is all I have.I bought the car and I started driving West on I-44 to Pacific,Missouri (about eight miles South of Pacific was our SL 60, Charley Battery, Nike Nuclear Missiles site) and to SL 60.

Going up those long grades on I-44, the car engine started wheezing and steaming.I pulled over and I looked.Someone had ran that car over something that had knocked a hole in the bottom of the radiator (right in the middle) and plugged the hole with a piece of wood.I got ahold of some water and I made it back to SL 60.I took the radiator off and a guy gave me a ride to Saint Louis to get the radiator repaired.I can still hear those old narrow high center of gravity tires right now squealing around and up and down those hills and curves between Pacific and SL 60.

By the way, looka here.I got an email today from that married Irish woman (married to that Irish guy) in Bognor Regis,England.She has a new company car to drive.Fiat Grande Punto 1400.(the 1400 stands for 1.4 liter engine) She said it has an automatic transmission and a lot of other nice features.Her previous company car was a 2007 Vauxhall Astra Estate car with a manual shift transmission, she hated that Vauxhall car.She loves her new Fiat car. www.devilfinder.com Fiat Grande Punto 1400
